

BODIES OF BOYD AND ADAIR AT EL PASO

Corpses of Two Officers and Seven Troopers Killed at Carrizal Brought Home.

EIGHT BURIED IN DITCH

El Paso, Tex., July 6.—The bodies of Captain Charles T. Boyd, Lieutenant Menry Adair and seven troopers of the Tenth cavalry, killed at Carrizal, were brought to El Paso today at 8:30 a. m. Only the bodies of the two officers and Private Dewitt Rucker have been identified.

Eight of the Americans were exhumed from a single grave, the undertakers who brought back the bodies said. The dead had been gathered from the field of battle and cast into a ditch. This was then filled up. Captain Boyd, Lieutenant Adair and six troopers, stripped of their uniforms, were mixed indiscriminately in the dirt.

The body of the ninth trooper was located two miles distant from the others. He had been wounded and apparently had dragged himself away to die in the gravelly waste beyond the town.

Arrival Nearly Unnoticed.

Scenes in sharp contrast to those of a week ago, when the Carrizal prisoners were brought from Chihuahua City and turned over to General George Bell, Jr., marked the return of the American dead. In Juarez the event was scarcely noticed, while in El Paso only a few hundred persons, quiet and subdued, replaced the cheering throng that greeted the twenty-three troopers of the Tenth.

Indifference in Juarez to the event was explainable in the fact that the special train bearing the bodies did not arrive there from Villa Ahumada until late last night. Before the town was well awake an engine detached the car containing the dead and pushed it out to the center of the International bridge. The Americans and their families hitched on an engine and completed the transfer to the El Paso side.

Escort is Not Ready.

General Bell had not expected the bodies to be delivered so early in the morning and the Eighth cavalry, which had been detailed from Fort Bliss to act as an escort, was not on hand. An impromptu guard was formed, however, from soldiers of the Seventh infantry, encamped near the bridge. Part of these marched beside the car while the remainder stood at attention as it rolled off the bridge upon American soil.

Word was immediately sent to Fort Bliss and the Eighth cavalry was started cityward. Examination of the bodies showed that Captain Boyd was shot through the right eye and that Lieutenant Adair's death resulted from a wound in the breast.

By the time the Eighth had reached the death car at 10:30 a. m. thousands had gathered along the streets. Full Military Honors.

General Bell and his staff were on hand. The cavalry drew up at attention with sabres drawn, while the twenty-three negro troopers surrendered by the de facto government last week from Chihuahua and the one released from Juarez Monday took station at the car's entrance, directly behind General Bell and the other officers.

Nine ambulances had been provided and as the caskets were taken out of the car they were covered with flags and placed in these. The mounted band of the cavalry played "Nearer My God to Thee" during this part of the ceremony.

The body of Captain Boyd was first taken from the car. Next followed that of Lieutenant Adair and then those of the troopers.

When the ambulances had been loaded a squadron of the cavalry led the march to the undertaking establishment where it had been decided to hold the bodies for the present. The band played the Chopin funeral march, squads of dismounted men fell in beside the ambulances, behind each of which a riderless horse was led, the officers and men followed and the cortege moved off between lanes of people, who bared their heads as it passed.

Funeral Service Read.

At the chapel of the undertaking establishment a brief service was read by Chaplain W. W. Brander of the Eighth cavalry. It was announced that the identified bodies would be turned over to the relatives and that those who remained unidentified probably would be sent to Arlington cemetery, Washington, for burial.

Two of the horses that followed the ambulances were survivors of Carrizal. Only one of the troopers' bodies had been identified early today, that of Dewitt Rucker, K trooper, Tenth cavalry. None of the others bore identification tags. Army officers, however, had full descriptions of the fourteen missing men and from these it was expected that the identity of the remaining bodies which were in Juarez soon would be determined.

FRENCH ADVANCE FURTHER ON SOMME

The Germans second positions had been so demolished by artillery that they were unable to make a strong resistance except at the village of Hem, which had been strongly fortified. Here the attacking troops met desperate opposition. By dint of hard fighting the village was won as well as Monacu farm, to the southwest.

The Germans are beginning to react more vigorously as reserves arrive, particularly south of the Somme, and the French advance there is hotly contested. French critics expect that the Germans will concentrate all their energies in defense of the villages of Barleux and Villers-Carbonnel, which bar the way to Peronne.

STATE GOLF PLAY MARKS ARE UPSET

Peters was figured at $75, and Captain Foye and John Redick also were expensive buys, especially in view of the fact that three hours later their chances were nil.

