Try the noonday 35-cent luncheon at the Empress Garden, amidst pleasant surroundings, music and entertainment—Advertisement.

Residence Robbed—Burglars entered the home of C. Scriber, 229 North Twenty-fifth street, Tuesday night and made off with $11.50 and a watch and chain.

Wants Custody of Children—Thomas G. Clark, answering and filing a cross-petition to the divorce suit brought by his wife, Ethel Clark, alleges misconduct and asks the court for the custody of two children.

Goes to Casper Bank—Edwin K. Pearce, a clerk in the Omaha National bank for some time past, has accepted a position with the Casper National bank, Casper, Wyo. He is a son of Harry Pearce, county registrar of deeds.

Carey's Divorced—The Carey Cleaning company, Webster 292, has forever divorced cheap and inferior cleaning of all kinds. Beware of the dirty sponge and dishrag, hole-in-the-wall cleaner. We press suits sanitariously for 55 cents. Free delivery.

Scaffold Falls—A scaffold on which W. W. Cramer, 2016 Lake, and D. J. Smith, 1408 Jaynes street, were working fell Tuesday afternoon, throwing the men twenty feet to the ground. They were bruised and badly shaken up. They were engaged in the construction of the Harford Memorial hospital at Eighteenth and Lothrop.

To Reappraise Lands—County Clerk Dewey received a letter from the State Board of Land Commissioners requesting him to have 176 acres of state lands near Valley reappraised. These lands are leased by the state to private individuals. The leases are expiring and the state wants a new valuation placed upon them.

Has Bone to Pick—The New Omaha Improvement club has several "bones to pick" with the city commission. A meeting of the club was held at Forty-eighth street and Military avenue Tuesday night and decisions were made to interview the council on respecting Military avenue from Forty-eighth to Fifty-second, weed cutting and garbage hauling.

Chickens Prove Expensive—Six chickens, valued at $1.50 each, cost John Payne, colored, $50 and costs in police court. William Mohar, 1327 North Nineteenth, complained to the police that six of his chickens were missing. An officer saw John with an incriminating gunny sack over his shoulder and on examination found in the sack six chickens that John didn't know he had.

Max Faier Pleads Guilty
In Middle of His Trial

Max Y. Faier, in the midst of his trial in federal court on the charge of using the mails to defraud, decided to plead guilty to the charge. He was sentenced by Judge Woodrough to a year and a day in the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan.

The government's evidence against Faier, who lives at 2430 Franklin street, piled up so rapidly that it surprised Faier's attorney and when thirteen of the biggest government witnesses were still to be heard, he gave up the effort and Faier entered his plea of guilty.

Witnesses were brought by the government from all over the United States. They were principally fishermen and fish dealers. Faier, the evidence showed, used the same scheme on all. He would enclose, as if by mistake, a check made out to some other person, with his order for fish. The fish would be shipped to him and the check returned with a polite note stating that the recipient saw how the mistake had happened on the part of some clerk in Faier's employ. Faier's only headquarters were the little cottage where he lived.

Seven Die When Steamer
Is Wrecked in Lake Storm

Ortonville, Minn., July 11.—Seven persons are believed to have lost their lives last night when the excursion steamer Muskegon was wrecked on Big Stone lake near here during a heavy storm.

Two of the nine persons known to have been on the boat were found on the shore of the lake. No trace of the others had been found late tonight and it is believed they were drowned.

SAYS DOCTOR-WIFE THREATENED LIFE

Prominent Woman Physician Corroborates Allegations of Husband that She Drew Gun on Him.

Dr. Mattie L. Arthur, prominent Omaha woman physician, testifying in divorce court before Judge Sears in the suit brought by her husband, John G. Arthur, aged lawyer, declared the only item which he had contributed toward upkeep of their home in the last thirty years was five bushels of potatoes, which, she said, he bought in 1888.

