

HOUSE SUSTAINS WAR DEPARTMENT DRAFT QUOTA PLAN

Shallenberger's Amendment Providing for Credits for All Volunteers in Military and Naval Service Adopted.

Washington Bureau of The Omaha Bee, 1311 G Street. Washington, April 13.—(Special Telegram.)—By a vote of 244 to 118, the house has rejected that portion of Representative Shallenberger's amendment to the so-called draft bill providing that quotas called for in several states, territories and the District of Columbia to increase the military establishment of the United States temporarily shall hereafter be determined in proportion to the total number of persons registered and liable for military service, including all aliens, who have waived all claims for exemption.

Debate Animated.

The debate was animated throughout the day, the members showing the liveliest possible interest in the proposition, which has attracted nation wide attention.

Both Representatives Sloan and Reavis took occasion to explain their views on the Shallenberger amendment. Mr. Sloan contending that the resolution did not seek to adjust the inequalities that have come to light in Nebraska, and especially in the district which he represents, but he believed something more nearly equitable ought to be adopted for future draft calls. He showed that in the Fourth district the number of registrants ranged from 20 per cent in Class 1 in Butler county to 98 per cent in Seward, Gage having 74 per cent, while Saunders had 80 per cent and the average in the United States being only 27 per cent. The average outside of the Fourth district, Mr. Sloan said, was 30 per cent, while in his district, the Fourth, it was 45 per cent. He showed that in Division No. 1, Omaha, 62 per cent had been put in Class 1, while in Division No. 2 only 25 per cent had been thus designated, notwithstanding that Division No. 2 in Omaha has more men classified in Division No. 1. These statements were based, he said, on figures furnished Mr. Shallenberger by Governor Neville.

Cause of Irregularities Explained.

He very frankly said that much of the difficulty had arisen because men had not claimed exemption, which brought about the inequalities complained of.

Representative Reavis—The United States has been taking a census of man-power, and has selected those in Class 1 presumably honestly and in good faith, as best fitted to bear arms for their country. There was never a time when the nation needed its most efficient soldiers more than it needs them now. It is of little concern to me what town or county or state a soldier comes from, because when he comes it is as a soldier of the republic. I say to you that if every man able to contribute to the military establishment in this country lived in my state I would suggest that the nation go and get him because he would go, first as a citizen of the nation, and second, as a citizen of my state.

The resolution as it now stands adopts Class 1 in all the counties in the United States as a basis for drawing soldiers, hence any county with a high Class 1 will be called upon to make up that which is lacking in the slacker counties throughout the United States.

Elder of Saints' Church Captured by the Turks

Independence, Mo., April 13.—(Special Telegram.)—The oratorio "Elijah" was sung by the conference choir of 250 voices here last night. General Church Chorister Albert N. Hoxie of New York directed the chorus.

The soloists were Mrs. James Needham of Toronto, Canada, soprano; Mrs. Havens of Kansas City, contralto; Richard C. Smith of Independence, tenor, and Paul N. Craig of Lamoni, Ia., baritone.

The name of Roy Harder of Flint, Mich., was approved for ordination to the office of high priest.

News has been received here that Elder Rees Jenkins, missionary to Palestine, has been captured. Carried to Damascus and is still in the hands of the Turks.

Apostle Green explained to the conference that Elder Jenkins stayed there through his own choice, every inducement to get him to leave having failed. He chose to share the fate of the Palestine saints. Although ample means had been supplied him for the purpose, his wife still is in Jerusalem.

Merchant Ships' Bulkhead Protection to Be Doubled

Washington, April 13.—All American merchant vessels will be equipped immediately with double the number of bulkheads now carried for protection against torpedoes and mines. The shipping board approved the plan today as the most practical of all the non-sinkable schemes, and James C. Stewart of New York was asked to undertake supervision of the work.

Authority was telegraphed Mr. Stewart to purchase immediately the necessary equipment, including barges for handling material.

Eight instead of four walls hereafter will divide American ships into compartments, decreasing by 50 per cent the space which is likely to be flooded after an external explosion and increasing in the same proportion the chances of the vessel reaching port instead of going to the bottom.

MORE THAN 100 DIVISIONS USED IN GREAT HUN DRIVE

With the French Army in France, April 13.—Two strong enemy attacks Wednesday night and this morning in the vicinity of Noyon, which were repulsed easily by the French gives rise to the question whether the Germans are about to make another attack on their southern flank.

It is quite evident that the German high command is beginning to experience some disquiet over the loss of so many men and the dislocation of so many divisions which have not given the results expected.

Already considerably more than 100 German divisions have been thrown into the fight and more than 70 divisions have since been withdrawn to fill up the gaps in the ranks. When it is remembered that the Germans hitherto have not taken a division out of the fighting line until it has suffered a minimum of 2,500 casualties some idea may be obtained of the enormous extent of their losses.

