U. S. TROOPS PUT UP GAME FIGHT

Four Wounded and Twelve Captured When Teutons Swoop on American Sector in Superior Numbers.

With the American Army in France, Nov. 6.—A small detachment of American infantrymen was attacked in the front line trenches early Saturday morning by a much superior force of German shock troops.

The fighting in the trenches was hand to hand. It was brief and fierce in the extreme.

As a result of the encounter three Americans were killed and four wounded. A sergeant, a corporal and 10 men were taken prisoner.

Two French soldiers, who were in the trenches, also were killed. The enemy lost some men, but the number is unknown, as their dead and wounded were carried off by the retreating Germans.

From the beginning of the engagement until the end, the Americans lived up to all the traditions of the American army, the records showing the bravery of the detachment and of individual members.

The German raid on the American trench was carried out against members of the second contingent entering the trenches for training. These men had only been in a few days.

Before dawn Saturday the Germans began shelling vigorously the barbed wire front of the trenches, dropping many high explosives of large calibre.

A heavy artillery fire was then directed so as to cover all the adjacent territory, including the passage leading up to the trenches, thereby forming a most effective barrage in the rear as well as in front.

The young lieutenant in charge of the detachment of Americans started back to the communicating trenches to his immediate superior for orders. The barrage knocked him down, but he picked himself up and started off again.

He was knocked down a second time, but determined to reach his objective, got up again. A third time he was knocked down and badly shell-shocked, and was put out of action.

Soon after that Germans to the number of 210, according to the report, rushed through the breaches and wire entanglements on each side of the salient, their general objective for a moment. The Germans went into the trenches at several points.

They met with stout resistance. Pistols, grenades, knives and bayonets were freely used.

For many minutes there was considerable confusion in the trenches, the Germans stalking the Americans and the Americans stalking the Germans. In one section of the trench an American private engaged two Germans with the bayonet.

That was the last seen of him until after the raid, when a dead American was found on the spot. Another was killed by a blow on the head with a rifle butt from above.

Some of the Americans apparently at the beginning of the attack did not realize just what was going on. One of the wounded, a private, said: "I was standing in a communicating trench waiting for orders. I heard a noise back of me and looked around in time to see a German fire in my direction. I felt a bullet hit my arm."

The Germans left the trench as soon as possible, taking their dead and wounded with them.

An inspection showed, however, that they had abandoned three rifles, a number of knives and helmets.

The raid was evidently carefully planned, and the American officers admit that it was well executed. As a raid, however, there was nothing unusual about it. It was such as is happening all along the line. There is reason for believing that the Ger-

Praise for Bee's Plan to Provide Thanksgiving Dinners for Soldiers

Praise for The Bee in its plan to provide Thanksgiving dinner for soldiers at both local posts was expressed by Mrs. Benjamin S. Baker, leader of the political and social science department of the Omaha Woman's club at Monday's meeting.

It is most hospitable and only proper that we should extend greetings to the strangers within our gates," she said.

Mrs. Baker announced she would entertain several of the soldier boys for Thanksgiving dinner. "I am sure many members of this department will respond when The Bee issues its printed form of invitation," she said.

Americans Are Game. The French general in command of the division of which the American detachment formed a part, expressed extreme satisfaction at the action of the Americans for they fought bravely against a numerically superior enemy.

The bodies of the American dead were brought back to divisional headquarters and buried with honors today. The wounded are at the base hospitals.

The whole American expeditionary force are thrilled by the fight put up by their comrades and all are anxious to get a chance to deal a blow.

Supreme Court Rules Against Chase In Matter of Title

Washington, Nov. 6.—(Special Telegram.)—The supreme court in an opinion by Associate Justice Vandevanter, today reversed the circuit court of appeals in the case of the United States as trustee and guardian of the Omaha tribe of Indians and of Rose Wolf Setter, a member of the tribe, against Hiram Chase, and assessed the costs on Chase.