The golf exhibited in the various matches of the day was not nearly as remarkable as the various upsets of the dope. Bill Chambers and his lumbugo cultivated a 76 round in beating Guy Beckett, and Bill could have done a rushing business auctioning lumbugo germs from his own stock if he had been so inclined. Paul Scott also shot a 76 in eliminating Jack Hughes. Ralph Peters and John Redick did not display anything remarkable during the first nine holes of their match. Peters couldn't putt and Redick couldn't drive. Both steeled on the inside and Peters wound up by cutting par one stroke for his last five holes. Redick's ability to keep his drives out of the rough cost him his title.

Whirlwind Finish.

In the Sprague-Foye match, possibly the biggest upset of the day, Foye had Sprague three down at the turn, when Sprague cut loose with a 3 on ten, eleven and twelve, respectively, evening the match. He took the sixteenth, sinking a neat putt, and the seventeenth was halved. On the eighteenth Foye had a chance to even the match, but his three-foot putt rimmed the cup and Sprague halved the hole, winning the match.

The out-of-town delegation fared badly yesterday, all of the visitors being eliminated in early rounds of the championship flight. Several still survive in the minor events. F. L. Catlin of Fairbury was the winner of the prize offered to the visitor from a club outside of the Omaha district or Lincoln playing the lowest qualifying score, his total being 184.

Hastings took the team cup offered under similar conditions.

Annual Meeting Today.

The annual meeting of the association will be held today and officers will be elected at that time. Lincoln wants the tournament next year, it probably will get it, otherwise the event would stay in Omaha. Action on awarding the tournament may not be taken at today's meeting.

Karl Bock, who was stated to have filed the protest with the sports committee against Joe Williams' score in the qualifying round, feels that he has been placed in a false light by publicity regarding the matter. Mr. Bock, it appears, was one of three witnesses who were asked by the committee to tell what they knew of the alleged infraction of rules. He says that he had no animus in the affair, and does not wish to be understood as in any way detracting from Williams' performance.

VILLISTA FORCE ATTACKS JIMENEZ

Unconfirmed Report Say Three Thousand Followers of the Bandit Make Attack.

VILLA SENDS REYES NOTE

El Paso, Tex., July 6.—Villistas pursuing their victory over Carranzistas at Corral ranch on July 4 have attacked Jimenez, according to reports reaching mining men here today. Military authorities in Juarez were unable to affirm or deny the reports, as all telegraph lines to the city had been cut.

Reports from Chihuahua City following the engagement at Corral said that the broken Carranzista command had retired to Jimenez, which is 120 miles south of Chihuahua City, and had been reinforced there by 2,000 men under General Domingo Arrieta. The Villista force are said to number 3,000.

Another report brought here today by an American who had extensive interests in southern Chihuahua, said that Francisco Villa recently sent a communication to Canuto Reyes, his former lieutenant, who was recently amnestiated by the de facto government, asking him to reconsider his decision. This message Reyes turned over to General Jacinto Trevino, Carranzista commander of the army of the north, it is said. The American asserted he had definite information that Villa at the time he sent for Reyes was at San Juan de Bavajal, about thirty miles south of Parral, and had with him 1,000 men.

Other persons arriving here today said they had heard reports that Villa was in command of the force which defeated the Carranzistas at Corral and that moving on to Jimenez, he had captured that city.

NEBRASKA GUARD STARTS TO LOAD BAGGAGE WAGONS up the matter of allowing Chaplain Leidy to go with his regiment upon his waiving rights to a pension because of the slight disability which was discovered when he was examined and will press the matter with the War department along with Senator Hitchcock, who has already been appealing to Speaker Clark sent the following letter to Chaplain Leidy which was received this morning at the camp:

"My Dear Brother Leidy: I will communicate with Senator Hitchcock at once and do all that I know to help you, as I have always had your very highest regard, and warmest friendship for you—ever since you went out in the hot summer sun and individually shaped up the limestone to go into your little church at Bowling Green.

"I will do all I can for you. Glad to do it. "CHAMP CLARK." Chaplain Leidy was formerly pastor of the church at Bowling Green, Ky., of which Champ Clark was a member.

Poucher Might Substitute. There may be no occasion for the appointment of a chaplain for the regiment if Chaplain Leidy fails to receive permission to qualify, as Captain John F. Poucher, the regimental adjutant, is a Methodist preacher and might possibly not object to preaching a sermon every Sunday so as not to recruit deserters sent out after Saturday night were called in after the orders to move were received last night. Those reporting so far have brought in from half a dozen to a dozen recruits. When the regiment starts it will probably have over 1,000 men.

Regimental Officers.

