But when T. E. Brady of the Fourth district board talked to him and showed him where his duty lay and appealed to his better qualities Solotaroff determined to return to his new country, as he called it, and fight for it to the best of his abilities.

Familiar Face of Sculptor's Model Seen on Omaha Streets

"Where have I seen that face before?" Passersby who bought tickets for the Omaha ambulance mess fund benefit Saturday from a picturesque soldier who stood barking his wares on the steps of the ambulance at Sixteenth and Farnam streets were puzzled. There was a strangely familiar look about him.

Had they opened their pocket-books they might have found the reason. For Sergeant R. G. Harper, sculptor and model for all the famous American artists for fifteen years, is the original of the Indian face on the Buffalo nickel.

Sergeant Harper plans, after the war, to commemorate the great world clash in a series of striking sculptures. Just what they will be he does not know now.

"You see," he explained, "art, like everything else, is getting a rebirth in this w-r. It will be a new art, cleansed and strengthened, that will come forth from the ashes of the old."

"I want to depict the war as it is over there, not as I imagine it now. My work will show symbolism, with new features. There are the airplanes, for instance, never before used in warfare. I want to show them in their form and their effect on the world."

Harry McGowan, 2328 Poppleton Ave. Morris Solotaroff, 1026 Park Ave. Frank Rynesh, 610 William. Antonio Piaschi, 1212 Pine. Gilbert H. Guss, 2909 S. 18th. John J. Frayser, 2106 S. 40th. Elmer J. war I will remain and study with Rodin, the greatest European sculptor." Sergeant Harper has in mind a tablet to commemorate the soldiers of Blair, Neb., where he has lived so long. He will design it and have it struck, then present it to Blair to commemorate the soldiers who go from that town to the front.

He has also designed a statue for the Red Cross here showing a wounded soldier. Over both is a great protecting wing. This is to be cast in plaster and bronze and models sold for the benefit of the Red Cross here.

NEAL IN OMAHA TO CONTROL GRAIN

Food Administrator in Charge of Nebraska Zone Under Hoover Opens Office in Grain Exchange.

Charles T. Neal, who has been appointed agent in the Omaha zone of the Food Administration Grain corporation, has arrived in Omaha to organize for the important work of administering and distributing wheat and other grains.

He has temporary quarters in the office of Frank Manchester, secretary of the Omaha Grain exchange, and will lease permanent quarters and proceed to the organization of the work at once.

Mr. Neal was appointed by Herbert Hoover, national food administrator. He will have charge of the Omaha zone, which includes Nebraska, Wyoming and part of Colorado. The corporation has power to control grains, particularly wheat. The country is divided into fourteen zones for this purpose.

Enormous Wheat Shortage. "There is no doubt that we are facing an enormous shortage in wheat," Mr. Neal said. "But by careful conservation of the supply and substitution of corn and other cereals in our food, we will be able to bridge over this season. Next year we hope to have a bumper wheat crop."

Guaranteeing of a minimum price of $2 a bushel for next year's wheat will result in a great acreage being sown. A commission is now at work fixing an arbitrary price for wheat this year. "The organization of the food administration's grain corporation has gone forward with great rapidity and the results will be felt by the public before long."

Lower Bread Prices. Asked whether the result would soon be seen in a reduced price of bread, Mr. Neal said: "I don't see why it shouldn't."

Mr. Neal came here from Kansas City, where he was engaged in the grain business ten years. Before that he was in the grain business in Lincoln. He is familiar with every phase of the work which he has undertaken for the government.

Man Arrested in Yards On Charge of Insanity. Jacob Schwartz, 68 years old, was found wandering in the railroad yards near Fourteenth and Grace streets Monday morning and is being held by the police, who believe he is insane.

A switching crew in the yard found the old man too agile for them to capture, and it was not until the police car with three policemen reached the scene that he could be apprehended.

Omaha Newspaper Man Joins Aviation Corps. Theodore R. Palm, for the last three years a member of the advertising department of the Twentieth Century Farmer, has heard the call of the army and will leave Wednesday night for Fort Logan, Colo. He enlisted in the aviation corps.

Work on Belt Line Track Elevation is Being Pushed

Work on the elevation of the tracks of the Belt Line of the Missouri Pacific is progressing at such a rapid rate that the contractors are of the opinion that their task will be completed before cold weather sets in. Piling for the elevated track has been driven along the stretch from Jones, north to Farnam street. Filling has started and is keeping the pile drivers hustling to keep out of the way. Two construction trains are being used in hauling dirt from the excavation in the vicinity of Howard street.

Wheat Prices Advance: Corn and Oats Lower

Owing to a demand coming from the millers, wheat on the Omaha market advanced 2 to 5 cents over the prices of Saturday, selling at $2.20 and $2.30 a bushel. The receipts were ten carloads. Corn continued its downward course, selling off 5 cents and at $1.58 and $1.65 a bushel. Receipts were 164 carloads.

Oats were off a couple of cents, selling at $1.74 and $2.34 cents a bushel. Receipts were 101 carloads.

Canadians and Britons Seek Military Status

Alien Canadians and Britons have besieged the naturalization office in the court house the last few days seeking information on their status for military duty. Many of them have taken out their first papers, while others have only declared their intention of becoming American citizens. It is believed the rush was inspired by the presence in Omaha of Captain Finn, head of the British recruiting mission.

