Ontario Plans Training For Boys and Girls

Woman's Century, the official organ of the National Council of Women of Canada, reports that a survey is to be made by the provincial government of Ontario to secure definite information as to the occupational opportunities in Ontario for boys and girls, with the view of establishing vocational bureaus. The women have asked that bureaus to gather data concerning the nature and cost of the training required for girls to enter the various trades and professions be organized and supervised by women experts.

Honor Dr. Dishong, Who Goes to France.

The Doctors' Wives Kensington club chose George Washington's birthday as a suitable date for the patriotic dinner-dance and reception they are giving at the Prettiest Mile club in honor of Dr. G. W. Dishong, whose wife is one of their members and who enlisted in the Nebraska base hospital corps, soon to be called into service.

Dinner will be served at 7 o'clock to club members and their husbands. This is to be followed at 9 o'clock by a general reception and dance. Patriotic decorations will prevail.

The club of doctors' wives is one of the interesting women's clubs of the city. It was organized ten years ago. The women meet once a week now to make suggestions for the base hospital. Dr. Dishong is the only husband to be enlisted in the Red Cross unit, hence all the honors are to be his.

Mrs. A. P. Overgard is president and Mrs. A. E. Tyler secretary. Other members are Mesdames Robert Muirhead, S. McCleneghan, W. H. Shearer, D. T. Quigley, W. H. Pruner, A. K. Detweiler, C. H. Ballard, Newell Jones, C. B. Foltz, Floyd Clark, W. P. Wherry, G. Alexander Young, Paul Ellis, A. D. Dunn, Warren Thompson, C. H. Newell, F. W. Heagy and G. W. Dishong. Don't anybody get sick Friday night! It'll be too hard to find a doctor. They will all be at the party!

Wedding at Camp Cody.

On St. Valentine's day the Rev. John L. Barton of the army Young Men's Christian association officiated at the marriage of Miss Dollie Clayton of Ogalala, Neb., to Lieutenant Leon H. Davis of the 127th field artillery, a former Nebraska newspaper man. Lieutenant and Mrs. Davis had been married some ten years, but became estranged about a year ago. A reconciliation was effected, however, the bride came to Deming and they were at once reunited. They will make their home at Camp Cody, the present station of the bridegroom, until his regiment moves to France.

Honors for Omaha.

Chief Yeoman Samuel Slotky, a graduate of Omaha university and former member of The Bee staff, reflects credit on the local university's psychology course, Dr. D. E. Jenkins states, by his appointment to the psychiatric staff of the Great Lakes naval training school. Fourteen college men, all graduates of the biggest schools in the country, are included in the staff, whose work is to weed out the unfit. Mr. Slotky is home on a furlough which extends till Saturday night.

Omaha Girl Starred in Movies.

Miss Mildred Havens, former Omaha girl, is starred in the Edison production of "The Courage of the Commonplace," a film in five parts.

Visiting Nurses Seek Members

Mrs. W. E. Rhoades

A campaign to raise the Visiting Nurse association's membership from 500 to 5,000 was launched today by Mrs. W. E. Rhoades, chairman of the membership committee, assisted by Mrs. Victor B. Caldwell, Mrs. W. B. Roberts and Mrs. C. E. Scarr. Committees to work in churches and schools are soon to be named and 1,000 letters will be sent out.

One-dollar memberships are solicited from every woman in the city who can afford it. The money is needed to meet increased demands for service made upon the association.

Two tubercular nurses are a crying need in Omaha, according to Miss Florence McCabe, superintendent. The staff numbers 11 nurses. Last year's budget was $16,000.

"Our rooms in the city hall are donated, so all money goes to employ nurses and to provide nourishment and supplies for needy families," said Mrs. Rhoades.

"The visiting nurses do a large work educationally along lines of sanitation—also teach mothers how to intelligently care for their children, thus preventing much sickness and suffering that would otherwise fall to their lot. They are like angels of mercy going about in these destitute homes where often the first thing they do cold winter days is to build a fire before they can minister to their patients."

Checks should be sent to 408, city hall.

Dinner for Army Men.

Miss Fern Kissell entertained at dinner Wednesday evening in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Clyde Moore and Dr. and Mrs. Jack Lynn. Dr. Moore has just received his commission as captain in the Nebraska base hospital unit and Dr. Lynn a first lieutenant's commission with orders to report at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. Miss Johnson and Sergeant Earl Olsen and Ernest Knight, flying cadet at Fort Omaha, were the other guests.

