officials that the explosion of the boiler was due to low water, or perhaps the dropping of a crown sheet. The engine, No. 2205, was one of large sized, modern type and comparatively new. Engineer Cummings was regarded as one of the best engineers on the western division of the Union Pacific and was supposed to have been familiar with all the workings of his engine. He had been running an engine since 1907 and for three years prior had been a fireman.

Unfounded Report Of Move for $10 Hogs Brings Price Break

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 19.-A statement, widely circulated, that the federal food administration intended to fix the price of hogs at $10 per hundred, as compared with former higher prices, has brought a flood of hogs to this market, bore the price down $1.05 to $16 within two days, and culminated today in a denial by Herbert Hoover that live stock price fix-

Corn Prices Average Lower Influenced by Good Weather for Shipment.
Chicago, Oct. 19.—Corn prices averaged lower today influenced largely by seasonable weather for putting the crop into readiness for shipment. Prices closed unsettled, varying from % decline to % advance with Docember $1.15% and May $1.10% to $1.10%. Oats finished $40 % to % dewn. The outcome in provisions ranged from a setback of 40 cents to a rise of $1.00.

A temperature drop that seemed just what was needed to dry out new corn kept bulls almost constantly at a disadvantage. Forecasts of a return of warmth and moisture tomorrow, however, tended to lessen pressure on the December delivery and made that option relatively firm. Reports of prospective liberal buying for the Mexican government counted a little also to harden values. There was good selling though on all the hard spots in the market. Investment demand appeared to be absent and support came nearly altogether from shorts. Oats were easy with corn. Receivers said farmers showed more disposition to sell, so as to provide storage room for corn. Shipping call for nearby deliveries of pro-

Trade in this article was very slow and late sales of Nos. 1, 2 and 3 yellow were posted at $1.39. No. 2 mixed sold at $1.35 and a few cars of No. 3 mixed went at the same price, while the No. 4 grade brought $1.35 ½.
