

ROTARY CLUB TO HAVE CLUB HOUSE FOR THE SOLDIERS

Have Secured Racket Club Building on Seventeenth Street; to be Known as Khaki Club.

The Omaha Rotary club will establish a downtown club house for the soldiers stationed in Omaha.

It has obtained the building formerly the Omaha Racket club, back of the Young Men's Christian association building. In arrangement of rooms it is exactly the thing wanted for the purpose. It will be remodeled and furnished with everything for the comfort of the boys.

Harry Wolfe of the Keystone Realty company is the man who made it possible for the Rotary club to obtain this building. Through the Keystone company, the building was bought at an exceedingly low figure. It will be called the "Khaki club." It is to be opened Saturday, November 24.

The whole proposition was presented to the Rotary club at its regular meeting Wednesday noon in the Henshaw hotel. Stirring talks were made by Dr. C. B. Atzen, Dr. E. C. Henry, John W. Welch and C. H. English. Twenty-five dollars per member was the subscription called for. But when Secretary "Dan" Johnson called for subscriptions, one man jumped up and gave $100. Then came a whole lot of $50 subscriptions and then a great clamoring to be put in for $25. The money to equip the club and run it for the first six months was oversubscribed liberally.

Officers Strong for It. The colonels commanding both forts were interviewed on the subject, said Dr. Henry, "and they are heart and soul for it. They declare it is one of the finest ideas ever evolved. Winter is coming on and when the soldiers come down town they would have no place of their own to go and lounge about if it were not for this club. This will be their own where they can go and play billiards or pool, or play the talking machine or the piano player, or do just what they please. Omaha has already made a name, the soldiers tell us, for being good to the men stationed here, and this is going to raise the city higher than ever with the soldiers."

To Contribute Furniture. Besides the cash subscriptions, various members of the Rotary club will contribute furniture, rugs, phonograph records, etc., to the new club house. It is to be fitted up in coziest style. A man will be placed in charge. C. H. English is the chairman of the committee in charge of the club house.

Secretary Johnson read a letter from Rotarian Marshall F. Sharp, who is now a captain in the quartermaster's corps, stationed at Camp Mills, Long Island. He has charge of transportation of the Forty-second "Rainbow" division.

James H. Butler, a Chicago Rotarian, made a short talk. Two boxes of cigars were passed around, sent up by Rotarian Samuel Rees, to celebrate the arrival of a baby boy at his home.

Thief in Inspector's Pose, Steals Valuable Gems

Posing as an inspector for the Omaha Electric Light and Power company, an unidentified man yesterday afternoon gained entrance to the apartments of J. W. Weingarten, attorney for the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad, and stole two valuable diamond rings, the property of Mrs. Weingarten. A good description of the man was given the police who are working on the case. He is said to have entered a number of other apartments in the Selma, where the Weingartens reside.

AT THE THEATERS

Charlotte Greenwood Is With Us.

"So Long Letty." Oliver Morosco's musical show which this producer will present at the Brandeis theater for three nights and a matinee Saturday beginning tonight, has a series of tripping records extending from the Pacific to the Atlantic coast. "So Long Letty" comes here tonight with practically the original cast, which will include Charlotte Greenwood, May Bowley, Sidney Grant, Will Morrissey, Tyler Brooke, Hallie Manning, Henrietta Lee and a chorus of beautiful girls.

Promises of the Press Agents.

Orpheum—As anticipated, a great many Scotch people are among the audiences that are being treated with vaudeville over at the Orpheum this week. Scotch entertainment by some Scotch people is rather a rare commodity on the stage and Jack Wyatt and his Scotch lads are proving a big success. While the act closes the bill, the audience remains in the seats until the final curtain and pass long enough to give Jack Wyatt and his company an enthusiastic hand.

Empress—The Princeton Five, at the Empress for the last three days of the week, are accomplished musicians. Lee and Lawrence offer their artistic skill entitled "Meady Buffs." The Van Camps, who offer "The Magician and the Pig," present an act appealing particularly to the kiddies. Harry Keose completes the bill with a comedy singing, talking and dancing act.