Mrs. Prinz Loses Rings.

Mrs. George B. Prinz has lost her wedding and engagement rings, which she laid on the stand in the wash-room at the Fontenelle after the Masefield lecture Monday. The engagement ring is a solitaire with the initials of Mr. and Mrs. Prinz inscribed in the gold and the wedding ring is an unusual one, with the appearance of two rings intertwined. A reward for their return is offered.

Mr. and Mrs. Prinz Entertain.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Prinz will have in their box party at the Boyd this evening Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Foye, Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Kountze, Mrs. Ward Burgess, Mrs. Fred Nash, Mr. Charles W. Hull and Mr. John Lee Webster. The party will have supper at the Fontenelle after the theater.

Party for Recent Bride.

Mrs. C. L. Modest entertained informally at her home this afternoon, complimentary to Mrs. Alfred Burr, formerly Miss Geraldine Gray of Columbus, Neb., who came to Omaha as a bride. The guests were sorority girls from the University of Nebraska, most of them Thetas.

Noted Sculptor Here.

Mr. Ben B. Cable, sculptor, of Galesburg, Ill., spent last week in Omaha with his niece, Mrs. Louis C. Swartzlander, and her husband, Dr. Swartzlander. Mr. Cable will return for another visit in the spring.

Food Sale for Church.

Women Past Forty Are Making Good

Chicago, Feb. 21.—Women past the 40-year mark are being given their place in the industrial sun and daily are disproving the statement that they are incapable of filling important positions. Miss Florence Schee, head of the bureau of employment of the woman's committee, State Council for Defense, is demonstrating this in Chicago by replacing men and young women in various commercial and industrial activities with women past the two-score mark. The success with which these women fill the positions is being attested, Miss Schee stated, in the numerous testimonials of employers and the steadily increasing demand for these women.

Miss Schee is specializing in placing women past 40 and untrained in commercial fields. Out of 500 given employment only 15 have failed to qualify, Miss Schee said.

Success of This Class.

Testifying to the success of this class of employes in commercial work is the following letter made public by Miss Schee:

"We find that the women you have recommended are far better than any we have ever had. They are extremely conscientious and they have a sense of loyalty to their work and their employer that one rarely finds among their younger sisters. We will take all we can get."

"I think it is ridiculous to say that the untrained, unattached woman who has passed the age of 40 cannot take her place in the industrial world," Miss Schee said. "When this type of woman first began to apply for positions here we asked employers to take her, if for no other than patriotic reasons. But now we are receiving letters daily in which heads of firms tell us that these women are just as satisfactory and in many cases even more so than men or younger women. They tell us that they are just as efficient and more faithful and steady than the others."

A Place for Women.

The contention that there was no place for untrained women past 40 was made recently at a meeting of the employment committee members. It was argued there that youth and training are essential to successful competition under existing conditions.

Even Wealthy Children May Be Under-Nourished; Lack of Knowledge, Cause

Not only the children of the poor, but children of the well-to-do, are in danger of under-nourishment if their mothers do not properly understand food values, Miss Nellie Farnsworth of the federal food administration emphasized today in a talk to Miller Park Mothers' club in the school auditorium.

"There are five classes of food and each child must have one food from each of these classes each day in order to be well fed," said Miss Farnsworth. "The classes are: First, milk and milk products, meat and meat products and substitutes; second, cereals and breads; third, whole-come fats; fourth, fruit and vegetables, and fifth, sweets."

Care in putting up lunches for school children was advised. "Candy is not the only way to give sweets to children. Syrup, honey, dates and figs are better," she said.

Public kitchens for women who are employed during the day have done good work, Miss Farnsworth pointed out. "Everything must be done to uphold the homes and the home ideal now that so many women are in business, she said. Miss Farnsworth spoke of conservation as applied to the child and emphasized the necessity for training them well, for they are to carry on the work of the reconstruction period. Readiness to care for the children orphaned by the war, to take them into homes instead of leaving them to wholesale bringing up in institutions, was recommended.

Charity Day

The Columbia (S.C.) women did active work to support the existing social service agencies by the collection of a penny for each year of life from children of from 1 to 10 years of age. Older persons contributed larger amounts, and the collection netted the associated charities about $300.

Red Cross Notes

Unitarian church women have organized a Red Cross auxiliary to make surgical dressings. The first meeting was held Wednesday afternoon between the hours of 1 and 2 in the assembly room. The room is not completed, but the need for dressings is so great the women decided to wait no longer. Mrs. W. F. Burr is chairman, Mrs. Henry Rauske secretary and Mrs. George Gray treasurer.

