

PRECAUTIONS PREVALENT NAUGHT FOR MR. M'NOWN

E. A. McNow, 2223 Cass street, has some misgivings about the truth of the old saying, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." On Thursday his 2-year-old son was stricken with scarlet fever. In the face of the precautions he and his wife observed since before Christmas he is led to believe there is no escaping the disease, no matter how careful one may be. "We kept our two other children home from school since the Christmas holidays, neither myself nor wife have attended any public place, we have not even visited a neighbor, I have ridden on the platforms of street cars, and if there is any other precaution we have overlooked I would like to know of it," remarked Mr. McNow. Key to the Situation—See Want Ads. Herndon Made Manager. The Columbia club of the South Atlantic league has appointed Third Base- man, Harlan Herndon, as team manager to succeed James C. Fox.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR FRANK JOHNSTON HELD

Members of the Modern Woodmen of America and the Ancient Order of United Workmen and many other friends attended the funeral of Frank Johnston Friday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Mary's church, South Side. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery. Mr. Johnston died Tuesday afternoon following an illness which began five months ago. He underwent an operation for appendicitis at that time, but never recovered. He was a member of the two lodges represented at the funeral, and is survived by a daughter, Mrs. A. R. Carlson of Grand Island.

DR. BANISTER APPROVES INSPECTION IN SCHOOLS

The Commercial club should lend its hearty co-operation to the anti-spitting campaign," declared Dr. J. M. Banister, formerly a surgeon in the United States army and now practicing in Omaha, before the public health and hospital committee of the Commercial club at noon. Dr. Banister also placed the stamp of approval on school inspection as a preventive of epidemics of contagious diseases. "If the school inspection had been in force last September," said Dr. Banister, "there would be no scarlet fever epidemic in Omaha now."

BURGESS-NASH COMPANY "EVERYBODY'S STORE"

Saturday The Third Day of Our Spring Millinery Opening

Saturday, the third day of this spring opening week of Millinery sees the arrival of many Hats not shown before. The great crowds who attended the first two days will therefore in no way spoil the attractions for those who could not come before.

The hats from celebrated makers

Without a question this is the largest collection of modest Hats bought especially for an occasion from those millinery designers whose names represent the highest ability of the art. A few of the names are Lichtenstein, Moorehead & Jardine, Clairville, Gage and Fisk.

Hats similar to picture specially priced at $10.00

Many interesting Sport Hats shown

Newest effects for sports wear—white and all new colors.

Wonderful values in the less-expensive models

Never before has an "Opening" in this store seen a more complete and worthy collection of less expensive Hats than this spring event of 1916.

Hats at $7.50

Most complete $5 collection

It is in this collection that the influence of the more expensive Hats is felt. With such examples what else could the less expensive Hats be but replicas of the chic and charm which attracts you in those exclusive models?