This was an action to recover for the wrongful use and occupancy of 40 acres of land in Nebraska to which two Omaha Indians assert conflicting claims. The land is within the Omaha Indian reservation and was assigned in 1871 under the treaty of 1865 to Clarisa Chase, a member of the Omaha tribe, and in 1889 under the treaty of 1882, to Reuben Setter, another member of the tribe.

The defendant, Hiram Chase, who had been using and occupying the land for some time, claimed a title in fee as the sole heir of Clarisa Chase, and the other claimant for whom the United States sues as trustee and guardian claims as the sole heir of Reuben Setter. In the district court, judgment went against Chase, but he prevailed in the circuit court of appeals.

Whether the assignment to Clarisa Chase under the treaty passed the full title in fee or only the Indian right of occupancy and whether all right under the assignment was extinguished prior to the allotment to Reuben Setter under the act of 1882, were the controlling questions; the supreme court holding that Rose Wolf Setter was entitled to the land in controversy.

The case was argued by Solicitor General Davis, on the behalf of the government, Hiram Chase and Thomas L. Sloan, appearing for the defendant.

Decide Probe of Railroads By Commission Legitimate

Washington, Nov. 6.—The supreme court in the Louisville & Nashville railroad case held today that the Interstate Commerce commission has practically unlimited powers to investigate the activities and expenditures of railroads.

BOARD VOTES TO PUT OFF BOND ELECTION

New Building Program for City Schools Postponed Because of the War; Three Members Vote No.

The Board of Education last night rescinded its recent action to submit to the voters at a special election on November 20, a bond proposition of $2,250,000.

Chairman Brogan of the judiciary committee, who offered the original resolution, offered the following rescinding measure last night:

"In view of the fact that the Council of National Defense has recommended that new enterprises not essential to the efficient operation of the country's necessary activities should not be undertaken, be it

Resolved, that the resolution of October 15, calling for a special election on November 20, to vote on a proposition to authorize the issue of bonds in the sum of $2,250,000 be and the same is hereby rescinded."

MEMBERS POSTPONEMENT. Members Burns, Falconer and Talmage voted against the resolution to rescind. President Ernst who was absent sent a communication in which he acquiesced in the action taken by the majority of the board.

"This is merely a postponement of our building program and does not mean that we intend to abandon the matter, but we have decided that in view of the wishes of the Council of National Defense, it would be best to postpone this bond proposition," stated Chairman Brogan.

The principal projects contemplated in the building program announced September 16, were a new High School of Commerce, at a cost of $750,000; North High school, $400,000, and an intermediate high school, $250,000. Several new grade schools were proposed.

Chamber of Commerce Letter. The matter was discussed by the board for an hour in executive session before the regular meeting at which the formal action was taken. From expressions made by the members it was evident that they read the editorial in The Sunday Bee on the subject of school bonds.

Mr. Brogan read the following from a letter received by Vice Chairman Fry from the Chamber of Commerce of the United States:

"Every effort that this country is capable of making should be applied to bring the war to a speedy and successful conclusion. The resources of the country in a general way may be said to consist of men, money and material, and during the period of the war any new enterprise or undertaking should be tried and justified by this test:

"Will the men, money and material so applied best contribute in this way to the winning of the war?"

"New enterprises which are not fundamental to the efficient operation of the country's necessary activities should not be undertaken. This will not result adversely upon business or conditions of employment because every man and every resource will be needed during the war. All effort should be centered to help win the war."

A committee of the Lakeside Improvement club asked the board to erect a new school building on the Sherman school site at Fourteenth and Gust streets.

Marie Robertson resigned on account of acceptance of a better position at the Kearney State normal school. Marguerite Lowe was replaced on the assigned list of teachers.

Aero School at Salt Lake City. Salt Lake City, Utah, Nov. 6.—That the government intends to establish an aviation training school in Salt Lake City is indicated by a message to the Commercial club today, stating that the War department has instructed an inspector to investigate and report on a site proposed here. The site consists of a strip of land two miles long by one mile wide.
