CENTRAL PREPARES TO MEET LINCOLN

Latter Team Definitely Out of It for Missouri Valley Honors Since Defeat by Des Moines.

With proud Lincoln High, unvanquished for three years, humbled by the East Des Moines High, all the hope for the Missouri Valley championship is completely upset, and bids to be further muddled by the Norfolk team, which, although beaten by Lincoln, intends to beat Omaha on November 23. West Des Moines is hoped to beat East Des Moines and Lincoln expects to have its players back in the fight by Friday and will undoubtedly put up the old fight against Central.

Lincoln, hampered by the loss of its two best players, was, nevertheless, able to score twice against Des Moines, and, although out of the valley race, is yet Central's bitter enemy for the state title, for which the teams will clash Friday on Creighton field. The Des Moines game should be looked upon more as a piece of hard luck for Lincoln than as an indication that the capital city lacks a team of championship caliber. Bear stuff floating down from the capital placing Lincoln's weight at about 130 pounds is only for Omaha consumption, for it is known on good authority that Lincoln easily tips the scales at a mark slightly above Central's.

Coach Mulligan, however, has turned philosopher and refuses to cross a bridge until the bridge comes to him. Disregarding the Iowans' victory, he is working away to nab the state title and intends to await the outcome of this week's battles before worrying over chance bidders for championship honors.

Uses Bran and Wheat, Half and Half, for Bread

Mrs. W. L. Gelly, 2208 South Eleventh street, has a new recipe for bread, which will no doubt be endorsed by those who want to conserve our supply of wheat as much as possible. Mrs. Gelly takes equal parts of wheat flour and bran, usual amount of salt, one cake of yeast for six ordinary sized loaves, and uses no shortening. She states that the bread rises nicely and that it is very wholesome, and advises that those who want to conserve and save wheat to send over to the "Sammies" try this recipe.

Fourth—Prohibition of the transfer of ownership of German properties.
Fifth—The internment of Germans suspects.

EYE-WITNESS TELLS STORY OF FINLAND

Field Service Man Returning Home Was Only Person Who Saw the Submarine.

Paris, Nov. 4.—Two score members of the American field service, who were returning home on the American transport Finland, after completing their enlistments, reached Paris today. The Finland was torpedoed by a German submarine about 9:30 o'clock last Sunday morning.

Daniel Prescott of Bedford, Mass., in the ambulance service, was the only man who saw the submarine. He was on watch duty on the starboard of the ship at the time.

"The weather was misty," Prescott said, "and I was looking over the sea when I observed what appeared to be a periscope a quarter of a mile away on the starboard side. I hastened across the deck to report and then saw the wake of a torpedo coming toward the ship. This was followed almost immediately by a heavy explosion."

Officers Bring in Ship

The ship listed, the whistling was sounded, men poured out on the decks and life boats were lowered. I got off in one of the boats. The sea was rather smooth, but while the men in the water were being picked up by the life boats a squall arose, making the sea very choppy.

"Some of the men were in the water half to three-quarters of an hour. Many of the crew of the Finland left the ship, but later returned and assisted in bringing it into port. The officers of the vessel remained aboard. They directed the work of picking up the survivors and later of bringing the ship in. I reached port on a patrol boat. The Finland docked shortly after 9 o'clock that night."

Struggle in Water

Joseph Malone of Rochester, N. Y., said he had just eaten breakfast and was sitting in the saloon with six other ambulance men when the torpedo hit just forward and below them. They were thrown from their chairs and covered with a cloud of coal dust from the bunkers. They put on life preservers and hastened on deck.

OLD THIRD WARD IS NOW MEMORY

With Recent Acquisition of Florence and Benson, Entire City is Redistricted; 154 Voting Districts Now.

The old Third Ward is no more. The coming school bond election of November 20, will witness no trace of the work of the old, solid lower district "Third," which formerly extended from Nicholas to Leavenworth streets east of Sixteenth street to the river, and which has had the reputation of being the key-stone to municipal politics since time immemorial.

With the addition of Benson and Florence to Greater Omaha, an entire redistricting of wards and precincts was made necessary and in the process the old Third evaporated. The boundaries of the new Third ward extend in straight lines from Charles street to Dodge street, between Thirteenth street and the river. The new boundaries completely alter the "constituency" of the Third ward as they extend out into the residence district and include only a part of the rooming house and hotel facilities of the old ward.

Is Now Part of Fourth

The southern half of the old Third ward extending from Dodge to Leavenworth streets has now become a part of the new Fourth ward, which extends from the river to Twenty-fourth street between Dodge and Pacific streets.

The redistricting of the city is carried out on the most simple and logical lines. The wards are arranged in pairs from the northern boundary of Florence to the south boundary of South Side. The city is split down the middle by a dividing line running south from the Florence boundary down Thirteenth street to Dodge street and south from Dodge street along Twenty fourth street to the city limits. This north and south line is cut across at equal intervals by straight east and west streets running from the western city limits to the river, each interval including a pair of wards one on each side of the center line. Thus between the north boundary of Florence and the first cross line which is Bedford avenue or Bristol street, are two wards, numbers 12 and 1. Between Bedford avenue and Charles street are wards 11 and 2; between Charles and Dodge streets, wards 10 and 3; between Dodge and Pacific, wards 9 and 4; between Pacific and Grover streets, wards 8 and 5; and between Grover street and the city limits, wards 7 and 6. The wards are numbered from the northeast corner of the city down the east side of the dividing line from 1 to 6 and up the west side of the dividing line from 6 to 12.

