

What Women Are Doing in the World

Mrs. D. G. Crutched, speaking on "Importance of a Sister Thought" will be the drawing card at the philosophy and ethics department meeting of the Omaha Women's club Tuesday at 8 o'clock at the Young Women's Christian association.

Miss Rose Owens, formerly of Bloomington, Neb., and past grand chapter president of the P. E. O. sisters, will be guest of honor at the meeting of Chapter B. F. to be held Tuesday at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. E. N. Hoyell, 320 Lodge street.

The lodge department is the first of the sections of the Omaha Women's club to hold its final meeting for the year. Election of officers for next year will be held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock in room 25 at the Young Men's Christian association instead of the Metropolitan hall.

The opera "La Boheme" by Puccini, will be given by the music department of the Omaha Women's club Thursday at 8 o'clock at the Young Women's Christian association. Miss Gertrude Radtke and Miss Ethel Carson will take part in the program through the courtesy of Louise Johnson-Wyke, Mr. George Tompkins and Mr. Lawrence Deede also taking part. The vocal soloists will be Miss Edna Hamilton and Mrs. John H. Hamman, leader of the department.

A social settlement program, under the direction of Mrs. J. H. Dunton, will be given at the meeting of the social science department of the Omaha Women's club Monday at 8 o'clock at the Young Women's Christian association. Mrs. J. H. Dunton, new president of the Social Settlement, will talk on "The Outlook for 1916-What We Are Endeavoring to Do." Miss Evelyn Lloyd, the new head resident, will tell about the class and club work there, and Miss Mary Irene Dill will tell of the settlement inmates, for which she is the director. Miss Rose Dunton, president of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae, will tell a story.

The North side circle of the Child Conservation league will meet Friday at 7 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Walter C. Price, 268 Ames avenue. A program on "Education" will be given. Current events in response to roll call, and the following papers will be given: "The Need of Women on the School Board" by Mrs. E. B. Brown; "Expenditure in the Public Schools" and "What It Has Found," by Dr. C. J. Wender; "School Gardens and Their Success," by Mrs. A. Miller; "Need of Close Supervision of the School Child in His Playtime," by Miss Robinson, principal of Saratoga school; "The Children Gain or Lose by Home Study?" There will be a report concerning the efforts in this state for dental inspection by Mrs. M. F. Powell.

The Benson Women's Christian Temperance union will meet Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Z. T. Lindsey, Mrs. Elizabeth H. Sullivan will lead on the topic of "Forty-Five."

The Women's club of Benson held a called meeting Tuesday at the home of Mrs. W. F. Varner for the reading of the revised constitution and by-laws. During the meeting some revision was recommended and informal votes taken which promise some interesting changes being made at the final vote. A recommendation on the Omaha state coming question was read and action deferred till the regular meeting, which will be held Thursday at the home of the president, Mrs. O. R. Brock.

The program is a divided one, with two leaders, Mrs. C. A. Tracy, on the topic "Painting," and Mrs. W. H. Leachner on the second part, "Parliamentary Law." Mrs. J. W. Welch gives "American Landscape Painting," Mrs. H. H. Hovell, "Genre and Impressionist Painting," Mrs. E. C. Hodder, "Mural Painting," and Mrs. B. R. Fisher a reading on "The Significance of Colors in Painting."

Tennesson chapter of the Chautauque club will meet at 8 o'clock Monday with Mrs. N. Nelson, 620 Douglas street. Roll call response will be questions from Washington Irving. Mrs. J. A. Sonderland will conduct the lesson in "American Ideals." A paper on the life and work of Washington Irving will be read by Mrs. E. E. Farwell. The story of the "Legend of Sleepy Hollow" will be told by Mrs. E. H. Hampton, and that of "Rip Van Winkle" by Miss Louise Fleming. Mrs. N. Nelson will give the history of the "Commonwealth" under Oliver Cromwell, and a paper will be read by Mrs. H. N. Shriver on the stars "Betelgeuse" and "Rigel" in the constellation of Orion.

The program of the art department of the Omaha Women's club for Thursday morning at 10 o'clock will be in charge of Mrs. W. E. Kolb, instead of Mrs. W. E. Heller, who has moved from the P. O. illuminated manuscripts, embroidery, metal work and industrial art. Handicraft will be considered. The meeting will be held at the Young Women's Christian association.

