BRANDEIS TAKES BRIDE IN BOWER OF SPRING BLOOM

Ervine John Brandeis Weds Madeline Frank Amid a Riot of Beautiful Flowers.

NUPTIALS ARE NOTABLE

Few Guests at Wedding of Omaha Man to San Francisco Belle.

San Francisco, Jan. 28.—(Special Telegram.)—A veritable garden of springtime bloom seemed the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Frank on Webster street this evening, when their daughter, Miss Madeline Frank, became the bride of Ervine John Brandeis of Omaha. Never has there been a prettier setting for a wedding than this flower-decked drawing room, where every variety of delicate bloom the season has to offer were combined in an exceptionally graceful effect.

Aitar of Wonders.

An improvised altar on a raised platform was covered with a magnificent cloth of gold brocade, and was adorned with massive gold candelabra. At either side gold vases were filled with Russell roses, azaleas in the pink and deeper tone, lilies of the valley and hyacinths of many shades, their delicate colors blending exquisitely. A tall marble pedestal stood at each side of the altar and this was topped with an urn similar to those that decorated the altar and appeared the same riot of bloom. Throughout the room huge baskets and urns were filled to overflowing with daffodils, freesias, lilies of the valley, roses of many varieties, and the azalea, favorite of the season, the delicate beauty of the flowers brought out by combination with fernery.

Hall Heights Effect.

The hall was ablaze with flowering magnolia, that dainty rose-tinted blossom that abounds in the hills about San Francisco bay in the early spring, and that, even more than the masses of bloom in the drawing room, gave the house the effect of the out of doors. Through the other rooms of the beautiful residence a scheme similar to that of the drawing room was noted, even the tables at which supper was served having been decorated with this same collection of exquisite flowers.

The bride's table was arranged in the center of the dining room and was surrounded by small tables, each of which was adorned with a graceful gold bowl of flowers. The bride's table contained five bowls of Russell roses, azaleas, lilies of the valley and hyacinths intertwined with graceful garlands of dainty pink heather.

Bride Was Beautiful.

Miss Frank, who was given in marriage by her father, made an exceptionally lovely bride. One of the prettiest girls of San Francisco's younger set, her dainty coloring and graceful figure never were seen to better advantage as in her gown of white duchess satin. She is of the type that combines with fair skin brown hair and the clearest of gray eyes, and her slender lent itself well to the graceful lines of her beautiful gown. It was a Calot model of white duchess satin draped with Calot net and trimmed with point applique lace over silver lace. It was fashioned along the new princess lines, with its tulle overdress held in place by a girde of pearls which tied in front, the ends finishing in long tassels of pearls. The skirt was in the modish round length and the court train of satin extended from the shoulders, where it was finished in scarf effect, and was exceptionally long. Point applique lace adorned the waist, through which the silver pattern of the under lace showed, giving an effect of much richness.

Wears a Double Veil.

Miss Frank's wedding veil was a notable feature of her costume. Instead of confining herself to only one veil, as with the majority of brides, she wore two, the first of tulle and the second of exquisite lace, the latter draped over only one side of the tulle and falling low on the long court train. A wreath of orange blossoms field the veils to the cofure and there were also sprays of these blooms to catch the lace veil to the train. Her bouquet was also as novel as it was lovely, the exquisite sheld of white orchids having been held in a

FIRING THE DEADLY TRENCH MORTAR—One of the most deadly small weapons of the war is the trench mortar. It is small, but fires a large projectile, which usually does terrific damage. Because of the smallness of these weapons they are easily moved about and large numbers of them may be placed in the trenches.

ATTEMPT TO KILL THE KING OF SPAIN

Obstruction Placed on Track Over Which Sovereign Was to Travel.

DISCOVERED BY ENGINEER

Madrid (Via Paris), Jan. 28.—An attempt was made today to wreck a train on which King Alfonso was a passenger. The royal train was preceded by an freight train, the engine of which saw an obstacle on the track and removed it. Neither the royal train nor the freight suffered any damage. The spot chosen for the derailment of the royal train near Granada, Andalusia, was a particularly favorable one as the road here begins to run down grade. The police have arrested two men, on one of whom was found code letters from Bracelona.

