Summering in Omaha is Quite Popular Now

By MELLIFICIA.

SUMMERING in Omaha is becoming very popular, have you noticed? It's really awfully nice to have all one's friends in town, especially the younger girls, for they do brighten up the clubs and the dinner dances this year and are more delightful than ever before. Aren't the summer frocks dainty? Just find a comfortable wicker chair in some secluded spot on the club veranda and watch the fashion parade go by. Such smart gowns in gingham and lawn, with bows of the same material, poised like huge butterflies at the waist. The summery white net gowns with their wide ashes of pink and blue are attractive and the darker dresses in silk and satin are the last word in chicness. The military capes one sees on chilly evenings are very alluring. Mrs. Charles T. Kountze has such a pretty one, and Mrs. Howard Baldrige looks especially stunning in hers. Mrs. A. V. Kinsler and Mrs. Louis Clarke also favor the graceful cape.

Miss Florence Rahm has a charming guest, Miss Sophia Assman of St. Louis, and numbers of mid-summer affairs are being planned for her. Miss Rahm entertained a few friends at luncheon at the County club for Miss Assman Saturday, when the table was so attractive with its basket of garden flowers.

With the news of the fourth Liberty loan drive to be launched during the mellow September days we are looking for some new innovations in selling bonds. All our maids and matrons will work from dawn until dark, we know, and none will escape their wiles. September will be quite a drive month, for the annual tag day for the visiting nurses is set for the 4th, and then watch out for the next Red Cross campaign, it will be waiting in the wings.

Farewell for Major Pinto.
An informal farewell reception was given Friday evening in honor of Maj. A. Sherman Pinto, who is under orders to report to Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., and who is to depart at once for his station. The guests were members of the Masonic bodies with whom Dr. Pinto has long been associated, and the evening was spent in extending congratulations to the major on his having volunteered and been accepted for his important work. Dr. Pinto served through the long campaign in the Philippines as surgeon with army life and the duties that fall to a medical officer. Mrs. Pinto, assisted by Mrs. Homer E. Race, served refreshments, and after a few words of farewell had been spoken by John H. Butler and T. W. McCullough on behalf of the brethren, Mrs. Pinto and her sons gave several very enjoyable instrumental selections on the piano, 'cello and violin.

Student Nurses.
With a quota of 125, the United States Student Nurse Reserve has already enrolled more than 140 applicants in Douglas county. This leaves a good margin, according to Miss Gertrude Smith, for those who will fail to sign up or who will be unable to pass physical examination. There are still seven days left in which to apply. The stations in various parts of the city have been much handicapped by the failure of application blanks, enrollment cards, etc., to arrive. These have now reached Omaha and there will be no further difficulty in taking applications. Women between 19 and 35 years of age are wanted, with at least two years high school education, to take training for nursing work, for war camps and in the civilian hospitals in place of those nurses who have gone to France.

Wedding Announced.
Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Palmer of Grand Island announce the marriage of their daughter, Hazel, to Capt. William R. Gilchrist which took place July 27 in El Paso, Tex. The ceremony took place at the St. Clement's church, Rev. Fuller Swift officiating. The bride is well-known in Omaha, having completed her training course as a nurse at the Clarkson hospital. She has been serving her country at Fort Bayard, N. M.

Since their marriage the bridegroom has received the rank of captain and is a member of the colonel's staff as regimental intelligence and operative officer. The young couple will make their home at Deming, N. M., for the present.

Lawn Fete.
A lawn social is being planned by the women of St. Cecilia's parish to be given Wednesday and Thursday evening on the lawn of the cathedral. The streets will be roped off for dancing and a number of attractive features have been planned.

Y. W. C. A.
Mrs. Grace Gholson, state director of the Y. W. C. A. war work campaign in Nebraska, will speak at the First Congregational church Sunday morning, preceding the sermon.

Charming Bride of the Past Week

A charming bride of the week is Mrs. Lester George Heyn, who was Mrs. Beatrice Neir Morris before her marriage, which took place Friday.

The ceremony was performed by Rabbi Levy at the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Soule in Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Heyn will spend a few days at the Edgewater Beach hotel, returning this week to make their home in Omaha.

Our Soldiers' Morals and War Brides; Does it Pay? It Does

By Charles M. Cox.

(Charles M. Cox, of the Charles M. Cox company, is the biggest grain dealer east of Buffalo. He left his business to give all his time without compensation to War Camp Community Service, also paying all his own expenses. He has two sons in the army.)

The plump little person who served me my equally plump baked apple in the Community House at Chillicothe, O., told me that her husband was a private in the army.

"And where is he stationed?" I asked.

"Right here at Camp Sherman," she demurely answered.

"Oh, indeed. And are you permitted to see him much?"

"Certainly," she replied. "He can come to my room every evening between eight and ten, and can spend two nights a week with me."

"Is that so? And where is your room?"

"Why, right over there in the Y. W. C. A. building."

"Excuse me, my child," I said, "but how long have you been married?"

"Since last June," she replied. "How many lumps of sugar please?"

