JOHNNY DUNDEE IS COLD-BOUND HERE

Lightweight Who Is Clamoring for Bout with Freddie Welsh Spends Day in Omaha.

MISSSES TRAIN CONNECTION

Johnny Dundee, the little Italian with the Scotch name, who will likely be the first real contender for the lightweight title to get a crack at the much abused Freddie Welsh, was in Omaha all day yesterday.

It was no fault of the 135-pound scrapper that he spent Friday in Omaha. Mr. Welsh was the responsible party. For Dundee planned to go through Omaha about 2 o'clock Friday morning on his way from New York to Denver, where he meets the rock-headed Stanoy Yoakum a week from today. But the cold delayed the train on which Johnny was riding and connections were missed by an hour. As a result he arrived at 5 o'clock in the morning and did not leave until 4:30.

Dundee is anxious to meet Welsh. The little who doesn't know the meaning of the word defeat. He has never had a decision rendered against him, although he has been mauled up occasionally. He believes he can whip the champion and is eager to try. Negotiations are now under way for a bout between Johnny and Freddie, and, according to the dope, Johnny will be the next one to tackle Welsh, even before White.

Reason for Desperat Beat. Dundee's eagerness to meet Welsh is the reason he is going to Denver to battle Yoakum. Denver is a strong bidder for a championship battle between Welsh and a contender. Talk has been of matching White with Welsh in the mile high city.

When Dundee's manager heard this chatter, he immediately framed the boys with Yoakum. "Once those Denver chaps see Dundee in action they'll forget White and will want Johnny to meet Welsh."

Fight critics are pretty well agreed that Dundee has more than an outside chance to lick the champ and may even carry the odds if the milk is staged over the twenty-round route to a decision.

Dundee fought Welsh ten rounds with no decision in New Orleans on January 1, 1914. Welsh was a better man then than he is now, while Dundee was not as good, as Johnny is only 22 years old now. He was hit 20 at the time. Since then he has fought such top-notchers in the lightweight division as Joe Sluggins, Joe Mandot, Joe Azevilo, Willie Ritchie, Joe Rivers, Jimmy Duffy, Bennie Leonard, Leach Cross, Ritchie Mitchell and Charley White and has always held his own.

Dundee was born in Sharka, Italy, and his real name is Joseph Carora.

BRYAN GIVES OUT HIS "DRY" EDICT

Mayor of Lincoln Declares Again Democratic Candidates Must Be for Prohibition.

NO QUARTER MAY BE EXPECTED

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Jan. 14.—(Special.)—It's the water wagon for the democratic party, with Mr. Bryan on the front seat guiding the donkey, according to a statement issued by Mayor Charles W. Bryan today in which he reiterates the statement issued about two months ago and adds a few things for good measure.

In speaking for his brother, William J. Mayor Bryan emphasizes his statement made before and says in every instance where the candidate for a state or legislative office does not meet with the Bryan approval another man will be filed in an effort to make the democratic ticket dry.

Mr. Bryan will spend two to four weeks in the primary campaign in an effort to carry out his orders and expects to cover the state in places where a fight to keep the wet candidates from landing is necessary.

Mayor Bryan announces that the annual Bryan birthday dinner will be held this year under the auspices of the Progressive and Woodrow Wilson league, March 19, which is Mr. Bryan's birthday. This announcement coming so close after the late editorial democratic banquet indicates that Mayor Bryan must have been prevailed upon to keep from waving the red flag of prohibition at the banquet for fear it would start something.

It is beginning to dawn on the minds of the banqueters that the chairman put something over on them at the banquet Tuesday night and did not give them the benefit of the advertised program. It is well known that purchasers of tickets were given to understand that the very devil would be turned loose when Mayor Bryan precipitated his pronouncement. But instead of following the laid out program the committee substituted a couple of cabaret performers in place of Mr. Bryan and put a string on the mayor to prevent him from delivering his intended declaration.

More Filings Received.

The cold weather has not had any perceptible decrease in the filing of candidates for offices, the secretary of state today receiving two more.

G. W. Lindsey of Red Cloud indicates that he believes the people's independent party is still in existence and files for representative on that ticket by petition and acceptance of the same. Mr. Lindsey served in the last session as a democrat from the district composed of Webster county alone.

LOBECK BACKING JUDGE SULLIVAN

Omaha Congressman Has Interview with Attorney General Gregory Over Appointment.

DISTRICT BENCH CONTEST SAME

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(Special Telegram.)—Representative Lobbeck had a rather extended interview with Attorney General Gregory yesterday over his suggestion of the name of Judge J. J. Sullivan of Nebraska to fill the vacancy on the supreme court bench created by the death of the late Justice Lamar.

The interview, according to Mr. Lobbeck, was as satisfactory as could be expected. He said so far as geographical limitations went the west would be considered with reference to the supreme court vacancy. Mr. Lobbeck reviewed the career of Judge Sullivan at length and was listened to with interest on the part of the attorney general.

Talks of Federal Vacancies.

Having disposed of the suggestion of Judge Sullivan for a place on the supreme bench, the congressman from the Second district took up with Mr. Gregory the vacancy on the federal bench of Nebraska. While he was not there to favor any particular candidate, he desired to urge a speedy appointment of a successor to the late Judge Munger and that it should go to the North Platte country. Judge Munger came from north of the Platte and while the division between the north and the south Platte was purely imaginary it has existed for years and had been recognized as an actuality almost ever since the state came into the union.

Decision Not Reached.

"My call on the attorney general," said Mr. Lobbeck, "developed this fact—that the mind of the chief law officer of the government is an open one on the question of the Lamar succession and that the west will be considered seriously with other sections of the country in the selection of one eminently fitted to hold a place on that tribunal.

"In my judgment Judge Sullivan would make an ideal man for the place and if any inquiries are made in his home state the results cannot help but be favorable. Incidentally, I told the attorney general that Judge Sullivan was under 60 years of age, which is my understanding. While I do not know whether Nebraska stands a show or not of landing this high position, I do know that the west will have consideration for its candidate or candidates, and that so far as Judge Sullivan is concerned he measures up to the standard required for this high office."
