BRITISH IN FRANCE

"SLUFFING" WORK

Member Tells Lords Officers Get to Jobs Late in Morning Because Up Late Playing Bridge.

WOMEN ARE AT HEADQUARTERS

LONDON, Nov. 17.—Charges of incompetency and neglect of their work were brought against the British staff in France by Baron St. Davids in the House of Lords this evening when he asked the government whether its attention had been called to the reports alleging that during the recent fighting there had been many complaints as to failures of the staff work.

Lord St. Davids asserted that men had been added to the staff for no military reasons who ought to be in the trenches and that he had been told that the British headquarters staff was five or six times as large as that of General Joffre, the French commander-in-chief. It had been stated, he continued, that women visited headquarters in France and he asked whether the government defended their presence there.

Up Late Playing Bridge. The people were sending their sons out to fight under the direction of men who, he declared, were living at headquarters in vast numbers and could not get early to their offices because they were up late playing bridge.

"It is about time," said Lord St. Davids, "that the men were given a fair chance. More than once the troops have broken the German lines but, owing to bad staff work, the whole thing fell through. Many lives have been sacrificed owing to muddling in high places."

The marquis of Crewe, Lord privy seal, replied that the allegations that success at Loos had been missed owing to the failure to bring up reserves at the right time was the subject of an inquiry between the highest authorities that could be invoked.

Baron Newton, who said he was unable to disclose the number of the British staff, defended it as did Viscount Haldane, the former secretary for war.

Country Has Suffered. Lord Haldane declared that Lord St. Davids had launched his attack without adequate information. "It is true," he said, "that the country has suffered owing to the want of an organized general staff. Nevertheless there has been evolved a general staff of the highest order. To say that the work of the staff in a future is to say something which is very far from the truth. As for Field Marshal French he is up at 6 o'clock in the morning."

The marquis of Crewe said that from his knowledge of Field Marshal French he thought it exceedingly unlikely that he would submit to having persons forced upon his personal staff. Lord Crewe had no hesitation in saying that unless women had business at headquarters they ought not to go there.

Trail Hitter Leaves

Insanity Hospital

Everett L. Wilson, who succumbed to the excitement induced by "bitting the trail" in the "Billy" Sunday meetings, was released yesterday from St. Bernard's hospital at Council Bluffs, where he was sent for observation two weeks ago by the insanity commissioners. He had fully recovered his mental control and has a clear understanding of the nature of his trouble. When released yesterday he thanked the sisters at the hospital for the care and thoughtful kindness shown him and insisted upon payment of the bill for his care.

When told this would be paid by the county and that he had no authority to accept it he renewed his request to the members of the commission, stating he did not wish the county to bear the expense of his misfortune. Although again assured that there were no financial obligations placed upon him, the board finally agreed to permit him to pay the bill, amounting to $50, in installments, provided payment did not involve any hardship for his wife and family.

Tells of Tortures

Inflicted by Turks

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—Rev. James P. McNaughton, a missionary, who was formerly in Turkey, addressing the Boston Laymen's convention tonight, described atrocities which he said had been perpetrated upon Armenians by Turks. "I have recently received a letter from the mission field describing the treatment of an Armenian university professor," he said, "because he would not make a confession of treason he was hanged by his wrists for twenty-four hours; then his finger nails were torn out. Subsequently he was subjected to unspeakable barbarities. He died without signing the confession."

TIE SHOES IN PAIRS

FOR POOR CHILDREN

School Superintendent Makes Suggestions to Thanksgiving Day Givers in Circular.

CLOTHING SHOULD BE WRAPPED

In his Thanksgiving circular to principals and teachers, Superintendent Graff of the public schools requests that shoes intended for the poor children be brought to the schools tied in pairs. "Hours have been spent trying to match up shoes after several hundred pairs have been piled together," states the superintendent.

The following suggestions are made regarding the children's Thanksgiving offerings: "Have all clothing wrapped in paper before it is brought to the school building.