"Spur" Society Gives Monthly Entertainment

Members of the "Spur" society, employees of the Blackstone hotel, held their monthly entertainment Sunday evening at the hotel. Representing many different nationalities, great talent has been discovered in the society. Zither, vocal and other solos and readings were given by members in the ball room where the Blackstone orchestra played, and refreshments were served in the national room. "Spur" members also edit a monthly paper. The attendance was 127.

Dark Days for Schreiber Before He Leaves Omaha

The last days of the regime of Karl F. Schreiber as superintendent of the Board of Public Welfare are overhung with dark clouds. Mr. Schreiber will leave on August 31.

The situation grew so aggravated that the board held a special meeting to discuss the status, but no action was taken and none seemed to know anything particularly definite regarding rumors which have been flying thick and fast through the city hall.

The members of the board wanted to trace to its source a propaganda of gossip which has been given quite an impetus, involving attaches of the welfare office.

"Somebody told somebody that somebody said to somebody that somebody said this or that," is about the way this gossip panned out when traced back.

An estrangement between two of the office staff of the welfare board office is another feature of the situation.

Charges of Manslaughter Are Filled Against Thrane

At the coroner's inquest held Monday, it was recommended that C. C. Thrane, 3345 Harney street, be held for further investigation in connection with the death of Jerome Burger, 2907 1/2 Dodge street, the 2-year-old tot who was struck and instantly killed by Thrane's automobile at Thirty-fifth and Dewey avenue Saturday night.

County Attorney Magney immediately announced that he would file charges of manslaughter against Thrane. The preliminary hearing will be in police court Tuesday morning.

According to eye witnesses of the accident the little boy was playing along the sidewalk about fifteen feet behind his mother and had either fallen or was lying in the grass in play when Thrane turned his car over the sidewalk in order to park in a vacant lot on the corner.

Government Advises Against Buying Land

United States Attorney Allen has received word from the Department of the Interior at Washington, warning people to beware of persons who claim to be able to sell them preferred rights in the land grants of the Oregon & California Railroad company.

Title to these lands was re-vested in the United States a year ago and the supreme court has upheld the act of re-vestment. But the government states that no action can be taken in disposing of the lands until all provisions of the act have been carried out, which will not be for some time. Meanwhile there is no way in which any person can get preferred rights to claims on these lands.

Grain Stored in Omaha Continues to Decrease

Grain stocks in storage in Omaha elevators continue to decrease, at this time being 2,094,000 bushels less than on the corresponding date of one year ago. The report of the inspection bureau indicates the bushels of each kind of grain in storage now and on this date last year:

Table with 3 columns: Grain Type, Now, Year Ago. Rows include Wheat, Corn, Oats, Rye, Barley, and Totals.

From now on an increase is expected in the quantity of oats coming to market and later on in the corn. No increase is anticipated in wheat, it being understood that a large number of farmers are selling their surplus for seed.

Local Building Owners to Be Hosts for Delegates

The Building Owners' and Managers' association in Omaha will take care of all expenses for the entertainment of the delegates to the National Convention of Building Owners and Managers to be held in Omaha September 10 to 13.

Ernest Sweet, chairman of the finance committee of the local organization, announced at the last meeting that an ample fund has been raised to cover the expenses.

Arranging to Adjust Belt Line Situation

Attorney T. J. Nolan, appearing before the city council committee of the whole on behalf of T. C. Havens company, stated that within the week arrangements may be made to adjust the Belt line industrial track situation.

The council agreed to postpone final action until next Monday morning. Dundee citizens are insisting that there shall be no surface tracks in connection with the track elevation at Farnam, Douglas and Dodge streets.

Owners of certain industries contend that elimination of a surface switch track will spell ruin for them.

The sentiment of the city council seems to favor elimination of all surface tracks at Dodge, Farnam and Douglas streets.

Soldiers Attend Services At Benson Methodist Church

Thirty-eight soldiers, from Fort Omaha attended services Sunday in the Benson Methodist church by special invitation. This was the result of special musical entertainments which are being given at the fort every Friday evening by the church choir of the city. The Benson Methodist choir gave the entertainment last Friday night.

Soldiers are invited to express a desire to attend services the following Sunday and then automobiles are sent for them. Twenty-four of the soldiers accepted invitations to stay to dinner with members of the Benson church. The work is being done under direction of the Omaha Church federation.

Quinby, chairman of the executive committee of the society. The chief has been requested to direct his men to arrest persons who make public utterances of a treasonable nature.

Alkali in Soap Bad For the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary sulfisated cocconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly and it leaves the scalp soft and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

TODAY'S AID TO BEAUTY

Hair is by far the most conspicuous thing about us and is probably the most easily damaged by bad or careless treatment. If we are very careful in hair washing we will have virtually no hair troubles.

An especially fine shampoo for this weather, one that brings out all the natural beauty of the hair, that dissolves and entirely removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt, can easily be used at trifling expense by simply dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox (which you can get at any druggists) in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head.

This chemical dissolves all impurities and creates a soothing, cooling lather. Rinsing leaves the scalp spotlessly clean, soft and pliant, while the hair takes on the glossy richness of natural color; also a fluffiness which makes it seem much heavier than it is. After a canthrox shampoo, arranging the hair is a pleasure.—Adv.
