Women Attend Horse Races. -

King Horse comes into his own today and will hold the boards at the Benson track for the rest of the week. A number of box parties and many in the grandstand have been arranged, but, the society recorder must mournfully relate, the Benson track will not yet this year take on the appearance of a Kentucky derby, for instance, with its large attendance by the feminine contingent.

While society women will accompany their husbands, who are more interested in horses, to the races, only those women who own their own horses or are particularly interested in sports are among those to make up parties for the races.

Eastern women, too, evince a greater interest in the races. Mrs. Raymond Caldwell of Mansfield, O., who is here with her husband on a business trip, entertained a party of women at luncheon at the Fontenelle, preceding the opening races. Mrs. C. W. Nelson and Mrs. H. W. House-holder, wife of Dr. Householder of Marshalltown, Ia., are two more outof-town women interested in the big event who have come down to Omaha especially for it. Their husbands have horses entered in several events. The two visitors, Mrs. Charles Reese, Mrs. L. A. Dermody, Mrs. O. M. Smith and Miss Edna Peterson were included in Mrs. Caldwell's luncheon party. At the races afterward Miss Peterson had the Misses Louise and Irene Cotter, as well as her Marshalltown guests, in her box, while Mrs. Smith had others of the party in her box.

Both Mrs. Smith and Miss Peterson will entertain parties of women in their box every day of the races. Mrs. Charles E. Reese also is to make up a party for the races later in the

The Dramatic Mirror carries news of the rise of an Omaha lad, Edward B. Perkins, from press agent for the Shuberts to a producer. Mr. Perkins was formerly on The Bee editorial

"Edward B. Perkins, once a newspaper man, but hitherto unknown in the show business, announces the production of a musical comedy, as yet unnamed, by Val Crawford, a protege of the late C. M. S. McLellen. The lyrics are by Schuyter Greene and Silvio Hein has composed the music. Klaw & Erlanger have already arranged an out-of-town opening in September, with a New York engagement to follow. The production is to be most elaborate and it is stated that is almost ready for presentation. Mr. Perkins has opened offices in the Fitzgerald building," according to the theatrical paper.

Women Pass Auto Exams.

Eight members of Mrs. E. S. Westbrook's motor mechanics class of the National League for Woman Service passed their examinations with very good grades, Mrs. Westbrook announces, and have received a diploma for their course.

The women are now qualified to serve the government as motor drivers should their services be required," said Mrs. Westbrook.

Mrs. Harry Montgomery, Mrs. Ernest T. Manning, Mrs. O. S. Goodrich, Miss Ruth Arnstein, Mrs. Harry Jor-dan, Mrs. Samuel Burns, Mrs. J. F. Murphy and Mrs. Westbrook made up the class.

Mr. Morley of the Nebraska Automobile school gave the tests.

Second Place for Conserving Fruits and Vegetables is Opened in South Side High School.

SOUTH SIDE OPENS

The second food drying plant in the city of Omaha was opened Monday evening in the South Side High school gymnasium. Mayor Dahlman turned on the switch.

Prof. C. W. Pugsley of the extension department of the state agricultural college was in charge of the slicing machine and Principal Edward Huwaldt of South Side High school pushed the trays, taking the second step in the nation-wide food conseryation plan.

An interested crowd of seventy-five men and women gave close attention to the different numbers of the program and contributed food and vegetables to keep the new machine in

Prof. Pugsley contrasted the different methods of drying food, the sun method, the artificial heat method and the air current method. Once a day is sufficient. A small amount of meat may be combined with some other food, furnishing a heartier dish, the whole of which is flavored with the meat, as in meat pies, stews, etc. In combining meat with some preparation of rice, flour, potato, hominy or some other starchy food, we obtain a dish that comes nearer than meat alone to being a perfectly balanced ration. A great deal can be saved by using bone, trimming, fat and scraps usually thrown away. Make the butcher give you the trimmings from the piece you buy. You pay for them, and hence they belong to you. The bone and trimmings may be used for soup stead of butter in the crust of meat pie, etc. Practically all left-over meat can be prepared and served in some appetizing manner.

Just as much nourishment is obtained from the less expensive cuts of meat- the shank, brisket, shoulder, chuck, flank and plate of beef-as from the more expensive steaks and roasts. Properly prepared, these cuts are most appetizing. However, no matter what the cost of the meatwhether it is the cheapest variety or the choicest steak-it cannot be used to its best advantage unless it is properly cooked; poorly prepared meat is a waste. The chief difficulties met with in toughness and lack of flavor. Pounding, scoring and chopping breaks the tough muscle fibers and long cooking just below the boiling point (after the first ten minutes) will make even the toughest of meats tender. #### From Healthy Cows To Sterilized Bottles

The best milk can be produced only on farms of plentiful pasturage and by strong, healthy herds. It's important also to have reach consumers quickly.

Alamito Pasteurized comes from the large, fertile farms of Douglas, Washington and Sarpy Counties. It's the abundant flow of well-cared-for cows that roam contentedly in roomy pastures, away from the noise and smoke of suburban districts. Our years of experience taught us how to get this milk to our customers with all possible rapidity and sanitation. Over twenty large auto trucks bring it daily from the country to our modern plant. There it's pasteurized—the last possible step towards purity