Gaiety—Lucky Gaiety audience; lucky At Reeve's! Cause why? Last night through some mishap at the power house every electric light in the theater went out. Did it cause the performance to come to a halt? It did not, for "your old pal, Al" was right on the job as he was when he was watching the entertainment, took off one of his rings containing one of those famous diamonds that every one envies him, lit a match and held it behind the stone. Ample radiance was thus secured until the electric again blazed up. Ladies, dinner salined daily.

Empress Garden—Tonight at this amusement center will be the regular weekly amateur night, when local talent will compete for the prizes that are offered by Manager Philip. This affords entertainment that is different and refreshing. It is announced that several aspirants have entered, their names already and a few more are expected. Dancing, of course, may be indulged in by those who wish to, and Miss Hendry will be heard in her popular songs, and Mac Carter will also be seen.

In the Silent Drama

Sun—From all advance reports "The Sun-Finimery" which holds forth here today and the balance of the week, will prove to be one of the best photoplays that have been shown in Omaha. It deals with a story laid in France in the latter part of the eighteenth century during the reign of Louis. A band of Englishmen were saving the nobility who had been sentenced to death, and called themselves the Finimery. After a small way-side flower which thrives in that country. Revolutionists attempt to capture a leader, which role is played by Mr. Farnum, and the thrilling situations which abound as well as the comedy spots all go to make up a splendid attraction. Comedy also will be shown on the same bill.

Strand—"Joan the Woman." now holding forth at the Strand, stands super-eminent in power of story, in the lesson that it teaches for good, in patriotic feeling and in everything that pertains to the making of a great educational spectacle. Geraldine Farrar brings Joan of Arc back to life, she lives as one of us, and one can almost hear her speak, so vivid are the scenes in which she appears.

Boyd—Realism has reached its high point in the moving picture field in the wonderful sandstone that is now being shown at the Boyd, in "The Garden of the Gods." It has been put upon the screen from the famous novel of Robert Hichens. The picture is being shown twice in the afternoon at 1 and 3 and twice at night at 7 and 9. Popular prices prevail. Griffith's original "The Birth of a Nation" will appear at the Boyd for one week with daily matinees.

Empress—"France in Arms." the greatest war picture ever made, an official French government war film, is to be shown at the Empress theater starting today for the last three days of the week. The M. I. N. E. War Review, a picture showing the camp life of our boys in the four states, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska and Kansas, will also be shown for the last three days of the week. Billy West will be seen in his latest offering, "Chief Cook."

Misc—"Camille," starring the screen vampire, Theda Bara, in a somewhat different role, will be shown again at this theater today and for the balance of the week. The Fox company has made another screen success with unusual sumptuousness of settings, costuming and detail. The picture follows the story closely and Miss Bara in the title role obtains all that is possible out of it. A good comedy also is being shown.

Hipp—Louise Glaum will be featured player at this theater today only in one of her greatest vampire roles, "Love or Justice." The story tells of an admirer who turns from her and in later life when the siren meets the son, she sees an opportunity for revenge in marrying him. Marie Wadsworth also will be seen in the third chapter of the exciting "Red Ace." Friday and Saturday Francis Ford will hold forth in "John Edmund of the Yellowstone."

Hippodrome—Advance men for theatrical troups sometimes have great difficulty in booking their troups. A story of this nature is told in Franklyn Farnum's Bluebird photoplay, "The Clean-Up," which shows here today. A Lonesome Luke comedy will be shown. Friday Clara Kimball Young and Earle Williams in "Her Husband," and William Duncan and Carol Holloway in the sixth chapter of "The Fighting Trail."

Suburban—Wallace Reid, in a Paramount production, "The Hostage," will be seen here today. It is a story of a fight between soldiers and mountaineers, and when the soldiers are in a tight place the commander's son is left as a hostage to guarantee good behavior on the soldiers' retreat. He falls in love with the daughter of a mountaineer and when the soldiers again charge and he is about to be put to death he does not know but he should live for the girl he loves or be loyal to his people. Friday, Joe Welch, in "The Peddler."

