PUPILS PURCHASE RED CROSS SEALS

First Sale to School Children Brings Receipts of Nearly Three Hundred Dollars.

SMALL BOY TELLS OF PURPOSE

"Do you know what the Red Cross Christmas seals are for?" a little boy was asked at an Omaha school last Wednesday when the seals were being sold to the children.

"Sure," he said, "you lick 'em an' It gives you tuberculosis." Thereupon he invested in two of

One boy who had lost his penny or invested it in candy, avoided the temporary money stringency by purchasing seals with a 2-cent stamp. So successful was this first sale of the seals to the school children that about $140 will go to form the nucleus of a penny soup lunch fund in the public schools. This is 50 per cent of the sum raised by the sale.

The seals were sold only Wednesday noon, though the pupils had been told of the sale by their teachers Tuesday. Mrs. T. R. Rutledge secured permission from the Board of Education Saturday. Between 9 a. m. Monday and the same hour Wednesday Mrs. Rutledge telephoned to 497 persons, causing Friend Central to get a taste of the well known Christmas rush.

Puptls Quick Buyers. A small army of Omaha women had charge of the seal sale at the schools. In some cases they sold direct to the juvenile "consumers." In others each teacher took orders and then sent a the handling of parcel post packages this Benjamin English, Joe English, Gerald La couple of young "trustles" out into the Christmas. hall to purchase the supply. "In no case," said Mrs. K. R. J. Eda big space has been fitted up with eightholm. "did the sale take up more than een wooden stalls, each about two and a

"And perhaps the greatest benefit of the sale was in opening the eyes of Omaha women to the schools and their work," said Mrs. Rutledge. "One woman said she never realized in what a narrow sphere she had been living. In other instances the women stayed and visited the various rooms and watched the children' work. One school gave a fire drill for their inspection. Some of the women were former school teachers who hadn't been inside their old schools for years. Every one of the women expressed a desire to do the same thing over again

As an advertisement for the seals it was a great factor. We have the word of Salesman "Walter," the blind boy in the Brandels stores, that now when children go past his deak on the main floor they can often be heard to remark that

Another Omaha Boy Gets Into Movies

Devore Parmer, an Omaha boy, reared and educated here, son of Mark M. Parmer and brother of the F. D. Parmer company, has gained fame in the movies. Young Parmer is in New York and has become heavy man with the Triangle Film company in features now being produced by John Emerson. His first engagement was with the Edison company, in which he played the leading roles. Then he went to the Nestor company, playing western parts, after which he resigned to head a company of his own. After two years he went to the Biograph company, since which he has been seen in Cosmos and many other film features.
