

GREAT INTEREST IN TANLAC HERE

All Day Crowds Through Sherman & McConnell Drug Store Where Special Instructions Begin.

DRUGGIST IS SURPRISED.

All day Saturday a continuous stream of people visited the Sherman & McConnell drug store, 18th and Dodge streets, where the introduction of Tanlac, the great reconstructive medicine that is building up countless rundown men and women and accomplishing such remarkable results in cases of stomach and nerve exhaustion began.

The introduction was in charge of W. C. Carter, who comes direct from the Tanlac Laboratories to explain the tonic, how it should be taken and the results that may be expected from its use. Many people come to inquire about Tanlac, to see how it was introduced and to learn, at first hand, of its merits. Many who had knowledge of Tanlac or had made up their minds simply said "Give me Tanlac."

The introduction was the largest, by far, ever seen here. The manager of the Sherman & McConnell store said: "We were greatly surprised at the instant demand for Tanlac. We had no idea the reconstructive tonic was so well known to the people of Omaha. While we knew of the astonishing success of Tanlac generally, we did not believe the general public had such knowledge of it or that its popularity would be so great here at once. There was a surprisingly large number of people who, having heard of Tanlac in other cities, welcomed its arrival here."

Among the out-of-town people who came to the Sherman & McConnell store for Tanlac was W. G. Reinman, salesman of Springfield, O. "I was glad to see Tanlac here," said Mr. Reinman. "It's my personal safety first. I carry Tanlac in my grip always and I had only about half a bottle left. I first bought Tanlac in Louisville. Years on the road, with hastily eaten meals and irregular sleep, had made me a dyspeptic. I went to Asheville, hoping to gain relief, for I suffered intensely after each meal, slept only fitfully and had grown so nervous and run down my work actually was falling off. I was returning on the train, not at all improved, when I told my experience to a fellow drummer. 'I'll fix you when we reach Louisville,' he said. 'Get some Tanlac.' I had no idea of following his advice, but he fairly dragged me to the Tanlac store there. In three weeks I had taken three bottles. The stomach trouble had disappeared. I was sleeping like a log and making more money, because I was selling more goods. I suppose I have started fifty salesmen to taking Tanlac and I have never seen it fall. I have marveled at its effects dozens of times. I have gained sixteen pounds since I began to take Tanlac four months ago."

While directing the introduction of Tanlac Mr. Carter said: "No one should be surprised at the great demand for Tanlac here, because hundreds of people had heard of Tanlac through friends or relatives in other cities." Astonishing as it may seem, just nine months to the day after Tanlac first was introduced, 1,000,000 bottles had been distributed. Tanlac is composed wholly of herbs, roots, barks and flowers, many of which come from remote parts of the world. Tanlac is from the formula of Joseph Von Teinbach and it is compounded today under his personal direction. Tanlac is being especially introduced and explained at the Sherman & McConnell drug store, 18th and Dodge streets. There Mr. Carter or his assistants will daily explain Tanlac to the public, tell how it should be taken and the results that may be expected from its use by men and women who need better digestion, more strength, regulated blood circulation and a general toning up of the nervous system.—Advertisement.

BELL-ANS Absolutely Removes Indigestion. One package proves it. 25c at all druggists. Nervous Periodical Headaches

This trouble commonly called "sick headache," is said to be due to the retention of acids in the system. When it is stated that a poor condition of the blood is a cause of these headaches, or that it is a nervous condition, and in certain cases, no doubt this is true. Where treatment is demanded, it is more for the pain than anything else, and Dr. A. F. Sobelichmidt of Louisville, has found anti-kamnia tablets to give prompt and satisfactory relief. These should be insisted upon," he says, "and the patient should go to bed, darken the room, and all attendants and family should be as quiet as possible. An emetic will sometimes shorten the attack. The bowels should be kept open with 'Acetoid'; a hot bath and a thorough rub-down with a coarse towel, often give grateful relief. The bowels should be kept open when the first signs appear, will usually prevent the attack. During an attack, one tablet every hour or two will shorten the attack and relieve the usual nausea and vomiting. These tablets may be obtained at all druggists. A list of druggists is also unexcelled for nervous headaches, neuralgia and all pains.

Mother Asks if Son Could Enlist in the Army as Chaplain

A proud mother in Benson has written to Sergeant Fred Hansen of the army recruiting station to see if her son can enlist in the army as a chaplain. "This equals the record of the navy recruiting station where, some time ago, a cock-sure youth appeared and announced that he wanted to enlist as a lieutenant or captain if there were any vacancies. The communication is in pencil, written on a postal card, and is as follows: "Dear Officer: My son wants to go in the army. Can he get in as a chaplain? He is very religious since 'Billy Sunday' was here." Unfortunately for the "very religious" youth, he can't enlist in the army as a chaplain. Being "very religious" isn't a very "sine qua non" of being a chaplain. One requisite is to be an ordained minister, and this would require some years of study on the part of the aspiring pupil of Benson. A certain amount of "pull" at Washington is generally not a bad thing for popular opinion, according to popular opinion. About the only hope that can be held out to the youth in the attainment of his ambition is that he might be a Charlie Chaplin in the army.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS

John E. Utz, general agent for the Rock Island, leaves Sunday for a stay of a month at Hot Springs, going there to recuperate.

