Donohue's Auto Stolen—J. T. Donohue, 2349 South Thirty-second avenue informs the police that his auto was stolen from in front of the Brandeis theater during the evening.

Fined for Creating Disturbance—L. B. Ritchey of the Clowry apartments was arraigned in police court for creating a disturbance in the building last night and was fined $5 and costs.

English Returns—Superintendent English of the Recreation board has returned from Kansas City and St. Joseph, where he secured some ideas which he hopes to use to advantage in his work here next season.

Parool Post Fair—The ladies of the Parkville Presbyterian church will serve a dinner at the church next Thursday evening at 6 o'clock. They will also hold a parcel post fair the same evening.

Believed of Watch—E. J. Casey of the Young Men's Christian association was relieved of a watch which he prized highly somewhere between the Young Men's Christian association building and the Creighton Medical college Thursday night.

J. A. C. Kennedy to Speak—Sunday afternoon, at 3 p. m., J. A. C. Kennedy will address the Omaha Philosophical society at its rooms in the Lyric building, Nineteenth and Farnam streets, on "Railroads and Their Control."

Iowa Bond Over—William Hill, Keokuk, Ia., charged with the larceny of a certificate of deposit for $60, made on a bank of Boone, Ia., was arraigned in police court and bound over to the district court on a charge of grand larceny, with bonds fixed at $1,000.

Will Sing in Chicago Sunday—Florence Hasler Palmer will leave Saturday evening for Chicago, where she goes to appear in a special program at the First Methodist Episcopal church, Sunday. This will be sort of a week-end trip, as she will return next Tuesday.

Two Coats Stolen—Christ Christensen of Wisner, Neb., reports to the police the theft of a valuable overcoat, which was taken from the dining room of a local hotel. Mrs. R. Chaffield, 1822 Chicago street, informs the police that a coat belonging to her was stolen from the above number.

Bids on Des Moines Job—Omaha contractors are to have a chance to bid for the job of erecting the twelve-story building as the new home of the Des Moines Register and Leader at Des Moines. Plans for the building have reached Omaha and are on file at the Builders' exchange.

Store Not Quarantined—Due to an error, it was stated in the Thursday Evening Bee that a quarantine of five weeks has just been lifted on the grocery store of Julius Waxenburg, 701 South Twenty-seventh street. The store was not under quarantine, but the living quarters just above the store were under quarantine, and it was this quarantine that was lifted.

George N. Swigart, Old Resident, Dead; Funeral Saturday

George N. Swigart, pioneer of this city, died Wednesday of this week at Detroit, and the body has been brought back to this city for burial by his daughter Mrs. C. L. Wheelock. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from Burke's chapel with interment at Prospect Hill cemetery.

Mr. Swigart is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Wheelock of Detroit. He left Omaha two years ago last month after a stroke of paralysis, which was the cause of his death. He was 67 years old. Mr. Swigart was a resident of Omaha for thirty-five years and was well known all over the western country. He was formerly a traveling salesman for the Lee-Glass-Andresen Hardware company, and was intensely interested in horse racing, for many years being called upon to judge the county and state races which were held in Omaha. He was a most lovable man and had a host of friends.

During recent years he was heart and soul in the work of Ak-Sar-Hen and was always ready with a helping hand for any work the king wanted him to do. He was a most familiar figure around the den, assisting the secretary and sometimes taking tickets at the door when the visitors were brought forth for initiation.

Mr. Wheelock accompanied Mrs. Wheelock with the body. Pallbearers will be Fred Schmetz, Frank Wilson, Dan Coffey, Edna d Morris, Charles Karbach and Edward Palmer.

Schreiber to Set Forth His Plans Saturday Night

Superintendent Schreiber of the Welfare board will recommend at a meeting of the board Saturday evening his plans for establishing legal aid and employment bureaus in connection with the welfare work to be carried on here.

The recommendations will urge that divorce and personal injury cases be not handled by the legal aid bureau; that all data be confidential and that the bureau seek to assist the worthy poor who have grounds for action.

In Kansas City last year the legal aid bureau of the Welfare board cared for 6,500 cases, 75 per cent of which pertained to collection of wages due applicants for this aid.

Bandit Who Held Up U. P. Train May Have Escaped to the Coast

So far as the retired officials can learn, the man who Wednesday night robbed the passengers of Union Pacific No. 14, the Oregon and Washington limited train, just east of Green River, Wyo., has disappeared as effectually as if he had dropped off the earth. The man hunt that was inaugurated between Green River and Rock Springs immediately after the robbery was prosecuted all Thursday and is still on, no trace of the man has been found. Chief Patterson of the Union Pacific's secret service department has gone to the scene of the robbery to direct operations and take in charge the posse searching for the man. At this time the Union Pacific has some twenty-five of its own secret service men, the sheriff of Sweetwater county,

Y. Young, and all of his deputies and the police of Green River and Rock Springs combing the hills and the country between the two towns, but up to this time have been unable to find a person who ever saw a man answering the description of the bandit. There is a lingering suspicion in the minds of the railroad officials that the man who robbed the passengers of No. 14, is now perhaps out in California, and thus has eluded the men who are searching for him. West bound there is a coast train passes through Green River at 11:30 o'clock at night. There is a growing opinion that after robbing passengers of No. 14, the bandit dropped off, walked back to Green River and as the train from the east arrived, boarded it went west. They assert that this would have been easy for him, as no very good description of him had been secured and a man going west from there would not arouse any suspicion. It being a station where most of the passengers from the northwest transfer for coast points.

CLARK TIGH NOT FEVER VICTIM, AS REPORTED

An error in the records at the health office resulted in the publication of Clark Tigh, 754 Hazel street, in the list of quarantined locations this week. The facts are, this boy was sent to the health offer by a school nurse for examination. To be safe, Assistant City Physician Holer recorded the boy at once as a scarlet fever case and ordered his home placed under quarantine. A subsequent examination of the boy showed he has eczema, whereupon the quarantine was removed, but the records at the health office were not noted.

Here's Interesting News From Burgess-Nash

The Immortal Lincoln

ONE HUNDRED AND SEVEN years ago, February 12, in a lowly Kentucky cabin, amidst poverty such as very few of us have had to contend with, was born Abraham Lincoln.

He surmounted obstacles that most of us would deem unsurmountable and rose to the highest place and highest honor in this great nation—ever growing in the love and esteem of the American people, until the sad day when the great heart was stilled by the assassin's bullet in April, 1865.

Practically without schooling, he was a self-made man in the fullest sense in which that term can be used; with a mighty intellect and a rare blending of the qualities of simplicity, sympathy, honesty, perfect justice, mercy and love for his fellowmen.

The work of the world goes on, but let us, every one, pause to think of this great and good man who will live forever in the minds of all Americans. February 11, 1916.