"While directing the children in reference to the Thanksgiving donations be sure that each child in your school hears the story of the first Thanksgiving, something of the history of the day, and the many reasons why the boys and girls in these United States should be especially thankful for their many blessings this year."

"You are more familiar with the deserving poor of your own district than any one else. If you have some plan by which you have taken care of these people in past years, do not let any directions from this office interfere with your own method of distribution."

Money Accepted Also. Last year's plan of accepting money for shoes for needy children will be repeated this year. Miss Doyle will be at the city hall next Tuesday, 4 to 5 p. m., to receive these cash offerings.

"Last year we had a fund of $56 which we used to buy shoes which were necessary in order to keep children in school. We have never attempted any charity work from which we feel more benefit was received than from the shoes bought for these little folks who needed them during the wintry days," stated the superintendent in his circular.

The Associated Charities will send wagons to the schools next week. Schools will be closed Thursday and Friday of next week.

Rockefeller Cancer

Expert Extends Hope To Disease's Victims

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Hope was held out for cancer sufferers by Dr. James H. Murphy of the Rockefeller institute in an address delivered by him today to the members of the National Academy of Science now in session here.

Dr. Murphy said that the scientists of the institute had tried treating rats from which cancers had been removed with the X-ray in order to stimulate the growth of the white cells that originate in the spleen and the marrow of the bones and float in the lymph.

While this process is only in the experimental stage, Dr. Murphy said he expected it to prove valuable in practical treatment of cancerous patients.

Explains Phenomena

Of Sowing Wild Oats

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 17.—The psychological phenomena which make it possible for a staid old deacon of hitherto unimpeachable behavior to "sow his wild oats" after passing his sixtieth year was explained to 1,500 delegates at the Missouri Sunday school convention here today by Prof. W. S. Athearn of Drake university, Des Moines, Ia.

"A man in the harness of daily work finds vent for his surplus energy," Prof. Athearn said. "But when one gets old and rich enough to retire from active work the rolling off of the cares of life is apt to bring on a reaction."

Meat Cause of

Lame Back and

Kidney Trouble

Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidneys if your back is aching.

Noted authority says Uric Acid from meat irritates the Bladder.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; remove all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, distension, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush out the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous uric acid salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.—Advertisement.

HOW TO GET RID

OF DANDRUFF

This Home Made Mixture Removes Dandruff and Stops the Hair From Falling Out.

The following simple recipe, which can be mixed at home, or put up by any druggist, will quickly remove dandruff and stop the hair from falling out. To a half pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum, 1 small box of Herbo Compound, and ¼ oz. of glycerine. These are all simple ingredients that you can buy from any druggist at very little cost, and mix them yourself. Apply to the scalp once a day for two weeks, then once every other week until the mixture is used. A half pint should be enough to rid the hair of dandruff and kill the dandruff germs. It stops the hair from falling out, and relieves itching and scalp disease. Although it is not a dye, it sets upon the hair roots and will darken streaked, faded, gray hair in ten or fifteen days. It promotes the growth of the hair and makes harsh hair soft and glossy.—Advertisement.

A Remedy

For All Pain

"The efficiency of any drug," says Dr. C.P. Robbins, "is known to us by the results we obtain from its use. If we are able to control pain and disease by means of any preparation, we certainly are warranted in its use. One of the principal symptoms of all diseases is pain, and this is what the patient often applies to us for, i. e. something to relieve his pain. We can arrest this promptly, the patient is most liable to trust to our hands when he is in such a condition. I have used largely in my practice is Anti-Kama Tablets. Many and varied are their uses. I have put them to the test on many occasions, and have never been disappointed. I found them especially valuable for headaches of malarial origin, where quinine was being taken. They appear to prevent the bad after-effects of the quinine. Anti-Kama Tablets are also excellent for the relief of rheumatism, neuralgia, and especially for women subject to painful cramps. Two Anti-Kama Tablets give prompt relief, and in a short time the patient is able to go about as usual." These tablets may be obtained at all druggists. Ask for A-K Tablets. They are also unexcelled for headaches, neuralgia and all pains.