Voting Districts Increased

There are now 154 voting districts in Greater Omaha as against 108 in the old arrangement before the addition of Benson and Florence. The new arrangement somewhat reduces the number of votes in each "precinct" of voting district, although increasing the number of precincts in some of the wards.

The Third ward now has a great deal more territory than formerly and has the largest number of "precincts" or voting districts of any ward in the city. The number of precincts in each ward runs from 17 to 19, the Third ward having the largest with 19 precincts in its new territory.

Benson and Florence are having a registration today in order to put their voters on Greater Omaha's registration books for the bond election, November 20. Voters in these newly added districts who do not register today will have to register at the election commissioner's office in the court house before November 9, in order to vote in the next election. Voters already registered in Omaha, who have moved within the city will also have to register their change of residence at the court house before November 9.

Barristers' Club Offers Aid to Soldiers' Dependents

A free legal aid bureau for dependents of Omahans who have answered the call to the colors will be established by the Barristers' club. This action was decided at a meeting of the club Saturday noon.

Real Estate Board Takes Credit for Street Signs

The Omaha Real Estate board is taking to itself credit for the recent marking of the street corners. A committee from the board, C. F. Harrison and E. M. Slater, has been for a year urging such an improvement. Finding that the council was holding back because of the expense of securing high-priced signs to be set on standards at the street corners, the committee urged that stencil signs on the telephone or electric light poles were good enough for the present. It was found that this might be done for about $500, instead of an expenditure of $7,000 to $10,000 for the signs on standards.

South Dakota University

Vermillion, S. D., Nov. 4.—Hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of fossils have been taken from the state of South Dakota by American universities and museums. One man last summer found the skeleton of a prehistoric horse worth more than $1,000. The United States national museum at Washington, D. C., part of the Smithsonian Institution, has about 1,000 specimens worth between $30,000 and $35,000.

REAL ESTATE MEN LISTEN TO EXPERT

Get Some New Ideas From Mr. Kvenild Relative to Widening and Opening Some of City Streets.

The increasing interest of real estate men in city planning is noticeable since more than 50 listened to the discussion of the recommendations of the City Planning commission at Wednesday's meeting of the Real Estate board. Marked attention was given to Mr. Kvenild's remarks.

Mr. Kvenild confined his remarks to the improvements proposed on the main streets running east and west from Dodge to Leavenworth. It appeared from his statements, and the remarks of those present, interested especially in this improvement, that the grading of Dodge street is certain to go through, but whether exactly on the lines recommended by the city plans is still a question. At least the contour of that street from Seventeenth to Twenty-fourth will be greatly affected.

Open Douglas Street Waits

The prosecution of the Douglas street opening appears to have fallen in the dumps. In order to bring about this improvement, which the Real Estate board feels is desirable, a committee was appointed to go after this project. The opening of Douglas street, it was generally conceded, would relieve the stress on Farnam and Harney and would benefit the business center as much as any other street improvement contemplated.

For the Entire City

F. D. Wead in his motion to endorse the City Planning commission's recommendations made the statement, which met with approval, that these improvements affected the whole city and were for the whole city. The board gave its endorsement to the plans.

New Laws in Wisconsin

The Wisconsin legislature enacted some notable city planning laws. The most important of these gives cities in that state authority to adopt districting or zoning plans, with power to restrict the location of buildings for specified uses to definite districts and to regulate the height and area of buildings in such districts. Wisconsin has adopted a new law covering the widening of streets, being in effect the same procedure as has been adopted under the Pennsylvania law. Under this law Wisconsin cities may widen their streets by gradually taking over one portion of land after another as the old buildings are torn down to make room for the new ones, relieving from the cost of paying for the old structures. The same legislature provided that a city council may establish setbacks or building lines on any street and prohibit the erection of buildings beyond such lines.

TYSON DENOUNCES EGG SPECULATORS

Reported Effort to Sell Storage Foodstuffs to Government Is Condemned by Speaker.

"The reported effort of egg speculators to sell great quantities of storage eggs to the government for the soldiers in Europe ought to be defeated," said R. M. Tyson, speaking before the Women Voters' Conservation league Saturday. "Eggs, after being stored three months begin to deteriorate and conditions for the soldiers are bad enough without feeding them cold storage eggs."

"Storage eggs are not on the markets yet because the price is 100 high enough for the speculators to make a profit. They paid from 30 to 35 cents a dozen for them when they put them in storage last spring. Interest, storage charges and so on bring the cost up to 42 cents a dozen. Eggs will have to go considerably above the present high prices before the speculators will put their holdings on the market."

Many Eggs in Storage

"There are more eggs in storage now by 20 per cent than there were last year at this time. This, in spite of the fact that there was a smaller production of eggs last spring than the spring before. The reason for the greater supply in storage is that

Negro Sentenced to Be Married by Police Judge

Police Judge Fitzgerald in police court Saturday morning sentenced E. O. Flowers, colored, 4717 South Twenty-seventh street, to life—with Dolly Fleming.

"I'll give you six days in which to get married," said Judge Fitzgerald. Flowers and Dolly were arrested Friday night on a disorderly charge.

Dolly has a long history in police records. Her biography includes arrests for fighting, drunkenness, disturbing the peace, illegal possession of liquor and many arrests on charges of vagrancy. "Is our judge favoring Mormonism?" asked Desk Sergeant McCarty, with a smile. "Many times when Dolly has been brought in drunk, she has insisted that she is married—and that is why she drinks."