The total strength of a German division on this front is 13,570 men, of whom 8,400 are infantry, machine gunners and cyclists and the remainder artillerymen, engineers, ambulance attendants, transport workers and a squadron of cavalry.

Detailed particulars concerning German liquid flame-throwing organizations show that to a reserve regiment of engineers of the Prussian guard is entrusted this terrible arm. Three battalions, each of four companies containing 120 men especially trained for the purpose, are used. All the men are young as the service calls for strength and is very hazardous. Detachments from this regiment are attached to all units along the front.

Dutch Protest Answered By U. S. Secretary of State

Washington, April 13.—America's reply to the recent statement of the Netherlands government, bitterly protesting against and denouncing the action of the United States in taking over Dutch ships in its ports, was made public tonight in the form of a memorandum by Secretary Lansing, a copy of which has been sent to the Netherlands legation.

Pointing out that the Netherlands government itself does not question the legality of the act, Mr. Lansing devotes himself to a demonstration that it was an act of necessity, resulting from Germany's menacing attitude, which prevented Holland from fulfilling its engagements and that instead of an injustice the step results in real benefit to the Dutch ship owners and people.

Baker May Call for Army of 3,000,000 Men

Washington, April 13.—Chairman Dent of the military committee told the house today he had been holding up the army appropriation bill until the return of Secretary Baker from Europe, to find out whether he wanted 1,500,000 men provided for or 3,000,000 men.

"If Secretary Baker wants 3,000,000 men," he added, "I am going to vote for that."

Wide Open to Money Makers

A Group of Best Men in the State Open Way to Enormous Profits in Commodity of Universal Necessity

A number of big industrial interests, together with several of the foremost bankers and leading business men of their state, have combined to give impetus to one of the most gigantic enterprises ever launched. The business has already made amazing profits. Dealing in a

The demand for their product is absolutely unlimited and the supply can be produced without limit with adequate facilities. The business being now in operation, in the hands of the best and most capable men, and profits having multiplied fivefold within a short time, it will certainly attract the attention of every man who realizes that now is the time of all time to make money and make it fast.

In analyzing this amazing opportunity, it has the one big element of money-making known as the quick turn-over. Profits in the business on a single unit are sometimes as high as 100% in a day. It is often 100% in a week and the turn-over is constant and automatic. A unit making 100% in a day or week will continue to do so indefinitely.

All of these tremendous forces are calling for adequate facilities. The world demand for this product of universal necessity is urgent, and it is clearly seen that when the profits, even with limited capital, are the biggest in history, what must they be with capital enlarged to produce from an unlimited supply. The demand that is today without limit and cannot now be met with present facilities, large as they are?

This, in brief, is an outline of an enterprise that is being shaped to include other enterprises as this that have made our American millionaires. If enough of its product were marketed by this company to make a thousand millionaires in a year, the world demand would not be filled. It is, indeed, an amazing opportunity. BARRAGE BLOCKS ATTACK AGAINST AMERICAN FRONT

German Shock Troops De-feated in Raid for Which They Had Been Planning for Several Weeks.

With the American Army in France, April 13.—In the raid carried out by the Germans Wednesday against the Americans northwest of Toul, the enemy intended to penetrate to the third line positions, according to information obtained from a prisoner. This is corroborated by material found on dead Germans. The enemy carried wire, dynamite, entrenching tools and other implements for organizing the positions.

The Americans knew in advance of the proposed attack through information obtained a day or two previously from prisoners captured by the French on an adjacent sector.

The attack was made by a special battalion of 800 shock troops, who had rehearsed the operation for two or three weeks behind the lines. As soon as the German barrage began, the American batteries, without waiting for a rocket signal, laid down a counter barrage with the result that less than 200 of the enemy succeeded in climbing out of their trenches and advancing toward the American line.

The German officers sent the men right through the barrage, but only two succeeded in reaching the front line and they were taken prisoner.

When the German barrage started, the American outposts moved into the first line, where with other infantrymen and machine gunners they waited for the advancing enemy. The Americans poured a deadly fire into the raiders, then climbed out of the trenches and engaged with grenades and in hand-to-hand fighting the few Germans able to cross No Man's land. The American infantrymen drove the enemy back to his own lines and, protected by machine gun and automatic fire, dragged the German dead back to the American trenches for identification.

The German losses were extremely heavy, as No Man's land was strewn with dead and numbers of the enemy were killed by the artillery without being able to leave the German trenches.

The French officers commanding units in a neighboring sector complimented the American officers on the courage and gallantry displayed in the operation and the splendid work of the artillery. Some of the battery men worked in gas masks for several hours.
