

CHARGES MILITANTS WERE IN MUTINY

Auditor in Charge of Work House Where White House Pickets Are Held Lodges Complaint.

Washington, Oct. 5.—Militants of the woman's party serving time in the District of Columbia work house for demonstrations before the White House are charged with mutiny as a result of their rough-and-tumble fight Wednesday with guards and negro women prisoners.

The charge of mutinous conduct is made in a report by Alonzo Tweedale, auditor in charge of the work house, while the superintendent is suspended pending outcome of the inquiry. The report tells how the eighteen suffragists attacked the acting superintendent of the prison matron and three male guards who had been called to the rescue when the officers sought to remove one of their number, Mrs. Margaret Johns, for medical treatment at the Washington asylum hospital.

Negro Women Aid Keeper.
It is a group of negro women of the prison kitchen force rallying to the aid of their boss, the matron, after a blow on the head with a club of a general wild scramble and of Mrs. Johns' departure for the hospital after she and her guards had been much mauled and hauled about.

Mrs. Alice Paul, head of the woman's party, made a statement denying many of Mr. Tweedale's statements and declaring that the women interfered because they were not told where Mrs. Johns was to be taken and feared that she was to be placed in confinement on bread and water. She also said Mrs. Johns was not removed for proper medical treatment when she really was ill, and that she had recovered when the authorities decided to take her to the hospital.

The work house is a big unbarred structure on a farm near Washington. Its open doors made it easy for the suffragists to give their custodians a lively time when they started on the warpath.

Automobile Thieves Busy During Ak-Sar-Ben Parades

Ak-Sar-Ben seems to stimulate a sudden epidemic of automobile thievery in Omaha. A large number of automobiles have been stolen from out-of-town visitors who left their cars parked on the streets while they viewed the parades or attended the carnival. Police are kept busy attempting to recover stolen automobiles and trailing the thieves.

Nine persons reported to the police that their cars were stolen Thursday from various parking places in the streets. Their names are: J. P. Plunlett, Milton apartments; J. P. Murphy, Columbus, Neb.; C. Z. Gould, 224 South Thirty-sixth; E. M. Clifton, 37 1/2 South Twenty-third; A. Melcher, 1516 Leavenworth; Herman Stollman, 1820 North Seventeenth; Harry Lopidus, 2205 South Thirty-second; A. Nelson, Washington, Neb.; and T. F. Thompson, Charter Oak, Ia.

Bills Passed by Senate Better Service Conditions

Washington, Oct. 5.—All rules pertaining to the regulation of army cantonment camps and vicinity in order to protect the soldiers from vice were extended to naval training camps in a bill adopted today by the senate. The senate also passed bills authorizing the paving of gratuity to the widows or children of retired naval officers or enlisted men losing their lives while serving on active duty in the present war and the compensating of soldiers for property lost while in service. The bills have already been passed by the house and now go to the president for his signature.

Maximum Sentences For Illegal Exemptions

New York, Oct. 5.—Maximum prison sentences of two years were imposed in the federal court today upon Henry Seligman, physician of a Brooklyn draft board, and Nathan Ehrliche and Lazarus Jacobson, clerks, as penalty for receiving money for exempting a man examined for the draft. Seligman in addition was fined $3,000.

EAST TREATS THE OMAHA BOYS WELL

Lieutenant McCullough Tells of One Woman Giving Them 42,000 Cigarettes for Jo rney.

First Lieutenant P. M. McCullough of Company E, Seventh telegraph battalion, which is made up of former Omaha employes of the Nebraska Telephone company, writes home from the camp at Monmouth Park, N. J., some interesting news concerning the experience of the boys. About their physical condition he says:

"We have been hiking a lot and the work all day calls for a lot of marching and some little physical exertion. Then men are sure getting hard, too. They are an entirely different bunch of men from what they were when they came here. The humps are mostly all out of their backs and the ones that aren't will be before long. The camp commander inspected us Saturday and told us we were the best looking bunch in camp and the finest looking lot of signal corps men he had ever had the pleasure of seeing."

In regard to the way the people in the neighborhood treat the boys, Lieutenant McCullough says: "A Mrs. Tucker came over and asked me how much tobacco the men would need on the way over to France. I said about 40,000 cigarettes, and in an hour there were 42,000 cigarettes in my tent. That is the way they do things here."

Five Balloon Students Receive Army Commissions

The following students at the Army balloon school, Fort Omaha, have been granted commissions as first lieutenants:

Raw W. Thompson, Robert L. Sparks, Maurice R. Smith, Birge M. Clark and Walter J. Reed. These have been classed heretofore as student-sergeants and for some months have been undergoing intensive training in balloon observation and management. They will probably be placed in charge of companies and will be sent to France soon.

Major H. B. Hersey, commander at Fort Omaha, has received word from Captain Vaughn, in charge of Balloon Company A at Fort Sill, Captain Vaughn reports that the students are making great progress and hope soon to be applying their knowledge at the front. At Fort Sill students have the advantage of being able to observe real artillery fire. At Fort Omaha they could observe only mock artillery fire, made with smoke bombs. There is plenty of room at Fort Sill for parachute jumps, although none have as yet been made. Company A has been at Fort Sill about two weeks and was the first to leave Fort Omaha.

Draft Slacker Alleges He Cannot Read or Write

Berlyn Reams was brought up from Lincoln by a United States deputy marshal and delivered to the military authorities at Fort Omaha for failure to respond when called for the selective army. Reams gives as an excuse the fact that he cannot read or write.

HUNDREDS OF CARS CROSS TOLL BRIDGE

So Many Autos Bring Iowans to Ak-Sar-Ben Festivities Fare Takers Are Unable to Keep Count.

The Omaha Street Railway company attempted to keep tab on the number of automobiles that crossed the Missouri river bridge during Ak-Sar-Ben week, but gave it up. The rush started Monday, and long before night the toll takers sent in calls for help. They could not register the cars and occupants.

Monday night the street railway put on a large force of fare collectors. Instead of keeping track of the number of cars and occupants, the collectors put the money all into one fund, thus turning it into the company treasury. While the total collections have not been footed, it is said that they will total a sum that will be about equal to the most profitable week in the history of the bridge.

While these figures have not been totaled either, it is asserted that car receipts from passengers riding down town and back home will not be as large during this Ak-Sar-Ben week as some others of the past. This is attributed to two reasons. The weather has been ideal and thousands have walked to the parades. Again, it is said the number of automobiles on the streets this year is about double that of last. Owners not only carried members of their families, but a large number have given free rides to neighbors who did not happen to have machines.

However, the street railway people are satisfied with the business that they have done. At all of the parades they have had all their equipment in service and most of it every afternoon and night, even if there were no special features on the streets.