Initiation of new members will take place at the meeting of Chapter B of the P. E. O. sisters, Thursday afternoon at 8 o'clock at the home of the president, Mrs. W. B. Woodward, 28 North Fourth street. The program announced for this meeting has been postponed until a later date.

Mrs. J. M. Gill, who is interested in the Child Saving Institute and the Old Peoples Home, will speak before the Business Women's Council Tuesday from 11 until 12. Mrs. H. A. Spear of the Central United Brethren, an church was the speaker last Tuesday, and the women of the First Presbyterian church served the luncheon.

The Business Women's Council is a branch of extension work followed up as a result of the monthly meetings. Every business girl is invited to be present each Tuesday at the speaker's home.

The women of the Pearl Methodist Methodist church will serve luncheon Tuesday.

The Baptist Missionary club of this city has elected its "Bible" club and by its constitution the club board will for the first time be held on the fourth day of the month. In June a joint conference of the two societies will take place.

HEAD OF VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE BUREAU, A. C. A.

Miss Myrtle Fitz Roberts

Miss Myrtle Fitz Roberts, head of the vocational guidance bureau, A. C. A.

Dr. Guernsey Jones of the department of modern history, University of Nebraska, gives the first of two lectures on "English Drama of Today" Monday at 8 o'clock in the council chamber of the city hall. "The English Sociological Drama" will be his subject. Next Monday Prof. Jones will talk on "The Literary Drama."

Humorous stories will be told by the Omaha Story Teller's league Thursday afternoon at the public library. Miss Margaret Hamilton, leader of the program, will tell "Rebecca of Sunnybrook," "Bob, Our Mocking Bird," by Lanier; "The New Neighbor," "The New Neighbor," by Aldrich, and Mrs. Philip Welch, "Kentucky Cinderella," by F. H. Smith.

A business meeting of the Business Women's club will be held at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening at the Young Women's Christian association. This will be preceded by the usual supper at 6:30 o'clock. A mid program will be given by Miss Emma Johnson, assisted by Miss Martha Hart.

A program on "Education in Holland" will be given by the literature department of the South Omaha Women's club Tuesday afternoon at Literary hall, Mrs. Bruce McCulloch, leader of the program, will speak on "The Development of the Dutch Language and Literature." Mrs. C. L. Tabbot on "Primary and Secondary Schools," Mrs. Walter Nitsche on "Agricultural Schools" and Mrs. Perry Wheeler on "Universities." Current events will also be discussed.

"Study of the Child for Vocational Guidance" will be discussed by the vocational guidance section of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae Tuesday at 4 o'clock at the Young Women's Christian association. Miss Sarah Sanborn will be in charge of the discussion, each phase of the questions to be brought up as follows: Grade schools, Miss Elizabeth Rooney; high schools, Miss Jessie Turner; colleges, Miss Grace Robinson; social centers, Miss Alton Buchanan, and library, Miss Zora Steidle, each speaker being one of experts on her subject.

Miss Myrtle Fitz Roberts is in charge of the vocational guidance bureau initiated by this department recently, with an office in the Board of Education rooms.

The monthly meeting of the board of trustees of the Old People's Home will be held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the Young Women's Christian association.

The literature department of the Omaha Women's club is planning a luncheon to be given at the Hotel Fontaine, Wednesday, April 12. Guests will be permitted at this affair and reservations are being received by Mrs. C. L. Campbell, Mrs. L. M. Lord. This will be the final meeting of the year.

Mrs. A. E. Dods will read a paper on "Froebel" of kindergarten fame, at the meeting of J. P. W. club to be held Thursday at the home of Mrs. D. H. Weil.

The West Side Women's Christian Temperance union meets Thursday at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. John Black, 1024 South Fifty-second street. Mrs. H. G. Claggett, the president, will give a report of the recent mid-continents temperance conference held at Lincoln.

Owing to illness in the home of Mrs. Ben Marti, the Suburban club of Malva, White Birch will meet with Mrs. Mary Weirne Tuesday afternoon. Assistant hostess will be Madeline G. R. Ladd, F. L. Keller and W. W. Kerr.