"That was the last time J. G. Arthur ever contributed a penny into the home. I've paid the bills since," she testified, leaning forward in the witness box and directing her gaze at her husband, who sat across the court room, flanked on both sides by attorneys.

"No, I'll take that back," interposed Dr. Arthur a moment later as one of her attorneys resumed cross-examination.

"Some time in the '90s I believe he did bring home a package of breakfast food, the kind he liked particularly, one day. And I think he bought a loaf of bread on another occasion. But that is all."

Arthur, now an inmate of the Florence House of Hope, is suing Dr. Arthur on grounds of alleged cruelty. He alleges she stripped him of what wealth he had and then compelled him to leave their home at 1333 South Thirty-third street.

Makes Counter Allegations.
Dr. Arthur makes counter allegations her husband has "sponged" off her practically all of their married life. She also says he never told her of a former marriage and the existence of a grown daughter until recent years.

Arthur alleged in his petition his wife threatened to kill him.

She told of the episode in her testimony today.

"I had discovered he had been previously married when I was married to him at Oakland, Neb., in 1880.

"On April 4, 1915, I walked into a room where he was and locked the door.

"I laid a revolver cross my lap and said:

"'J. G., d— you, if you don't tell me where and when you were married I'll blow your contemptible brains out.'

"Then he said, 'I guess I can die.' I told him he didn't need to die; all he had to do was to tell me when and where he was married."

The suit has attracted large crowds of court room spectators, mostly women.

Red Cross Activities

Paint Film by Hand—A special feature of the war film, "The Battle of Amere," which will be shown next week for the benefit of the Red Cross ambulance company, is a series of pictures hand colored by wounded American soldiers. These crippled men, who are employed by the Pathé Film company in Paris, color the pictures by hand. For example, in a picture of a flag which is flashed on the screen each foot of the film requires twenty flags, which makes hundred to be hand colored for only one picture.

Auxiliary Meets—Mrs. E. E. Crane is chairman of the Carter Lake Red Cross auxiliary, which met this afternoon for the first time.

Present Gala Appearance—Red Cross headquarters present a gala appearance now with numerous American can flags, Red Cross emblems and several large Red Cross pictures. A long distance telephone was installed today and the work is gradually taking shape, so that before long definite plans for the organization in the state will be perfected.

Vendors at Band Concert—A number of the young girls in Red Cross nurse costumes who will act as vendors at the band concert in Bemis park tonight are as follows: Lucille Rector, Edna Birss, Helen Pogue, Stella Holmquist, Dorothy Pogue, June Gafford and Olga Skimmerhorn. Mrs. E. T. Rector, Mrs. J. J. Gafford, Mrs. F. Pogue, Mrs. W. H. Stribling and Mrs. Herbert Wing will be in charge of the three booths. The proceeds of the sale will go to the Bemis Park Red Cross auxiliary to purchase hospital supplies.

Make Hospital Supplies—Mrs. J. W. Maynard and Mrs. A. Traynor are in charge of the Union Pacific Red Cross auxiliary, which will meet at Mr. Maynard's office in the Union Pacific building to make hospital supplies. Thirty members were present at the organization meeting Tuesday.

THE "COME-BACK"

The "Come-back" man was really never down-and-out. His weakened condition because of over-work, lack of exercise, improper eating and living demands stimulation to satisfy the cry for a health-giving appetite and the refreshing sleep essential to strength. GOLD MEDAL Haazlen Oil Capsules, the National Remedy of Holland, will do the work. They are wonderful. Three of these capsules each day will put a man on his feet before he knows it; whether his trouble comes from uric acid poisoning, the kidneys, gravel or stone in the bladder, stomach derangement or other ailments that beset the over-sensuous American. Don't wait until you are entirely down-and-out, but take them today. Your druggist will gladly refund your money if they do not help you. Accept no substitutes. Look for the name GOLD MEDAL on every box. Three sizes. They are the pure, original imported Haazlen Oil Capsules.—Advertisement.
