

JIMS AND JACKS DIVIDE DELEGATES TO CONVENTION

Big Howl Goes Up Over Dahli-man for Chairman and the Matter Is Open; Metcalfe Scores German Press.

The "Jack," led by their indomitable general, Thomas B. Murray, threw a wrench into the democratic organization machinery last night in Swedish auditorium, where a county convention was held with satisfying oratorical accompaniments.

Everything went along as smoothly as the babbling brook of poetry until Chairman Morarty proposed that James C. Dahlihan should be named chairman of the Douglas county delegation to the state convention at Hastings on next Tuesday. During the evening R. L. Metcalfe, candidate for United States senatorial nomination, and other speakers, had voiced expressions of praise at the sight of an olive branch hanging over the "Jacks" and the "Jims." They regarded this as a happy augury for democracy.

Murray Protests.
The name of Dahlihan for chairman of the delegation, to be so named by the convention brought Murray to his feet with an objection to the former mayor. He insisted that Mayor Smith could more properly wear the honor.

L. J. Dunn followed with this objection: "This body has neither the practice, privilege nor the power to select the head of the delegation.
That action belongs to the delegation.
Indorsements made by this convention of members of the state central committee will not be binding and may be changed by the delegation at the convention. We should have regard for decency and not try to put through hand-picked representatives. The delegates will hold a caucus at Hastings and select their own chairman."

Mullen With "Jims." Arthur Mullen, national committeeman, said that the convention represented democracy and had the power to name a chairman of the delegation. He leaned toward the "Jims," and stood up with that faction on a rising vote. The first vote was declared in favor of the "Jims" by the chair, but a second vote resulted in at least a temporary victory for the "Jacks," when the chair announced that the convention would not name the chairman of the delegation.

The scrap will be taken to Hastings and as to the result, none can tell.
The delegation is supposed to have been made up on a 50-50 basis of "Jacks" and "Jims." There was no protest from either side on the personnel of the delegation.

Balks at Hitchcock.
John Fitz Roberts voted against the resolutions on the grounds that he could not endorse Senator Hitchcock whom he did not regard as 100 per cent American. The resolutions pledged Douglas county democracy to support President Wilson in the prosecution of the war.

The real feature of the convention was a stirring address by R. L. Metcalfe, who flayed an Omaha Germanlanguage newspapers and the Non-partisan League.

Scores German Papers.
"You cannot do your duty if you close your eyes to that German language paper published here in Omaha," he said. "I make no apology in branding this publication as one of the most insolent organs of Prussianism in America. There are not 12 German-language papers in this country that are true to the United States.
The only way to deal with them is to wipe them out. They fill their columns with insidious poison. The German language is of no use nor service in America in this crisis. The editor of the Omaha Tribune for 15 or 20 years has had more influence in the democratic party than any 50 men within the hearing of my voice."

"We must not be afraid to stand up and brand treason."
The Nonpartisan League is an organization of graft, drawing many of its members from those of German blood. I repeat what I have said before, that it is bad for men of German blood to join any organization in large numbers. We should see that our melting pot melts and that there shall be no clinkers."

Others Make Talks.
Arthur Mullen and Attorney General Reed addressed the convention.
Congressman Lobbeck and other candidates spoke.

The convention adopted the plan offered by the special committee, to limit the members of the new county central committee of 17, being four executive officers, one committeeman from each of the Omaha wards and one for the county at large. The new county committee was named as follows:

Chairman Lee Huff; vice chairman, W. A. Schall; secretary, C. F. Bossie; treasurer, J. H. Mithen; T. J. O'Connor, Dr. S. R. Patten, James Daughton, Lloyd Magney, W. P. Lynch, E.
D. O'Sullivan, William Roderick, George Kleffner, John P. Gentleman, F. L. Weaver, Edward McArdle, J.
A. Linahan and A. D. Compton. The ward and county committeemen will name precinct assistants for their subdivisions.

Lee Huff, J. C. Dahlihan, E. P.
Smith, Paul Skinner and Arthur Mullen were recommended as Douglas county members of the state committee.

Delegates to Convention.

vention were announced as follows:

Lt. Kenneth Norton Promoted in Oversea Air Training School

Lt. Kenneth Norton, who for the last six months has been instructor in bombardment in the air service in France and for nine months in active service, has been made adjutant of the instruction department of an American training school for aviators in France, according to information received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs.
Frank J. Norton, 117 South Thirty-eighth street.

Lieutenant Norton lived in Omaha practically all his life. He is a graduate of the Omaha High school and was a senior in the school of architecture at Cornell university when he enlisted in the aerial service.

Reality Transfers Decline, But Consideration is Larger

A decrease in the number of deeds and instruments filed during the past week in the office of Harry Pearce, register of deeds, over the corresponding week of last year is shown by the weekly report from the registrar's office. At the same time the considerations involved show an increase of $50,000 over the corresponding week of last year.

The report follows: July 22-29, 1918: 122 deeds, 311 instruments. Considerations, $363,179.
Corresponding week, 1917: 161 deeds, 385 instruments. Considerations, $309,141.

How Charming and Smart They Are The New Early Fall Frocks

It's a joy to look at them—they are so fascinating in their conception. And it's a double joy to be able to view them thus early in the season—more especially when our display is the most complete we have ever shown at this time of the year.

Foremost in popularity are Satins, Tricolette and Georgette, in dressier gowns; and for the tailored wear Tricotines, Gabardines, Serges and Wool Jerseys.

The new narrow lines, coat effects and Moyen age types are prominent and the loosely girdled idea comes to the fore.

Extensive use of braiding, deep fringe trimming and touches of Oriental embroideries enhance the beauty of the simple but extremely charming gowns.

New shades of Navy, Liberty Blues, Congo, Beaver, Platinum, Wistaria, Dark Copenhagen and Black.
