Mr West said the league had always been for universal training and always would be. He called attention to the fact that the league was for universal military training when it was harshly criticised as being militaristic, but said subsequent events, which drew us into the great world war, have shown the organization

He said the league will continue to be for universal training, whether the people want it or not, and that he is sure universal training will have to come after the war. The affairs of the league, he said, are being conducted efficiently and Every man has just a little of the gambling instinct in him; some have a great deal more. In any case, enough to appreciate the sporting chance. First, is your time worth money to you, Do you appreciate the added ed expense involved in a period of disability from either accident or illness? All right, then follow me.

It wouldn't lessen your faith in a doctor to find him taking his own medicine, would it? Then here is my case. I am starting to build is my case. I am starting to build a business. I know my time is worth as much to me as my last employer thought it was to him. Then, as now, I felt I could not afford to be sick or laid up by an accident. Could I get any guarantee that I wouldn't be? No! But I have a chance to bet, so I win either way. Here's the idea. I am willing to pay ten dollars a month willing to pay ten dollars a month with the idea I won't be sick or hurt and think I am a winner each month that I lose that ten. Some month that won't stop me from ac-cident or sickness and then I'll win the other way. $200 to $500 or a twenty to fifty shot or even 3,000 to 1 if I was accidentally killed.

Really I take a little more of this bet. You should have more or less of it. Don't depend on the extra long shot of a railroad ac-cident ticket; read one all through. If you could afford to lose time and get no indemnity this is a good bet, and if you can't afford to you owe it to your family and yourself to place your side of the stakes NOW. Let me show you real coverage.

Chiropractic Talks

Lumbago is a muscular rheumatism in the small of the back, many times confused with sciatica. The primary cause of lumbago is a subluxation of one or more of the spinal segments, producing nerve pressure.

The pain and rigidity of the muscles is caused by the nerves not keeping the lymphatic system in proper order: in such condition there is so much waste matter in the muscles that the least movement of them is very painful.

The subluxations that are found in cases of lumbago do, many times, cause bowel disorders, such as irregular movement, allowing poison to re-main in the system that should be Lauder was continually telling Mr. main in the system that should be Morris of a wonderful estate he had in mind in Scotland, and which he assert herself, due to a mechanical interference in the spine, simply does the best she can under the existing conditions.

Exposure to wet and cold, falls, iars, shocks or anything that injures the spine or causes a misplacement of one or more of the vertebrae, producing nerve pressure, are the direct cause of lumbago, and it is this nerve pressure that, if allowed to exist, produces pain to such an extent that motion is practically impossible. This lack of mobility is quite different from paralysis in that a person does not dare to move these muscles, realizing that there is great pain con-

izing that there is great pain connected with such action.
One of the functions of the lymphatic system is to help dispose of the waste material in the body, but it cannot do its work properly if there is not sufficient life force or nerve supply transmitted to the affected part; nature must have free and uninterrupted transmission of this life force or human electricity at all times. Thu when the lymph glands become clogged, preventing them from performing their function the waste material remains and causes irritation, with pain and swelling.

tion the waste material remains and causes irritation, with pain and swelling.

In lumbage, as in other forms of rheumatism, the kidneys also are of great importance and chiropractors do not overlook this important function or part that the kidneys play in keeping the system cleared of the bedily poisons. Lumbage exists only when there is nerve pressure interfering with nature to such an extent that it is unable to perform its task of carrying away the waste material.

This is why Chiropractic has been so suc-

the waste material.

This is why Chiropractic has been so successful with lumbago and all muscular rhounatism. Chiropractic deals with the nervous system, the motive force that moves various parts of the body. If the body is given the proper amount of nerve force it will take care of all the operations in the body that are necessary to keep all parts of the body healthy.

of the body healthy.

When a person remembers that it is not the blood, but the nerves that determine whether or not a part is healthy, then that person gets at the real cause of diseased conditions. The various parts of the body are controlled and taken care of by life force generated by the brain or human dyname; cut off this life force from a certain part of the body and instantly that part has lost its mobility, its natural function, there is no repair, no chance for nature to perform its functions, there is only deto perform its functions, there is only de struction, a backward process commonly called disease; to a Chiropractor this is inco-ordination.

Chiropractic adjustments free impinged

Chiropractic adjustments free impinged nerves, allowing nature to assert herself, which consists in eliminating bodily poisons and building up resistance and putting the body in the best condition possible. No human being can cure disease regardless of what form. Chiropractors can not and do not claim to cure disease. But they can and do adjust the mechanical interference in the spinal column which is primarily the cause of so-called disease.

Chiropractic adjustments are but the cause of so-called disease.

Chropractic adjustments are but the means of making the body mechanically perfect. All of the curative power in the body is controlled by the brain, generated by it, and transmitted over every nerve to every tissue cell in the body.

Next Sunday, Article No. 18, "Chiropractic for Spinal Meningitis," will be printed in The Bee. Soldiers may secure adjustments free o