The Stateside of Temple Israel will give its last literary program of the season Monday afternoon, at Temple Israel, Twenty-ninth and Jackson streets, beginning promptly at 1:30 p. m. The committee in charge has prepared a program as follows: Vocal solo, Miss Mildred Churchill, a paper, "Efficiency in Modern Life," Mrs. Louise Sumner, soprano solo, Mrs. Walter O. Silver, a brief talk, "Helping Others," Miss Rose Handall, in charge of Visiting Nurses association, and a vintage solo by Mrs. Joseph Harding.

Mrs. William Harris, assisted by several of the young women of the Stateside, will serve light refreshments after the program.

In response to a call from the president general, Mrs. William Cunningham, thirty local chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Omaha and the Major Isaac ladies chapters, will hold a special meeting Tuesday at 1:30 o'clock at the public library to consider plans for holding relief work during the Van Vleet, a member of the relief commission for relief, who has been in Omaha the past week, and will leave the evening.

Subscriptions for Another Concert Course Astonishes the Press Agent

Edna Richard Hamilton, advance agent of the Ellis Grand Opera company, says that the response to the preliminary campaign for tickets for next year's charity concert course is unprecedented in her experience. She says: "From actual experience in such matters, I have a little faith in the results obtainable from such a preliminary canvass that I am amazed at the showing Omaha has made."

"When I arrived at the Auditorium the night of the Kreier concert and found subscription cards, three thousand of them with fifty little pencils attached, I asked what those pencils had cost. Being told fifty dollars, I said: 'What a waste of money! Because from my experience I judged they wouldn't be used to stimulate tickets for next year's course. But they were used to the extent of six thousand four hundred and seventy-three dollars on that night.'

"Mr. Lucretia Prior is inclined to be pessimistic about the results of our campaign to date. In his appreciation of the wonderfulness of this proposed course for next season, the greatest aggregation of musical talent ever gotten together, in Mr. Prior's great enthusiasm, he expects the people to stand in line at the Auditorium now, begging for a chance to buy a season ticket, but unfortunately people don't do that way. To ask people to subscribe for a next year's concert course is comparable to asking them to order their groceries for next Christmas dinner. Lamentable as that is to us who must get this preliminary guarantee, still that is the status."

"My husband, who is Stuart M. Hamilton of the political economy faculty of the University of Chicago, was a Sheridan, Wyo. boy. As a youth he went east to Ann Arbor, Mich., to school. Between stints, here in Omaha, he took a stroll and got lost. Boyish pride prevented his asking assistance, so he continued to walk in the hopes of eventually finding the railroad station. He missed the first train, but several hours later he located the railroad. He has been a globe-trotter, but he always maintains that Omaha, Neb., is the largest city he was ever in. The results to date of our campaign is eleven thousand eight hundred and seventy-three dollars. I, too, maintain that Omaha is the largest city I have ever visited."

Edna Richard Hamilton, advance agent of the Ellis Grand Opera company, says that the response to the preliminary campaign for tickets for next year's charity concert course is unprecedented in her experience. She says: "From actual experience in such matters, I have a little faith in the results obtainable from such a preliminary canvass that I am amazed at the showing Omaha has made."

"When I arrived at the Auditorium the night of the Kreier concert and found subscription cards, three thousand of them with fifty little pencils attached, I asked what those pencils had cost. Being told fifty dollars, I said: 'What a waste of money! Because from my experience I judged they wouldn't be used to stimulate tickets for next year's course. But they were used to the extent of six thousand four hundred and seventy-three dollars on that night.'

"Mr. Lucretia Prior is inclined to be pessimistic about the results of our campaign to date. In his appreciation of the wonderfulness of this proposed course for next season, the greatest aggregation of musical talent ever gotten together, in Mr. Prior's great enthusiasm, he expects the people to stand in line at the Auditorium now, begging for a chance to buy a season ticket, but unfortunately people don't do that way. To ask people to subscribe for a next year's concert course is comparable to asking them to order their groceries for next Christmas dinner. Lamentable as that is to us who must get this preliminary guarantee, still that is the status."

