Only One Omaha Theater Didn't Disregard the Law

On complaint of State Fire Warden W. S. Ridgel, Assistant Chief of Police M. F. Dempsey will station police officers at all theaters to enforce the state law prohibiting theaters from selling standing room. Complaints have been frequent that standing room has been sold on Saturday and Sunday nights.

Sunday night Ridgel visited local theaters and found but one theater that refused to sell standing room. He immediately took the matter up with the various managers and they agreed to abide by the law.

One theater manager has been fined for non-observance of the law. The officers will be stationed as a matter of precaution in order that patrons may know that there is no discrimination and to aid the theaters in avoiding crowds.

Future violations will be prosecuted by both city and state officer. The fire warden warned theater managers.

Wife Bought for $900 Leaves Lover for Husband

Freedom with her husband or jail with her lover was the problem Mary Pop, the 26-year-old Hungarian girl had to face in police court. For several minutes she stood looking at her lover and, turning to the court, she pointed at her husband.

"I'll go home with him," she whispered. Her lover, with tears streaming down his face, turned his head as the fateful choice was made.

When arrested she alleged that Pop had sold her to Louis Lukias, with whom she was arrested, and that he had been good to her and her two children. The purchase price was said to have been $30.

Pop denies that he sold his wife, but asserts he bought her for $900 in Canton, O., and then married her. They have been living in Akron, O. "I love her, too," Pop said.

This step was decided upon today after a motion to that effect had been made by George W. Wickersham, former United States attorney general, a member of the board.

The question came up on appeal of Thomas W. Farrell, who asked exemption on the ground of a dependent widowed mother. It was shown that the family possesses about $1,000,000 and that the son has been looking after the estate. Two of his brothers are volunteer soldiers in the army and another brother was rejected for physical disability.

ASKS TWO MILLION BONDS FOR SCHOOLS

Board of Education to Submit Building Program that Will Cost City of Omaha Huge Sum.

Details of School Board's New Building Plans

Table with 2 columns: Buildings, Estimated Cost. Includes North High, 24th and Fowler Ave. ($600,000), Commercial-Technical High 22d and Chicago ($750,000), Intermediate or Junior High 24th and Corby ($250,000), Minne Lusa Grade, Minne Lusa addition ($120,000), Walnut Hill Grade, some central site ($125,000), Dundee school ($20,000), Appropriation for athletic fields and equipment ($150,000).

Endorsed by All Members. A building program of startling dimensions calling for a $2,000,000 bond issue was unanimously endorsed by the Board of Education at its regular meeting Monday night and a preliminary resolution that the matter be put before the voters of the Omaha School District at a special election in the near future was adopted.

The suggested bond issue will be devoted to carrying out an extensive school building and equipment program of a character such as to completely modernize and reorganize Omaha's secondary school system. The rate on the portion of the proposed bonds issued, at the present time at least, would probably be in the neighborhood of 5 per cent. They could be issued for any period "not exceeding thirty years."

Result of Long Study. This step was taken by the Board of Education after months of careful study and compilation of data showing Omaha's needs and practical ways of meeting them and following a general way the recommendations of Dr. Strayer, the Educational expert from Columbia, who went over the situation in Omaha at the instigation of the board some time ago.

The program finally endorsed by the board, however, is founded directly upon the report submitted by Superintendent of Schools J. H. Beveridge and carries with it reorganization and improvement measures of a striking character.

Three New Units. A commercial-technical high school, proposed for erection on an available site, possibly Twenty-second and Chicago streets; a North Side high school at Twenty-second and Fowler avenue, and an intermediate or junior high school at Twenty-fourth and Corby, are three of the important additions to Omaha's secondary school equipment which will be made possible by the suggested bond issue.

The issue will also provide for the erection of grade school buildings at Minne Lusa, Walnut Hill, and Dundee, and includes an estimate of $150,000 for athletic fields and equipment.

Technical High School. The commercial-technical high school, is to be built at an estimated cost of $750,000, is designed to furnish a means of giving a thorough and specialized high school training in commercial and technical callings for pupils of high school ages who desire to engage in business or industrial pursuits. There are many of this class who otherwise can receive that training only by serving a sort of apprenticeship in their several lines after graduating from the general high school as it is under the present system.

Supt. Beveridge Talks. "There is an alarming falling off in the number of pupils registered in the upper classes of the high school as against the number originally in the freshman class," said Mr. Beveridge. "What does that mean? It means that many of them are not getting the kind of training that they feel they need. They drop out and go to work without having any training to speak of in the kind of work they are going to do. For instance many of them want some familiarity at least with shop work."

Some of them in these days want experience in auto repairing and the like; others want telegraphy, for instance. The government is calling for men who are trained in these lines.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Farmit (double strength), and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Any one who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Advertisement.

Just One Application and the Hairs Vanish

(Toilet Talks) Any woman can keep her skin free from unsightly hair or fuzz if she will follow these simple instructions: When hairy growths appear, apply a simple paste, made by mixing some water with powdered delatone. Apply this to hairy surface and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This is a harmless treatment, but be sure you get the real delatone.—Advertisement.

on us today to furnish telegraphers, and we haven't got them. And the same things are true in all other business, commercial and industrial lines. The necessity in this day and age for such commercial and technical high school training as is here proposed is beyond argument."

Junior High Innovation. The intermediate or "junior" high school is a distinct innovation in Omaha's public school system. The building which it is proposed to erect at Twenty-fourth and Corby streets will have thirty rooms and will furnish a two-year technical and commercial course preliminary to the high school proper. The object of this intermediate school is to preserve for better education the larger per cent of grade school pupils, who drop out between the Sixth and Ninth grades and at about the age of 14 years to go into commercial, industrial or mechanical apprenticeship at a low earning capacity. In conjunction with the Central Commercial-Technical High School the Junior High school will furnish a six-year course in these special branches.

North High Old Idea. The North High school to be erected at Twenty-fourth and Fowler has been under consideration for some time. The statistics show that 40 per cent of the high school students now in attendance at Central and Commercial High schools live north of Cuming street and about 27 per cent live north of Lake street. The North school will take care of these pupils and relieve the overcrowded condition which now exists at the Central High school.

say the members of the board. However, the grade school building program will be gotten under way as a secondary measure to the high school building proposed. Minne Lusa is shut off by Miller Park and will be in need of a school building. The Walnut Hill and the Dundee schools will have to be built very soon to relieve the conditions in those neighborhoods.

Members of the board say that this type of school system is in effect in 365 American cities and if the proposed program is carried to completion, Omaha will have a school system that will be abreast with the times and the equal of any in the country today.

Ralph Johnson, age 15, 1565 North Eighteenth street, was struck and perhaps fatally injured by an automobile driven by Frank Goodall, 2768 California, at Nineteenth and Clark, last night at 10 o'clock.

Goodall picked up the boy and took him to St. Joseph's hospital, where his injuries were attended by Dr. Duncan. He then drove back to Johnson's home and brought the boy's parents to the hospital.