Lothrop—Marguerite Clark will be featured at this theater matinee today and night in a Paramount production "The Valentine Girl." This is promised to be a worthy sequel to "Miss George Washington." The Hearst-Pathe News and a comedy will also be on the bill. Friday little Jane and Katherine Lee in "Two Little Imps."

Hamilton—A new screen star makes her appearance here today. It is Madge Kennedy in the farce comedy, "Baby Mine," adapted from the play of the same name, and in which the star in a role received that her future photoplays will be eagerly looked for. Friday Douglas Fairbanks in "Down to Earth."

Princess—Max Murray, in her initial Bluebird production, "Princess Virtue," will be the attraction here today. The story tells of life in the ultra circles of Paris, and of titled gentlemen seeking rich American girls. Friday, Zoe Haas in her latest cheerful offering, "The Cricket." Saturday, Kathryn Kirkham in "Brand's Daughter," and a comedy.

Rohlf—A clever and fascinating story is told in "Wee Lady Betty," starring delightful Beale Love, which forms the attraction here today. Friday, Valetka Surratt in "A Rich Man's Plaything," being the story of a poor girl who is loved and received it. Saturday, Edwin Arden in "The Iron Heart," telling how a hard heart is softened through the touch of a child, and Pearl White in the 13th chapter of "The Fatal Ring."

Boulevard—A photoplay discussing the practice of speculators in cornering the food supply for an entertaining history, is "The Food Gamblers," showing here today and starring Wilfred Lucas and Edda Miller. Friday, Olive Thomas in "An Even Break," Saturday, Vincent Serrero and the lovable Thanosher Kidlet in "A Modern Monte Cristo."

Alhambra—Anita King in her first Prohman production, "The Girl Angel," will be seen here today. Friday, Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne in "In the Diplomatic Service." Saturday is Ardrama day with Anna Q. Nilson in "The Moral Code," and the Hearst-Pathe News.

Dundee—A sweet and pleasing story is told in "Environment," which is the photoplay attraction at this theater today, starring Mary Miles Minter. Friday is likewise a cheerful picture, being Baby Marie Osborne in "Shadows and Sunshine," and the Hearst-Pathe News. Saturday comes Olive Thomas in "Madcap Madness" depicting the adventures of a young college dandy's sort of a person.

Grand—Valetka Surratt in "A Rich Man's Plaything," her latest William Fox photoplay, will be here today. The story tells of a girl who wishes for wealth and imagines what good she could do with it. Friday, Pearl White in chapter 18 of "The Fatal Ring," and other good pictures, Saturday, Jack Devereaux in "The Grafters."

Apollo—Jean Sothorn in "A Muté Appeal" is promised to be the best picture that has ever been released on the Ardrama program. The Hearst-Pathe News is also on the bill. Friday comes Wallace Reid in a Paramount production, "The Hostage." Saturday one of the highest things of the year, "Rasputin, the Black Monk," with an all-star cast of World players, telling a story of the downfall of the Romanoffs. William Duncan in the second chapter of "The Fighting Trail" will also be shown.

New Shrine Temple At Hastings Friday

Friday night in Hastings Tehama temple, Ancient Order of the Mystic Shrine, will come into existence. This will be the third temple of the order in Nebraska. At this time there are Shrine temples in only Omaha and Lincoln. In Omaha there is Tangier and in Lincoln Sesostris.

The Hastings temple will be organized under the direction of James Chandler, Kansas City. He is imperial chief ribbon and will arrive in Omaha early Friday morning. Here he will be met and accompanied to Hastings by Tangier temple patrol. Tangier temple drum corps and 100 of the nobles of the Shrine. At 7:10 o'clock Friday morning, on a special train over the Burlington, the party will leave for Hastings, picking up 75 of the nobles of Sesostris temple at Lincoln. From there the train will run through to Hastings without stops, arriving at 11 o'clock.

The work of instituting Tehama temple will start early in the afternoon and continue until the last of the 60 candidates have passed over the burning sands and quenched their thirst with camel's milk. If everything goes well, the Omahans will leave for home at 2 o'clock Saturday morning, reaching here at 7 in the morning. In putting on the Shrine work the Omahans will assist Imperial Chief Ribban Chandler.
