COAL SITUATION IN OMAHA SOON TO BE RELIEVED

The coal situation in Omaha will be sharply alleviated within two weeks, according to John L. Kennedy, state coal dictator. A congestion of coal cars at Crawford and other western Nebraska towns, where inability to unload them has checked the flow of fuel eastward, is now being gradually cleared up, declared Mr. Kennedy. The cars will be rushed into Wyoming, where fuel is waiting to be carried to the east. Fort Crook has experienced a shortage of coal. A hurry-up call from Major Hamilton, quartermaster department, to Mr. Kennedy, resulted in a temporary supply being secured for the fort. Two carloads of lump coal, late in arriving from Croney, Wyo., orders recently by the fort, are supposed to be on the way here. Their journey will be hastened by an appeal to the railroad by the coal administrator. Temporary relief was secured from the Coal Hill company, the Fort Crook authorities having been authorized to buy in the open market. The work of the coal administrator's office in organizing district councils throughout the state for local supervision of the coal situation is progressing swiftly. It is expected that announcement of the appointments will be made soon.