"No sugar," said I, "I like the taste of what I am drinking, and sugar neutralizes the taste. Are any other of the girls here married to soldiers?"

"Why, we all are!" smiled back the plump little body. "We are all war brides. There are only four girls in this building who are not married to soldiers."

And that is why I went to see the local representative of the War Camp Community Service, and learned from him that five hundred wives of young soldiers are being employed in a building adjacent to Camp Sherman at Chillicothe. I cast my eye about on the young women who check the coats, answer the telephones, wait on table and sell the goods in the Post Exchange and I asked more questions.

Takes No Chances.
It seems that the government is taking no chances of losing perfectly good soldiers through debauchery and bad habits indulged in during their leisure hours. The War Camp Community Service was organized under the Commissions on Training Camp Activities of the War and Navy departments to throw helpful influences about our boys, and to steer them straight in their pleasures as well as their duties. The above is one of the many ways in which War Camp Community Service is doing this, and the thing is working well. So much so that I am sure quite a percentage of our young soldiers are leading cleaner lives in the army than they did at home.

Chillicothe was no "spotless town." It was like the average small city. Then suddenly it bustled and whirled with the activity of building a huge camp for many thousands of men receiving those men and making a profit out of the job. Public spirit in Chillicothe was neither low nor high. It was average; which generally means that what is the business of the United States government is not the affair of the local dry goods merchant or druggist.

However, along came a couple of men, strangers to Chillicothe, and proceeded to get into its good graces and to organize it. These two men were L. H. Weir and W. C. Miller, hired and sent there by War Camp

Community Service—and they knew how to do it. They enlisted the support of the Red Cross and secured a building two hundred feet long, built in the shape of the Greek cross, located on land leased by the government just outside the cantonment limits and within a thousand feet of several barracks. This is the Community House, the ground floor of which can be and is used for a huge hall for assemblies and dances.

Hither come the wives, mothers, sisters and sweethearts of the men and visit over week ends, or at any time, and here come the soldiers to meet them. It steadies and heartens the men and it no less steadies and heartens the folks back home. Do they come? They certainly do. They quickly filled the Community House, and the demand caused the building of additional rooming houses forming a hollow square nearby. The Y. W. C. A. built a house for 125 people; the Masons built one for 60; the D. A. R. one for 100; the city of Columbus one for 60.

Entertainment.
The houses are unpainted but not crude. The furnishings are not expensive, but they are tasteful. The effect is that of a great summer hotel. A single room rents for one dollar a night, a double room for a dollar and a half. The project is self-supporting. Here mingle without formality or embarrassment in common dances and restaurant service the officer and the private. We are in the war to make democracy possible, and this Community House at Chillicothe is certainly doing its bit to encourage democracy in our army.

And the general? The commanding general? How does he view this arrangement? But for the general the thing would never have happened. In fact General E. F. Glenn who is in charge of the camp is more responsible for the success of the endeavor than any other one person. He endorsed it heartily and threw the weight of his influence in its favor. Incidentally, the general's daughter was married in the Community House.

The question that is being asked now is: "Does it pay?" Can we afford these seeming luxuries? In answer let me say that the two watchwords of our army must be morals and morale. The boys in camp at Chillicothe are nearly all from Ohio, and it is possible for their "women folks" to visit them often. This keeping in touch with mother, with wife, sister or sweetheart does wonders in sustaining morale. It drives away homesickness. It makes the soldier "stick"; he keeps his nerve; he keeps his health. And as for morals?

"Mother is coming to see me next week," said a husky six footer in khaki to me. "I sure will be glad to see her." And I looked in his glad eyes and his wholesome face, and I said to myself: "Yes, it pays."

D. A. R. Card Party.
By special invitation the Daughters of the American Revolution will give their next card party at the Field club Tuesday afternoon. The hostesses will be Mrs. A. V. Shotwell, Mrs. John W. Battin and Mrs. W. A. Bradbury. The party given this week at the Carter Lake club was a great success, 33 tables being placed for the game.

Narcissus Chapter Luncheon.
Narcissus chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star will hold a luncheon at the Prettiest Mile club Thursday August 8, at 1 o'clock. Reservations must be made to Mrs. Bert Ranz not later than Tuesday.

Sunshine Party.

To Banish Wrinkles and Freshen Up Quickly

After a strenuous day outdoors, when winds, heat and exhaustion have combined to take away one's freshness and caused the skin to wrinkle and sag—or after a tedious or fretful day indoors—one often has urgent need for some quick rejuvenator. Maybe there's a dance on for the evening, or some other social event. How in the world can one make herself presentable, looking as she does? It's quite easy.

Just get an ounce of powdered exfolite and a half pint which hazel at the nearest drug store, mix the two and bathe the face in the solution for two or three minutes. Then look into your mirror and behold the wonderful transformation! Wrinkles have vanished, loose, tired muscles have been rested and "firmed up," marks of fatigue have flown, and you look so much brighter and younger you can hardly believe your eyes. No one need hesitate to try this, the witch hazel and exfolite being so perfectly harmless.—Advertisement.