"My husband, who is Stuart M. Hamilton of the political economy faculty of the University of Chicago, was a Sheridan, Wyo. boy. As a youth he went east to Ann Arbor, Mich., to school. Between stints, here in Omaha, he took a stroll and got lost. Boyish pride prevented his asking assistance, so he continued to walk in the hopes of eventually finding the railroad station. He missed the first train, but several hours later he located the railroad. He has been a globe-trotter, but he always maintains that Omaha, Neb., is the largest city he was ever in. The results to date of our campaign is eleven thousand eight hundred and seventy-three dollars. I, too, maintain that Omaha is the largest city I have ever visited."

Edna Richard Hamilton, advance agent of the Ellis Grand Opera company, says that the response to the preliminary campaign for tickets for next year's charity concert course is unprecedented in her experience. She says: "From actual experience in such matters, I have a little faith in the results obtainable from such a preliminary canvass that I am amazed at the showing Omaha has made."

"When I arrived at the Auditorium the night of the Kreier concert and found subscription cards, three thousand of them with fifty little pencils attached, I asked what those pencils had cost. Being told fifty dollars, I said: 'What a waste of money! Because from my experience I judged they wouldn't be used to stimulate tickets for next year's course. But they were used to the extent of six thousand four hundred and seventy-three dollars on that night.'

"Mr. Lucretia Prior is inclined to be pessimistic about the results of our campaign to date. In his appreciation of the wonderfulness of this proposed course for next season, the greatest aggregation of musical talent ever gotten together, in Mr. Prior's great enthusiasm, he expects the people to stand in line at the Auditorium now, begging for a chance to buy a season ticket, but unfortunately people don't do that way. To ask people to subscribe for a next year's concert course is comparable to asking them to order their groceries for next Christmas dinner. Lamentable as that is to us who must get this preliminary guarantee, still that is the status."

"My husband, who is Stuart M. Hamilton of the political economy faculty of the University of Chicago, was a Sheridan, Wyo. boy. As a youth he went east to Ann Arbor, Mich., to school. Between stints, here in Omaha, he took a stroll and got lost. Boyish pride prevented his asking assistance, so he continued to walk in the hopes of eventually finding the railroad station. He missed the first train, but several hours later he located the railroad. He has been a globe-trotter, but he always maintains that Omaha, Neb., is the largest city he was ever in. The results to date of our campaign is eleven thousand eight hundred and seventy-three dollars. I, too, maintain that Omaha is the largest city I have ever visited."