Geneva, Switzerland (Via Paris), Jan. 28.—An unsuccessful attempt upon the life of King Alfonso of Spain was made today near Granada, Andalusia. Sister Mary Angela's New Play Draws Well and Pleases People

Sister Mary Angela's play closed a successful week with the final performance last evening. It drew splendid audiences throughout last week, being presented six nights and two matinees. It is a play without a name, a play whose scenes are laid in Nebraska in pioneer days, two of the acts taking place at the farm home of Grandma Allingham, near Alliance, Neb., and the other at a convent school for girls. Sister Mary Angela has written a play whose keynote is purity and idealism. If it is didactic at times, this does not detract from the continuity of the plot. And the play demonstrated the fact that audiences can be swayed by characters whose ideals are always high and whose purposes are noble without any intruding black-moustached villain. For there is no real villain in this play. The characters are all good people, from noble-minded Grandma

UNION PACIFIC TO SPEND A FORTUNE

Twenty-Three-Million for Rolling Stock and Improvements During Present Year.

NEBRASKA WILL GET SHARE

The first of the year the announcement was made at Union Pacific headquarters that during 1917 the company would spend $14,000,000 in carrying on new work and in betterments, the sum being divided as follows: New equipment, $7,000,000; new double track, $4,600,000; new shops, roundhouses, tools and machinery, $3,000,000.

Now, on top of all this comes the announcement through President Calvin that the directors have agreed upon an additional expenditure of $9,995,000, making a total of more than $23,000,000. The $9,995,000 is apportioned as follows: Millions for Improvements. New rails and fittings, $3,700,000; new sidings and industry tracks, $1,585,000; fuel and water stations, $815,000; block signal and interlocking plants, $235,000; bridges, trestles, viaducts and work incident to eliminating grade crossings, $600,000; miscellaneous improvements of general character, $2,160,000.

Of the $23,000,000, something like $12,000,000 will be spent in the different states through which the road operates. Of this sum, Nebraska will receive $2,710,000.

Besides the $23,000,000, the expenses of the Union Pacific normally are about $35,000,000 annually. This money is expended for the regular conduct of its business, operating expenses, maintenance, wages, fuel, supplies and taxes.

Senators Must Work at Night in Order to Catch Up

Washington, Jan. 28.—With less than thirty working days remaining in the life of the Sixty-fourth congress the democratic steering committee of the senate decided today to hold daily sessions of the senate from 11 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock at night, beginning Thursday, February 1.

The decision is to drive hard and fast on essential appropriations and the revenue bill and to undertake the big general administration measures one by one as time permits.

What general legislation is to be taken up first no member of the steering committee would say. The general understanding, however, is that the railroad labor bill will be considered as soon as the Indian appropriation bill is out of the way.

Another obstruction to business which democratic leaders fear is the urgent desire of republican senators to force discussion of President Wilson's peace address.

In the house this week the revenue fight will begin. The ways and means committee will meet tomorrow, when the entire membership for the first time will consider and pass upon the measure framed by Chairman Kitchin and his democratic colleagues.

Republican representatives will caucus probably Friday night on the legislative situation.

Women Lead Life of Shame Because They Prefer It

Former Police Judge Foster, speaking before the Omaha Philosophical Society on the "Problem of Municipal Time and Crime," said that "women lead a life of shame because they want to, not because of any outside influence." In all the years that he had been on the police bench he said, no woman had ever asked for a job to better her condition. "They all preferred a life of shame to respectable work."

The main cause of crime, the speaker said was laziness. People wanted to make "easy money" without working for it.

"I know the feeling and condition of the poor people that have faced me. I know what it is to be a laboring man," he said in answer to a question that he had been out of sympathy with the people brought before him. "I have cleaned spittoons and scrubbed floors and know what it is to be a working man."

Divorce Bill Will Bar Early Remarriage

Cheyenne, Wyo., Jan. 28.—(Special.)—That Wyoming soon will have a divorce law which will bar remarriage in the present prohibition against the marriage in this state of any persons from another state who have been divorced within a year, effectually will prevent Wyomingites from marrying within one year of the hearing of a divorce action, is indicated by the attitude of the legislature to senate file No. 10, providing that a decree of divorce shall not issue until one year has elapsed after the trial of the cause. The bill, which was on second reading in the house Saturday, is without opposition.

Declares Canadians "The Real Americans"

New York, Jan. 28.—Sir Thomas White, Canadian minister of finance, at a dinner of the Canadian society here tonight asserted that "Anglo-Saxon freedom and Prussian militarism cannot both survive."

Dr. Charles A. Eaton, president of the Canadian society and pastor of the Madison Avenue Baptist church of New York, declared: "We Canadians are today the real Americans on this continent. We are not too proud to fight. We do not believe that Belgium and Germany are fighting for the same thing. We do not believe in peace without victory. We are the quintessence of Americanism today. We are fighting for a peace with victory and honor."

BUILD NEW CHURCH IN WALNUT HILL

Such Is the Plan of Methodist Church People Who Paid Debts Yesterday.

