Mother Was Enroute to Visit Son, Who Was Member of the Lafayette Escadrille.

With the Lafayette Squadron, Monday, Sept. 24.—The death of Douglas MacMonagle of San Francisco, a member of the Lafayette squadron, occurred during a patrol flight with two other Americans, Lieutenant Lufbery and Sergeant Rockwell. They were attacked by eight German machines, believed to belong to the combination known as the "Tango Circus." Apparently MacMonagle was taken by surprise. He fell within the French lines. Sergeant Rockwell went to the rescue, but it was too late to save his comrade. After a short fight, however, he downed the German, who fell crashing into a wood.

MANY WITNESSES IN STRIKE HEARING

Thirty More Subpoenaed by State; Three-Cornered Fight On Before Judge Leslie.

Thirty witnesses were subpoenaed by the state on the second day of the strike injunction hearing before Judge Leslie, sitting in equity court, in which the three sides—the attorney general's forces, the Business Men's association and Omaha unions—are represented by batteries of lawyers. Twenty-three witnesses were subpoenaed the first day. Attorney General Reed, represented by Deputy Attorney General Mungen, Norris Brown and M. D. Vinsonhale, asks a permanent injunction against Omaha employers and the labor organizations. It is the final chapter in the litigation arising out of the strike troubles in Omaha last spring. Practically all the witnesses testified in the same vein as they did at the hearing several months ago before the state board of mediation. The bulk of the witness now were non-union teamsters who testified to acts of violence on Omaha streets when the strike was at its height. The state will subpoena more than fifty more witnesses before the hearing is over. It was first believed the hearing for a permanent injunction would last at least a month, but attorneys now have hopes of winding up the case within the next two weeks.

The Blackstone management asserts there is an ironclad ukas against animal pets of any kind in the hotel and that cats are included in this bull. Manager Letton of the Blackstone, also testified in municipal court that Mrs. Ferson and her sister were in arrears with their rent.

GERING TANGLE IS STRAIGHTENED OUT

Stenographer Makes Error in Putting Names in Wrong Column on Ship Furnished by Board.

Delegates from Scottsbluff county, including Judge R. W. Hobart of the Seventeenth judicial district and Dr. L. R. Jones of the local draft board, who conferred with the First district appeal board of Nebraska in Omaha Tuesday, left for home, satisfied that merely a clerical error accounted for the apparent discrimination among men drafted from Scottsbluff.

Volunteer Help.

The district board at the time of the mistake had been depending on volunteer help sent in from business men who loaned their stenographers and bookkeepers for a day to help the board. There was no one person who looked after the matter of recording these facts and as a consequence the confusion came about. A girl recorder, who did not understand and did not realize the great seriousness of the matter, recorded all the names on one sheet of the reports from Scottsbluff in the wrong column.

These men who had been exempted were recorded as "not discharged or exempted" and the names sent back to Scottsbluff with this report.

Tuesday the delegates from Scottsbluff and the district board took the papers pertaining to Scottsbluff and went over them thoroughly. In a short time the error was spotted and it took only five minutes after that to clear the air, although before there had been bitter feeling and charges of gross unfairness against the astonished members of the district board, who had tried to be fair to all, so they said.

Go Home Satisfied.

The Scottsbluff men went home satisfied and the board, somewhat nervous after the strain of the last two days, was preparing to continue its work as usual, with the utmost caution to be exercised in the future.

"As to the charge that we exempted rich men," said one member of the district board, "we are trying to show no favors. The board is going on the idea that if a man has a wife and family he should not be drafted when there are single men to take his place. These men sent in affidavits that they had wives and families dependent on them. We did not go to Scottsbluff to investigate them. We are taking the stand that the American people are not liars."

OMAHA FURNISHES SUPPLIES TO CAMPS

Des Moines Cantonment Gets Most of Its "Eats" from the Omaha Supply Depot.