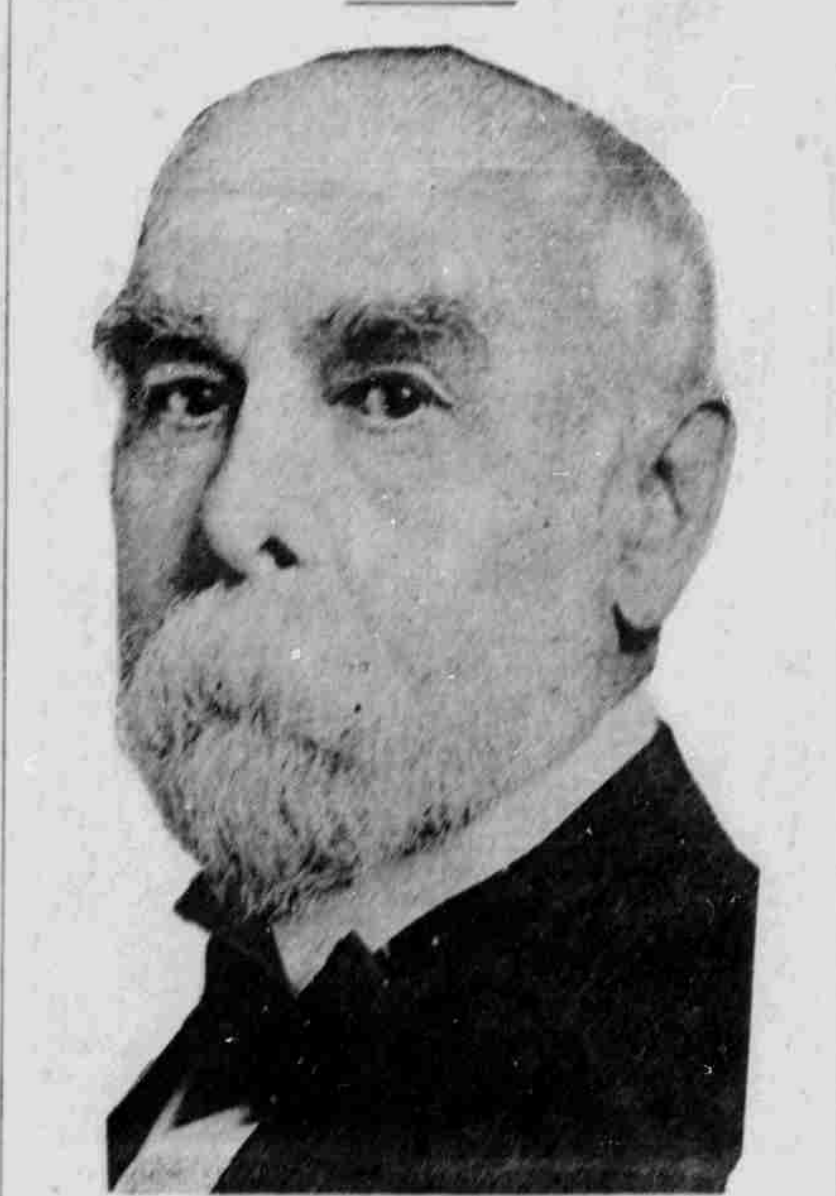

Edna Richard Hamilton, advance agent of the Ellis Grand Opera company, says that the response to the preliminary campaign for tickets for next year's charity concert course is unprecedented in her experience. She says: "From actual experience in such matters, I have a little faith in the results obtainable from such a preliminary canvass that I am amazed at the showing Omaha has made."

"When I arrived at the Auditorium the night of the Kreier concert and found subscription cards, three thousand of them with fifty little pencils attached, I asked what those pencils had cost. Being told fifty dollars, I said: 'What a waste of money! Because from my experience I judged they wouldn't be used to stimulate tickets for next year's course. But they were used to the extent of six thousand four hundred and seventy-three dollars on that night.'

"Mr. Lucretia Prior is inclined to be pessimistic about the results of our campaign to date. In his appreciation of the wonderfulness of this proposed course for next season, the greatest aggregation of musical talent ever gotten together, in Mr. Prior's great enthusiasm, he expects the people to stand in line at the Auditorium now, begging for a chance to buy a season ticket, but unfortunately people don't do that way. To ask people to subscribe for a next year's concert course is comparable to asking them to order their groceries for next Christmas dinner. Lamentable as that is to us who must get this preliminary guarantee, still that is the status."

"My husband, who is Stuart M. Hamilton of the political economy faculty of the University of Chicago, was a Sheridan, Wyo. boy. As a youth he went east to Ann Arbor, Mich., to school. Between stints, here in Omaha, he took a stroll and got lost. Boyish pride prevented his asking assistance, so he continued to walk in the hopes of eventually finding the railroad station. He missed the first train, but several hours later he located the railroad. He has been a globe-trotter, but he always maintains that Omaha, Neb., is the largest city he was ever in. The results to date of our campaign is eleven thousand eight hundred and seventy-three dollars. I, too, maintain that Omaha is the largest city I have ever visited."

Former Senator Millard is Eighty, but Won't Tell When

HON. JOSEPH H. MILLARD.

Ex-Senator Millard, president of the Omaha National bank, is 80 years old this month.

What day? "I don't know. Neither does anybody else except the senator, and he won't tell. Even 'Who's Who' doesn't know and merely gives information about his birth thus: 'B. Apr. 1836, Hamilton, Cal.; s. of American parents temporarily residing abroad.'"

So the best reporter (daughter) went over to see him. "The genial young chap of fourscore was sitting at his desk in the Omaha National bank.

"I'm not telling the date of my birth," he said. "I quit having birthdays fifteen years ago."

"Well, you certainly look it," said the best reporter. "And he certainly does. His complexion is ruddy. His eyes are black, his hair and beard are white and glossy and his dark eyes are clear.

