OMAHA WILL RAISE BIG RELIEF FUND

Armenians and Syrians Dying of Starvation by Thousands, Says Rev. Dr. John Baptist.

Plans are being made to raise a large sum in Omaha and Nebraska for the Armenians and Syrians, who are dying by the tens of thousands from starvation. President Wilson has appealed to the American people for help. The mayor of New York has set aside November 10 and 11 for collecting funds for this purpose.

"We are making plans to raise a sum of money, of which they city and state can be proud," said Rev. Dr. John Baptist, chairman of the Omaha branch of the Armenian National Union of America. "Last year we had a tag day, but raised only a small sum. The sufferings of the Armenians and Syrians are so great and they call for assistance on such large scale that the few hundreds of dollars which we might get from a tag day would do but little to alleviate their suffering and save their lives."

H. Baldridge is chairman of the Omaha committee, and C. M. Wilhelm is secretary. Definite plans for the campaign soon will be worked out. Astounding conditions of abject poverty and starvation are revealed by cablegrams direct from Armenia and Syria. Tabriz, October 25, comes a report which says, "Famine increasing, wheat $8 a bushel. People dying of hunger at our gate. Forty thousand Christian refugees and as many Kurds."

"Impossible to help any longer. 800 starving Armenian children in Armenian churches. Bread all gone," says a cablegram from Aleppo.

From Urumiah, Persia, this message of horror came, signed by Ellis Berry:

"If what I saw today in Sunni mosque's Urumiah" could be transplanted 10 hours westward to Madison Square, New York, every newspaper in America would ring with story of most abject spectacle in world at war, and millions for relief would follow straight way. Refugees from mountain villages, driven from ripening crops, living unsheltered on stones, indescribable rags, starvation, sickness and filth, human beings in state of oriental street dogs with whom they compete for offal.

"Work already done by Americans for Armenians, Syrians and Assyrians is national triumph, but vastness of continuing need is overwhelming. Turkish speaking reinforcements and field reorganizations on larger scale necessary. Congregational Presbyterian Mission Turkey, Persia, vindicated by brilliant present service of Americans trained helpers."

William T. Ellis and Charles H. Berry are the commissioners sent to investigate conditions in Persia and the Russian Caucasus.

B'Nai B'rith to Raise War Relief Fund by Assessment

Members of Omaha lodge No. 354, Independent Order of B'Nai B'rith, will be asked at a regular meeting this evening to vote on the proposition of whether each member shall be assessed $1.25 to raise a war relief fund of $500, which was pledged at the last grand lodge convention. "This matter concerns every member of Omaha lodge. Most of us have relatives and friends at the cantonment camps and it behooves us to devise ways and means to make our boys feel that our thoughts are with them," reads a statement which has been sent to members.

CUT OUT 'SWANK,' IS ADE'S ADVICE TO U.S. SOLDIERS

"Cubs" Have Come Into Their Own Since War Started; Sammies Urged to Quit Boasting.

By GEORGE ADE.

Six months ago the new voters were very much in the background or off at the sides.

No man under 30 held a topnotch executive position or had moved to the front row of his profession.

Any man under 30 was likely to be regarded by a man well over 30 as a bit pin-feathery and somewhat of a squab.

The word "half-baked" is much favored by those who begin to feel a z-z-z-z-z-z in the joints.

Just a few shifting moons, and now the whole nation is looking up in reverence and admiration and dread at our lads still in their twenties!

The bank president is a pigmy alongside of the first lieutenant. Elderly persons sit lonesomely in clubs, feeling depressed and unworthy.

We have witnessed the transfiguration of the cub.

The very qualities which we appraised so lightly or regarded as minor faults are now recognized as the ingredients of heroism.

We do not smile tolerantly at the eager enthusiasm, the scorn of danger, the cheerful optimism, and the candid patriotism of these coltish youngsters.

"We look at them with eyes a bit misty and say, 'Boys, you're great! Easy to Give Advice."

Many of us are sitting in sheltered corners, away from the first-hand activities of the war, trying to comprehend that thousands of our boys are now in France and thousands more are going, and we have passed the long preamble of talk and come up against the flinty realities of shrapnel and hand grenades.

How easy it is for a man living in a steam-heated apartment, sleeping on a box mattress, and just about 3,000 miles beyond the range of the longest guns—how easy it is for him to tell the boys to endure grimly the trench privations and then go over the top like a whirlwind!

Awards of any account just now? Shall we advise our soldiers to be brave? Probably the French and English instructors will urge them to be cautious.

Shall we tell them to go out and die for their country? That is not the prospectus, at all, at all. The plan is for our boys to tame the Germans and then come home alive.

If we are to pester them with counsel, let it be to the following effect: "You'll Come Back."

"You are going to tackle the big adventure of your life, but the chances are that you will come out of it all right—not even nicked by a wound. The Americans are bound to get into action at the front. They will share hard responsibilities with the English and Canadians and French. It is a grisly thing to check up on a cold-blooded percentage basis, but, from a view of the averages, we believe that 19 out of every 20 boys going to France will come home again. Every month the heavy artillery spreads a more effective curtain between the advancing infantry and the enemy. You are going into a zone of extreme risk, and to say that you will not be in peril would be to take away in advance the glory of your performance. But the figures from Canada (which is a fair example) indicate that you are not going to be trapped at sea, and that only a small percentage of your comrades are going to be put away by the Germans, and there is no need of assuming that all the breakers of ice are going to be against you instead of for you. Therefore we count on giving you a welcome home. Don't Get Too Cocky.

"The training camps will put you in readiness to fight. After the fighting is over you will find yourself up against the highly important duty of going back to your own people and resuming the normal home life. Nearly every fighting man will have a wife or sweetheart waiting for him. When she is countless miles away, don't overlook the fact that she is pulling for you and hoping for you and longing for your return. When it comes time for you to return to her, don't be ashamed to meet her. "Another tip, which no young fellow should resent when it is offered by an older man who has traveled in foreign parts: Remember that the 'Yank' has the reputation in Europe of standing on his hind legs and crowing at the slightest provocation. We are supposed to blow too much about our native land. We are said to be 'cocky,' and credit ourselves with a 'slick' superiority over the old-fashioned Europeans. Possibly some of

RED CROSS WILL DISTRIBUTE FAIRLY

Equitable Methods Will Be Employed in Dispensing of Knit Goods to Soldiers and Sailors, is Pledge.

An equitable distribution of sweaters and garments being made by members of the Red Cross for soldiers and sailors is one of the questions confronting the Red Cross of the entire country, according to Mrs. Charles G. King, Chicago, superintendent of general supplies of the central division.

Speaking before the annual conference of the Nebraska State Red Cross conference, which began yesterday and closes today, Mrs. King pleaded with the delegates to trust the national organization, by sending everything they knit for the soldiers to the central division in Chicago, "where an accurate record is being kept of clothing donated to the soldiers and sailors." The custom of sending these articles directly to the men in khaki, Mrs. King declared, has resulted in some men receiving more than their share of clothing.

The time of the Red Cross conference was taken up with speeches and answering questions. The ten speakers scheduled to talk, closed their addresses with an invitation to the audience to ask questions on their particular line of work.