Work in this auxiliary, which will be carried on each Wednesday, is not confined to members of the church. Women of the neighborhood, Turner boulevard and Harvard streets, especially in apartment houses, are urged to help. Mrs. E. Parrish and Mrs. E. E. Brando are the supervisors.

Present Wednesday were Mesdames Walter Abbott, Richard Kimball, Robert Cowart, H. P. Jensen, Roger McKenzie, Miss Greenleaf, Kenneth Reed, N. P. Dodge, Jr., Robert Leavens, William Newton, Daniel Cary, Roland Jones, W. H. Manlove, Samuel Carter, T. H. Hartan, R. D. Van Tassel, Isabel Abbott, Harry Holdrege, A. D. Hoag, and Misses Lillian Sandberg and Helen Pickens.

February 28 is the date set for the first Thursday evening opening of the public worksheds Mrs. F. W. Carnichael. The rooming shop will not be open tonight.

A time clock to record the number of hours women work was installed in the public workshop today. Interest is keen among Red Cross workers to put in enough hours to qualify for the different benches. Thirty-two hours entitles one to wear a red cross on the left side pocket; 25 hours, a cross on the pocket and one on the cuff, and 125 hours a two-inch band under the cross on the pocket. Additional honors will be announced later by Louisa Dier.

Women finishing courses of instruction are notified that their cards must be signed by the chairman of instruction for Omaha Red Cross chapter, Mrs. Leigh Leslie, as well as the one who taught them, in order to make their cards legal.

May 6 to 13 is the week set for the second Red Cross war fund campaign. Nebraska's quota and that of Douglas county will be announced soon.

Mrs. A. W. Clark of Sutton, Neb., reports 215 cards in the Sutton chapter. This is the largest in Clark county.

Valentine chapter made joy in the hearts of state war house workers when they shipped—case of 75 rolls of surgical gauze. When the boxes are repacked one roll of the Valentine gauze will go into each case sent to France.

You Can Have a Cadillac at Cost

I am going to dispose of my entire stock of Cadillac automobiles, including nine carloads of Style 57, 1918 models, which arrived from the factory just recently--at exactly what they have cost me.

Here is why I make this extraordinary offer:

Recently, as has been announced by the Omaha newspapers, I secured the contract for the sale and distribution of the Peerless Eight motor car in Nebraska and southwestern Iowa. I no longer represent the Cadillac company. This change was made after I had completed arrangements (including selection and purchase of 1918 model cars) to handle the Cadillac automobile during the present year. I had been the distributor in Omaha and contiguous territory for nearly nine years.

Naturally, after changing factory connections, I expected the Cadillac company to take the cars off my hands. I offered them at a sacrifice of thousands of dollars to me. The company would not accept my proposition. Then I made the same offer to its new Omaha distributor, but we could not agree.

I extremely dislike to cut the price on the Cadillac car. It is a splendid car, worth every cent asked for it by Cadillac dealers. But I must turn into cash the investment I now have in these automobiles. So I am going to offer you what I know is the best motor car bargain ever offered to the people of the middle west.

Your choice of a brand new, 1918 Cadillac—roadster, phaeton, touring car, victoria or brougham—at a saving to you of from $200 to $350, depending upon the style you select.

On the same basis I will also dispose of my large stock of used cars—many of these Cadillacs practically as good as new.

During the nine years that I have been in the automobile business here I have built up a reputation for honest representations, fair dealing and dependable, satisfactory service, which I prize above any other asset. I am equipped, at my new quarters, Thirty-first and Harney streets, to give the best possible attention to cars. I will continue the policy I have always maintained and will continue to do business at my present establishment. Every Cadillac car sold by me will be sold under the standard guarantee of the manufacturer. My Cadillac cars are now on sale at our building. Our salesmen are ready to demonstrate them and deliver at once the car you choose. First come, first served. They will not remain long unsold—they cannot, at the price.

Don't wait. As a dealer of many years' experience with the better class of motor cars, I again tell you, this is the biggest bargain in the automobile line ever offered in Omaha. Get your Cadillac NOW, while the price is lower than it is likely to be again. Come today or telephone for an early appointment.

If you are in need of Cadillac parts, I can supply you. I have a large supply on hand, which will go at the same sacrifice being made on the motor cars.