Dr. J. W. Duncan, who was injured by an automobile accident in December, has just returned from a course of study at Johns Hopkins university in post graduate work.

Walter Hanson, who for several years was ticket agent in the Northwestern city of Omaha, but who last summer went out as salesman for a jewelry company that subsequently failed, left him without a cent, he is back in the railroad car ticket office as a ticket clerk.

Sidney Rager, formerly of Omaha, now traveling for the Cudahy Packing company, dropped into Omaha to spend a part of the day on his way back east to Denver. He buzzed around meeting as many old friends as possible during his short stay and was the guest of Frank Bullitt for lunch at the University club.

ROAD AGENTS WANT TO GET CONVENTION

Big Guns of the Railway Special Service Hold Banquet at Renshaw.

WOULD GET NATIONAL MEETING

Road agents swarmed in the Rathskellar of the Henshaw hotel Saturday evening to plot and connive over a table plentifully laden with viands. Road agents, generally speaking, are gentlemen who stop you in the dark and take your dollar watch and street car tickets, while they emphasize short terse utterances with feeling jabs from the commerce extremity of small firearms.

The road agents of the Henshaw, however, are entirely the opposite, being correctly termed special agents, or railroad officers, whose business it is to thwart the wayward from carrying off any of the railroad's rolling stock.

The occasion of their eating—last night, was the third semi-annual banquet of the Association of Special Agents and Police of the Central West.

Fifty strong, with their president, G. L. German of the Burlington, as toastmaster, the assembly agreed to unite in an effort to secure the international convention of their clan for Omaha in May, 1917. This year's meeting is scheduled for New Orleans. If Omaha is fortunate, the convention will be held here on May 23, 24 and 25 of next year.

W. T. Dineen of the Chicago Northwestern, vice president of the association, and President German, have been working toward this end for sometime. Both are confident that they will succeed. It was through the efforts of these two men that the association of the Central West was established.

Sheriff Groneweg and Chief of Police Vien of Council Bluffs, were present, as well as Sheriff Gus Hyers and Chief Antles of Lincoln, Sheriff Condit of Fremont, Chief Special Agent T. E. Pratt of the Burlington, F. E. McGrath of Des Moines, secretary of the association, and F. A. Burke of Alliance, treasurer.

Chamberlain's Tablets Doing Good. Mrs. F. F. Smith, Gloverville, N. Y., writes to the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Tablets as follows: "I feel it my duty to write you and tell you of the good your tablets are doing for me and many others that I have told about them. For over three years I have been troubled with liver trouble. I have been under the doctor's care most of the time, but have not found anything that helped me as much as Chamberlain's Tablets. AFTER SIX YEARS OF SUFFERING

Woman Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Columbus, Ohio.—"I had almost given up. I had been sick for six years with female troubles and nervousness. I had a pain in my right side and could not eat anything without hurting my stomach. I could not drink cold water at all nor eat any kind of raw fruit, nor fresh meat nor chicken. From 178 pounds I went to 118 and would get so weak at times that I fell over. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and ten days later I could eat and it did not hurt my stomach. I have taken the medicine ever since and I feel like a new woman. I now weigh 127 pounds so you can see what it has done for me already. My husband says he knows your medicine has saved my life."—Mrs. J. S. BARLOW, 1624 South 4th St., Columbus, Ohio.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound contains just the virtues of roots and herbs needed to restore health and strength to the weakened organs of the body. That is why Mrs. Barlow, a chronic invalid, recovered so completely.

It pays for women suffering from any female ailments to insist upon having Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The conclusion of the first semester proved to be a serious blow to the Doane college basket ball squad, Captain Wallace and Left Forward Edmunds leaving school at the close of examination week. Both men are forced to quit school on account of their parents' moving out of the state.

Fremont College. Herman Echtenkamp, whose son was the most seriously injured of the students, came immediately to look after his son who is being beautifully cared for.

A very liberal donation of money was given by the students, which was expended in the purchase of underwear for those having lost almost all their clothing in the dormitory fire.

The entertainment at the college auditorium given by the dramatic reader, Resa Gearhart Morrison, was a treat to the audience. Mrs. Stinson has promised a return date next June.

A large party of dormitory girls had planned a reception in honor of Mrs. Morrison which was given in the college parlors following the entertainment. Miss Edna Eickling presided at the table and Misses Ada Jones Evelyn Johanson and Irene Pellard served the guests. The company was just preparing to take its departure when the fire alarm sounded. The parlors were thrown open to the dormitory crowd and beds provided for the convalescents and warm quarters for those losing their apparel.

Mr. Rieche, representing the Calumet Tea and Coffee company of Chicago, was a guest of President and Mrs. Clemmons last Monday evening at the entertainment, and also at the social function following. He did most valiant service in helping to care for the students in distress as did also Resa Gearhart Morrison, who cancelled a date to remain the next day to give assistance to those in need.

The annual banquet of the "Vocapogonia" was given in the college dining hall Saturday evening, January 23, to forty guests. Carl Kretzinger of Koss and Kretzinger, a graduate of the pharmacy department and former dean of the department, presided as toastmaster. The program and speakers were as follows: "Valences," Harry Johnson; "The Life of Our Organization," S. L. Keller; "The Vocapogonia," Mr. Wertz; "Therapeutics of Sandstone," H. B.