"While Des Moines is having all the trouble attending the establishment and maintaining of a huge military cantonment, Omaha is getting the money," said Colonel F. A. Grant, quartermaster of the Omaha supply depot, "All the supplies used at Camp Dodge come from the Omaha depot and a large per cent of these are purchased right here in Omaha. Although Des Moines may have the glory of having the cantonment, it has also many inconveniences attending it and Omaha need not think it is not benefited."

As an example of the money that is coming into Omaha through the army supply depot here, Captain Cantlon of the quartermaster's staff has just finished the sampling and purchasing of $250,000 worth of supplies to be sent to the camps served by the Omaha depot.

"About 75 per cent of these were bought from Omaha merchants," said Captain Cantlon. "A great deal of money is coming into Omaha in this way."

Chief Quartermaster George J. Emory of Omaha is home from the Great Lakes naval training school to attend the funeral of his mother.

Quartermaster Emory will soon be Ensign Emory. His record at the Great Lakes station has caused his name to be mentioned for promotion. Hundreds of Omaha friends rejoice at the distinction conferred on him—and no one more than the many speed-reading enthusiasts that used to approach the corner of Sixteenth and Parnum with marked respect for the traffic laws in the days when he was traffic policeman there.

Everybody driving a car in Omaha knew Ensign Emory, who was no respecter of persons. He stopped them all, from the largest and most gorgeous seven-passenger limousines driven by wealthy chauffeurs and carrying mighty millionaires, to the rattling "five-ver."

Now, Quartermaster Emory will soon be employing his keen judgment and determining in his country's behalf on a battle ship. He is an ex-service man and had naval experience years ago.

Lieutenant D. J. Sibbernson, who at Fort Dodge was assigned to the brigade headquarters, returned yesterday last night to Omaha on his way to Camp Robinson, Sparta, Wis. He has been transferred to the Seventh Field artillery, part of which is now somewhere in France. He leaves tonight for his new assignment. His brother, Albert Sibbernson, is in the aviation school at Newport News, Va.

Omaha has ten officers in the United States navy: Lieutenant Commander Louis Shano, Lieutenant Paul F. Blackburn and Nathan W. Post, Lieutenants Harry S. McGuire, Frank J. Wille, David C. Patterson, Alex. Charlton, Harold B. Keller, George E. Fuller and Ensign Casper K. Blackburn.

Jury men to Have Vacation So They May Visit Carnival

District court jury men will be allowed a vacation next week out of respect to King Ak. # GOVERNMENT PLAN BRINGS OUT WHEAT

Mills Now Running Full Time as Farmers Release Wheat Being Held for Higher Prices.

National Food Administration Agent Neal is well satisfied with the marketing of wheat under the pricing plan inaugurated by the government and expresses the opinion that from now on farmers throughout Nebraska are going to come to the front and nobly help in doing their bit to feed the country.

Mr. Neal says that within the last two weeks there has been a most pronounced loosening up of wheat held in first hands in anticipation of higher prices, which he adds, can never come. Advice to Mr. Neal are to the effect that out in the state, up in South Dakota and in Kansas, large quantities of wheat are being sold direct to the millers and that generally their immediate demands are being supplied from wheat raised in local territory. This action upon the part of the farmers has relieved the situation materially in such milling centers as Omaha.

Supply Local Mills.

As a result of farmers supplying the local mills with wheat it has left a goodly supply to be turned over to the mills at the big flour manufacturing centers and again most of the big plants are running full time. Considering the demand for wheat by the mills in Omaha trade territory, the receipts here are quite satisfactory and Mr. Neal is of the opinion that they will continue to increase as farmers and others who are carrying large stocks realize that prices are not to be any higher than at the present time.

Waltman Walters Reports For Army Hospital Duty

Waltman Walters, son of General Manager Walters of the Northwestern, arrived from Chicago with instructions to report to the local army board for duty. Mr. Walters is a senior in Rush Medical college and for several months has been doing hospital intern work. Some weeks ago he offered his services to the government and the fact that he has been instructed to report here for duty is taken to mean that he is soon to receive an assignment at some army hospital, either at home or in France.
