

LOYALTY CASES AT LINCOLN GO BEFORE REGENTS

Hearings of University of Nebraska Professors on Charges Made by Council of Defense Close.

Lincoln, Neb., June 11.—Sitting as judges of the evidence for and against professors of the University of Nebraska, charged with lacking proper Americanism, members of the university's board of regents tonight began deliberation on the question as to what action is to be taken in the cases of the accused instructors.

The hearing of the charges made by the State Council of Defense, was brought to a close today after two weeks of almost continuous sessions, in which the board of regents occupied the unique position of both jury and judges. Witnesses in and without the university were called upon to testify. The professors themselves took the stand in denial that they were lacking in their support of the government in prosecuting the war.

Charges of Council.

The council's charges were that some of the university's instructors had "assumed an attitude calculated to encourage among those who come under their influence within and without the university, a spirit of inactivity, indifference and opposition towards this war and an undesirable view with respect to the several fundamental questions inseparable from the war."

Attorney William F. Gurley, counsel for the defense body, in making his closing statement to the regents today, demanded that the following professors be dismissed from further service at the university:

H. K. Wolfe, C. E. Persinger, G. W. A. Luckey, L. E. Aylsworth, L. B. Tuckerman, Henry Blumberg, H. W. Caldwell and Erwin Hopf.

Attorneys for a number of the professors on the other hand asked that the accused men be exonerated from all suspicion of lack of aggressive support to the government.

Although the name of Dr. Paul H. Grummann was among those remaining for decision by the board at the close of the testimony, counsel for the state council did not include Professor Grummann in his demand for the dropping of the other eight professors. Professor Grummann's case rested wholly on the construction of words, Attorney Gurley said, and he was willing to let the board pass on the matter without comment from counsel.

NEBRASKA BLIND STATE WORKERS IN CONVENTION

Mayor Smith Welcomes Delegates to Omaha; Busy Program for Wednesday, With Trip to Manawa.

Blind men and women from all over Nebraska are here attending the biennial convention of the Nebraska Association of Workers for the Blind.

The convention opened Tuesday at the Rome hotel with about 25 delegates present. Lyle A. Harris, president of the association, made a short opening address and introduced Rev. E. H. Jenks, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who pronounced the invocation.

Mayor Smith was introduced and delivered the address of welcome, telling the delegates how glad Omaha is to have a convention of people who face life so bravely in spite of blindness and who make their own livings and carve out their own careers in the world.

Last evening was devoted to an informal reception at the hotel where the delegates visited and renewed friendships.

Wednesday's Program.

Wednesday the program will be a busy one. The morning session opens at 9 o'clock. President Harris will speak on "Our War Program." George C. Rothery will make an address on "The Man of the Hour." Don Arnold will talk on "Our Future Obligations." A report of the national convention of Workers for the Blind will be read by L. N. Muck.

MRS. WILSON HAD SUFFERED SO SHE WAS DESPONDENT

Troubles Begin to Disappear When She Starts Taking Tanlac.

"I am just so glad to see how perfectly my health is being restored that I feel like telling everybody about Tanlac," said Mrs. Amelia Belle Wilson, who resides at 1101 North 29th street, recently.

"My health commenced to fail about a year ago," continued Mrs. Wilson, "and since then I have suffered in so many ways that I had become despondent. There was such a numbness in my arms from my elbows to the tips of my fingers that I couldn't knit or crochet. My back hurt me dreadfully and my knees and ankles pained me so I could hardly walk. My nerves were so shattered that I was almost frantic. I slept very little and would get up in the mornings tired and worn out. I suffered and worried until I lost thirteen pounds in weight and was almost comatose. I somehow felt that it might help if I heard so much about Tanlac me, and it has made a wonderful difference in my feelings already. My appetite is splendid now and I can eat anything I want and my nerves are in much better condition. I usually sleep well at night and I am satisfied from the way my clothes fit that I have regained all my lost weight, and am beginning to feel like a new person. I can walk now without difficulty and be about my housework. I have good reason to believe, from what Tanlac has done for me up to this time, that I will soon be restored entirely and I am glad to tell others what is it that's giving me back my health. My husband took Tanlac for a while, too, and says he now feels fine all the time."

Here is another instance of the remarkable reconstructive powers of Tanlac. Mrs. Wilson is only one of many in Omaha and vicinity who have taken it with the same wonderful results. Tanlac has proved of great benefit to Mrs. Wilson because it contains certain medicinal properties which enrich the blood and promote a healthy appetite for nourishing food, thus helping to build up health and strength in the natural way. Tanlac has been very successful in overcoming nervousness and sleeplessness, not from a quieting effect on the nerves, for it has no such effect, but by strengthening the nerves and body and bringing back the normal state of health through its effect on the appetite and nutrition of the body.

Tanlac is sold in Omaha by Sherman & McConnell Drug Co., corner Sixteenth and Dodge streets; Sixteenth and Harney, Owl Drug company, Sixteenth and Farnam streets; Harvard Pharmacy, Twenty-fourth and Farnam streets; northeast corner Nineteenth and Farnam streets, and West End Pharmacy, corner Fortyninth and Dodge streets, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—Advertisement.