"What is the secret of fourscore and good health?" asked the reporter.

"Oh, no special secret," said the senator. "I eat what I like and I go to bed early. I'm generally in bed by 9 o'clock and up at 6. About that time our dog comes up and jumps on my bed and wakes me and I get up and go for a walk with her. Her name is 'Judy.' Our neighbor, C. N. Dietz, has a dog named 'Punch,' and so we named ours 'Judy.'"

Trade Clerk, Sun Kist flour; Mrs. John Clark, Skinner company; Adeline Clark, Western Umbrella company; Nellie Ward, Omaha Rubber company; Villa Harmon, Kirkendall shoe company; Miss S. Larsen, M. E. Smith company; Mrs. Rollin Steere, Loose-Wiles Blauvelt; Mrs. Garrett, Fairmont creamery.

Order of Scottish Clans. The Ladies auxiliary of Clan Gordon, No. 63, will hold its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. J. H. Hillop, 212 Fowler avenue, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Maccabees. Laurel Hive, No. 19, will give a card party Thursday afternoon at the hall in the Continental building.

Fraternal Aid Union. Banner Lodge, No. 11, Fraternal Aid Union, will give a card party and refreshments Tuesday evening at Labor Temple hall.

Lawton Auxiliary. The regular meeting of the General H. W. Lawton auxiliary U. S. W. V., will be held at Memorial hall Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. A musical entertainment will follow the meeting. An invitation is extended to Camp Lee Forby to attend.

Peters Talks to the Traffic Men. A. D. Peters, sales and publicity director of the M. C. Peters Mfg. company, addressed the Omaha Freight Traffic association at the Loyal hotel at noon. Said Mr. Peters in part:

"In connection with the progress of our new institution in Omaha, it is apropos here to direct your serious attention to the splendid growth and progress of Omaha, which is very evident at this time. Many fine office buildings have been erected in the last year, new buildings have been constructed for manufacturing and business purposes, and additions have been made in several already erected. You have, of course, noticed the reports in our daily papers with respect to the contemplated athletic club. This should prove to be a splendid institution for our young men."

"Most important, perhaps, to you, however, is the recent organization of our new life exchange. Many people in our city do not yet realize the importance of this industry. I have been advised that several new concerns have moved to Omaha to conduct this particular line of business, and I believe my understanding is correct that a couple of these have come from the east. The importance of the Grain exchange in Omaha is self-evident, and now it behooves us to get behind this life exchange until it ranks second to none."

"In my travels around the country, when I return home and compare Omaha with other cities, I can say to you in all sincerity that I believe Omaha offers the greatest opportunities to young men for the future than any city I know of."

Your particular line of work should

The Pent Up Beauty and Fragrance of the Earth Bursts Forth in Flowers. Send Flowers. John H. Bath. The Careful Florist. 1804 Farnam St., Omaha. Phone Doug. 3000.

WE MAKE YOU SEE GLOBE OPTICAL CO. N. E. CORNER - FARNAM AT 16 TH. TODAY'S BEAUTY HELP. You can keep your hair at its very best by washing it with a teaspoonful of centroy dissolved in a cup of hot water.

GETA BRUSH FREE With a Can of Paint, Varnish or Stain at the Hamilton Paint & Glass Co. 1517 Howard Street. Phone Douglas 2648.

Every Woman Who is FLAT-CHESTED and lacking in womanly development, needs the BEST EXPANDER. Wonderful new invention of real merit, gives results by double contact stimulation that acts on the nerve centers as well as the blood and tissues.

Margaret Lemen TEACHER OF PIANO. 24 Floor Patterson Bldg. 17th and Farnam, Douglas 7655. Omaha, Neb.

A Most Authentic Showing of Beautiful Spring Styles. Just received a new lot of pattern hats. A pleasing variety and best quality, specially priced from $7.00 up. Your inspection invited. F. M. Schadell & Co. 1522 Douglas Street.

DIAMONDS WATCHES ON CREDIT. Open a Charge Account With Loftis Bros. & Co. A small sum, weekly or monthly, makes you the owner of a splendid Diamond or other articles of high grade jewelry. YOUR CREDIT IS GOOD WITH US.