TALK ON SPIRIT OF GOD

Rev. Oliver Keve, at Walnut Hill Methodist church yesterday morning preached from a dual text, "Quench not the spirit" and "Be filled with the spirit," these being the words of St. Paul to the Thessalonians and the Ephesians, respectively. "Most important in a church," said Rev. Mr. Keve, "is the presence of the spirit of God. This is more important than a fine building or fancy music or a big income. Paul knew the danger of a quenching of the spirit of God and therefore he warned the Thessalonians. 'Many Christian people fail to gather all the richness of the blessing offered them. They are not filled with the spirit.' They are satisfied to skim along the top of the ocean of blessings instead of plunging into it and feeling its full glory."

A movement was started recently to teach more people the "victory life." It is directed particularly toward people who are nominally good Christians but who are not feeling the full blessing—the calm and peace that passeth understanding.

"When they realize this and just lose themselves in His love, they are filled with the spirit. And when they are a blessing to others, for the spirit that is in them spreads its radiance all about them in a multitude of kind deeds and words."

Wipe Out Debt.

Yesterday was a big day at Walnut Hill church. A debt that has hung over the church for several years was attacked and practically wiped out. It was $5,500. Mr. Fritscher made a strong appeal at the morning service, showing the duty of the members in this respect and making some surprising calculations of the power of such small coins as half-dollars, if they are regularly laid aside and added to one another.

"If you put aside 50 cents every week day and $1 every Sunday from now until August 1 the amount will be $100," he said. "There are few families in the Walnut Hill church that cannot do it."

Eleven teams met at the church in the afternoon and then went out and made an every-member canvass, with the splendid results mentioned. The pledged amounts are all to be paid by August 1.

A $40,000 church on the present site is the congregation's hope for some time in the not very distant future.

No Further Disturbances at Ruby, Ariz., Where Cowboys Battled Mexicans.

RAIDER LEAVES RED TRAIL

Washington, Jan. 28.—Orders for the withdrawal of American troops from Mexico were officially announced today by the War department with the statement that the northward movement of General Pershing's men began early this morning with the evacuation of Colonia Dublan. All Quiet at Ruby. Nogales, Ariz., Jan. 28.—No disturbances were reported here today from Ruby, Ariz., following a two days' shooting fracas between American cowboys, backed by guardsmen, and Mexican unarmamented sympathies, with no known fatalities. No American was reported hurt, but blood spatters left by retreating Mexicans led to the belief that one of them was wounded.

The trouble is said to have started by an attempt by American cowboys to round up some cattle near the line. Riot at Border Bridge. El Paso, Tex., Jan. 28.—A misunderstanding over quarantine regulations led to a riot today at the Juarez end of the main international bridge which threatened for a time to assume dangerous proportions. Energetic measures taken by the Carranza garrison and conference between the American and Mexican immigration officials later brought an arrangement satisfactory to the Mexicans and quiet was restored.

Lafe Young Tells Preparedness Crowd To Be All American

Washington, Jan. 28.—Emphatic approval of a broad scheme of national defense was given unanimously yesterday by the Congress of Constructive Patriotism at the closing business session of its meeting here under the auspices of the National Security League. In a statement of principles the congress declared for universal military training, for restoration of the navy to second place in the Atlantic and first place in the Pacific, for development of American woman power, for a nation-wide campaign for patriotism through education and for effective Americanization efforts to destroy dual citizenship.

Tonight the meeting came to an end with a banquet attended by more than 800 delegates, who heard addresses by Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary, Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the senate military committee; former Senator Lafayette Young of Iowa and George W. Wickersham, former attorney general. Admiral Peary outlined a program for developing air power for defense and reviewed the part air attacks have had in the fighting of the present war.

Former Senator Young pleaded for national efforts to weld the country into one nation. He urged that every practice of accepting foreign fashions and views, from philosophy to music and women's dresses, be discouraged, and that no immigrant be admitted to citizenship until his every qualification had been adequately tested.

Hearing on Omaha Charter Amendments Thursday

A hearing on the proposed Omaha charter amendments will be held at Lincoln Thursday night in the house of representatives before the committee of the house on cities and towns. It is said that considerable interest is being worked up over these proposed changes and that members of the Commercial club are split, the improvement clubs are divided, but that the city commissioners are practically a unit on what they want. The commissioners and members of the City Planning board plan to attend the meeting Thursday night.

Falis City Man Kills Self After the Third Attempt

Falls City, Neb., Jan. 28.—(Special.)—Gus Reuge, who has been employed at the hospital for the insane at Ingleside for some time, came to the home of his father, Henry Reuge, and ended his life with the shot of a pistol. There was no one at home at the time of the shooting, but the father went home at noon and found the body and the revolver still in his hand. This is the third attempt to take his life. He has been in poor health for a number of years and at times became very despondent over his condition.