The Fourth infantry will be officered as follows: Colonel—George A. Eberly, Stanton. Lieutenant Colonel—W. E. Baehr, Omaha. First Battalion—Major Iver S. Johnson, Omaha. Second Battalion—Major Henning F. Elsasner, Omaha. Third Battalion—Major Robert G. Douglas, Osceola. Adjutant—Captain John F. Poucher, Omaha. Quartermaster—Captain W. E. Kelso, Winler. Commissary—Captain Dell F. Lough, Lincoln. J. S. A. P.—Captain George F. Smith, Lincoln. Captain—Company A, Omaha, Eugene T. Harris; Company B, Omaha, Charles Hamilton; Company C, Omaha, Irish E. Todd; Company D, Omaha, Frank C. Yates; Company E, Wayne, L. Burnham; Company K, Osceola, Charles W. Steele, David City; Company L, Kearney, Lynn J. Butcher; Company M, Kearney, George H. Holdeman; sanitary detachment, Fremont; Herbert H. Smith; Fourth Regimental band, Fremont; chief musician, Edward Quivron.

The signal company from Fremont will be in command of Captain Henry A. Lea of Fremont. Adjutant General Phil Hall has requested the War department to assign Lieutenant P. G. Wright to the Fourth infantry as instructor.

Guardsmen With Dependents Freed According to Order

Washington, D. C., July 6.—All army departmental commanders have been authorized by Secretary Baker to discharge enlisted men of the National Guard in the federal service who have one or more dependent relatives.

The order of the secretary of war follows: "Department commanders may issue discharges to enlisted men of the United States who are serving within their departments. Application for discharge must be made in due form through military channels to the department commanders that the applicant has one or more relatives depending on him for support.

"The application must be accompanied by adequate written evidence of real dependency. When it comes to the knowledge of the commanding officer through authentic sources that a soldier of his command has one or more dependent relatives, a soldier will be informed of his right to make application for his discharge and the discharge will be granted upon the application if warranted by circumstances.

"A desire to remain in the service and at the same time decline to allot any portion of the applicant's pay to his family or to dependents will be reported to the War department for final action.

"When an application for discharge is finally approved the proper recruiting agencies will be at once informed so that the vacancy may be filled promptly. Recruiting and mustering officers will be enjoined to avoid acceptance of recruits having relatives depending on them for support."

Tropical Storm Passes Inland

New Orleans, July 6.—The tropical hurricane which swept the Gulf coast yesterday and last night passed inland over southern Mississippi with much decreased intensity this morning, according to a weather bureau bulletin issued at 8:30 a. m. Pensacola, Fla., and other points on the Alabama and West Florida coasts still were cut off from communication and no information was available as to the damage worked by the wind, which at times reached a velocity of eighty miles an hour.

An unconfirmed report was received in Bay St. Louis, Miss., late today that several small schooners had gone down in the gulf off that point during the storm and that one schooner had aboard a crew of sixteen. Hattieburg reported great damage to growing corn and cotton in that vicinity. Thousands of trees were uprooted in the pine sections, causing heavy losses to lumber interests.

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots. How to Remove Easily.

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-Face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable dealer that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling. Simply get an ounce of ointment—double strength—from any druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than an ounce needed for the worst case. Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength ointment, as this is the preparation sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.—Advt.

DEMOS PUSHING GREAT REVENUE BILL IN CONGRESS

Bonds for Mexican Mix.

"We propose to finance any possible trouble with Mexico or any other nation, as this nation and all other nations have always financed such emergencies, by the issuance of bonds." Representative Fordney of Michigan, ranking republican member of the ways and means committee, attacking the proposal for a tax on incomes, declared the income tax was a burden being imposed on the northern states by the south. The twelve democratic states which control the democratic house caucus, he said, have 27 per cent of the country's population but pay only 6.4 per cent of the income tax.

Representative Hill of Connecticut, another republican, declared the bill "probably puts a heavier burden of taxation upon the American people than any other one measure in the history of the republic."

Delay Action on Training Resolution

New York, July 6.—The subject of military training in the public schools, which has been engrossing the delegates to the annual convention of the National Educational association, was held in abeyance today as far as official action was concerned. The convention will hear the report of the committee on resolutions tomorrow.

Dr. Woods Hutchinson, in an address to the department of child hygiene today, said military training in the schools "may prove the great emancipator to free our system of education from the clerical shackles and classical absurdities of the past and place it upon a hygienic basis." Educational preparation for foreign consuls and salaries and pensions of teachers were the subjects on today's program of the general session. Those who were to speak included David Starr Jordan, chancellor emeritus of Leland Stanford university.
