Realtors Return From Milwaukee National Meet

Byron R. Hastings and John W. Robbins, prominent realtors, returned Saturday from their attendance at the annual convention of the National Association of Real Estates boards. which met at Milwaukee the last week. Mr. Hastings, who has been at all ten conventions except one, thinks this convention was in many respect: the best, the program being of a practical nature and the papers and addresses of a high order. The paper, which seemed to take the best, was one on "financing, building and selling houses," by Ross W. Cheek of Columbus, O. The conference on this topic was very practical and so popular that it was difficult to get away from it.

The Omaha Board in its introduction of a movement to secure the standardization of conveyancing in the different cities, met with hearty applause and the resolutions adopted by the Omaha board were practically adopted by the national convention. The committee which will have charge of pushing this scheme will be com-bosed of Frank H. Myers, Omaha, hairman; John Kane, Pittsburgh, and Dean Vincent, Portland, Ore.

Realty Firm Changes Name, Taking in Their Treasurer

The firm of realtors, Jeff W. Bedford & Son, has recently been reorganized and the name changed to Bedford-Johnston company.

Jeff W. Bedford & Son have been in the real estate and insurance business for over ten years, and have taken part in a number of Omaha's nost important developments. They have platted and entirely sold out a number of high class additions, among which are Upland Terrace, an addition of acre lots west of Miller park, which sold for about $1,200 per acre in 1908 and 1909, and some of which have recently been sold for which have recently been sold for sold by extended the scope of the censorship. on the market Virginia Place and Marietta Place, lying south and west of Hanscom park, as well as Druid Hill addition, consisting of 215 lots, owned by the First National Bank prisonment and a fine of 10,000 rubles. and sold out in two days time.

B. Johnston has been with Jeff W. Bedford & Son for the past two years in the capacity of secretarytreasurer, and it has been thought wise to change the firm's name to include Mr. Johnston.

the women themselves for decision. In Canada, while antis were quietly prosecuting their work, the suffragists were busy circulating peti-tions for 'votes for women.' This appears to be their war work everywhere. The motto of anti-suffragists is 'America first.' The suffrage slogan is 'suffrage first.' Which is more patriotic? We leave the question to the fair-minded men to decide."

Fon Political Capital.

War bread and "meatless days" have been adopted by leading hotels iere.

The Hotel Fontenelle and the Blackstone had their "meatless day" Friday, and until the end of the war, Friday will always be meatless day. War bread was served at the Hotel Fontenelle last Thursday for the first time, and is being taken up at other hotels too.

J. F. Letton, manager of the Fontenelle, and president of the Omaha Hotel Men's association, says before the end of the week, "war-bread" will be found on the menus of every hotel and restuarant in Omaha, and that meatless days will doubtless follow in the restaurants as well as the ho-
