

SOUTH SIDE FREIGHT CARS MOVE SLOW FOR OMAHA SOLDIER

Travel in Style to Seaboard, but Accommodations Not So Good as He Reaches the Front Line.

Sergt. H. M. Severin, nephew of Clarence Meany, Twenty-fourth and N streets, writes enthusiastically of his life "somewhere in France," where he is stationed with the headquarters company of the 340th Field artillery.

"We traveled in style across the states and then spent about a week in Camp Mills, N. Y., which was long enough to get into the big town once. The next time we landed was in England where they gave us a ride in some third class coaches to a rest camp. We surely needed a rest after our journey over the big pond and I hope they have a bridge built by the time we get back, as I was a very poor sailor and the shores of England surely looked good to me."

"I ran across a boy from the South Side last night, who asked where I was from. He then asked me if I knew George Collins, justice of the peace. He was a nephew of Collins and enlisted in California. He has been here since December."

Jerry Howard Addresses Live Stock Commission Men

Jerry Howard surprised members of the Omaha Live Stock Exchange yesterday noon by appearing on the steps in the lobby of the Exchange building to ease his conscience with an apology for an insult to Gene Melady and James Bulla and winding up with a strong recommendation of the qualities of a certain Jerry Howard, at present running for a seat in Nebraska's capitol.

BOTTOM DROPS OUT OF MACHINE SLATE NEAR END

(Continued From Page One.) lution of the problems that will follow. "Jeff" spoke on Saturday at a picnic in Burlington and also to the picnic in Krug park.

Congressman Sloan, whose senatorial campaign has loomed up progressively during the last few weeks, offered this statement during the week: "I am in favor of a vigorous prosecution of this war to a triumphant conclusion, and a settlement upon American terms. I believe we should elect a republican senate and house so that the republican party may have its share of the duties, responsibilities and service in the nation's affairs at this time, and be in position to cope with and determine the large questions that will arise in the years following the war. I believe that strong and wholesome republican influence should be exerted through congress in the affairs of our government, both in time of war and in time of peace, and this demands the election of a republican senate and house."

"Let us forget," Election Commissioner Moorhead reminds voters that voting places will be open from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m., in 168 districts of the county. He has experienced difficulty in filling some of the vacancies in the election boards, but by the application of an unofficial draft he succeeded in filling the gaps. Voters are again urged to vote early but not often.

Inadvertently the name of Fred C. Rogers was omitted from the reference to the county commissioner contests in four districts. Mr. Rogers is out for the republican nomination in the First commissioner district. He is well known as a former cigar dealer now in the automobile business. There is a pretty three-cornered race on between Mr. Rogers, Henry W. Dunn and Henry S. McDonald.

Jerry Howard, legislative candidate, was on the job yesterday with his "one-horse chaise," the same equine and vehicle which he used during the city primary campaign last spring. On the back of the chaise appears a sign addressed to "my friends," urging the proletariat and others to be mindful of the fact that Jerry is willing to work or fight.

The series of political ads which appeared in The Bee and other papers during the week over the name of C. G. Carlberg, republican candidate for the Water board, are causing a lot of talk. These statements present illuminating information on the inside workings and manipulations of the Water board. Mr. Carlberg promises that, if elected to the Water board, all questionable practices will be eliminated.

Dave Mercer and Edgar Howard, republican and democratic senatorial candidates, respectively, met on Farnam street yesterday morning and addressed each other as "senator."

George W. Marsh, republican candidate for state auditor, was also seen on the political Rialto during the week-end.

Joseph W. Marrow, bailiff of the district court, is after a republican nomination for police judge. He is promoting his platform of "work or fight."

W. G. Shriver has shown a burst of speed during the closing days of the campaign, in a three-cornered fight for the republican nomination of treasurer.

Herman C. Timme, republican legislative candidate, asks to be identified as active in improvement club and municipal affairs.

Make 'Em Round, Juicy and Luscious for Big "Pie Day"

No "open face" pies will go on Omaha's "Pie Day" for soldiers and sailors, stationed in and about Omaha. Every pie must be a "hunting case" pie, is the word that has gone out from the War Camps Community service, which is sponsoring the movement to see that every man in uniform gets a pie on Wednesday, August 28.

YET UNDECIDED ON QUESTION OF AK-SAR-BEN BALL

Less Pretentious Affair May Be Substituted; Board of Governors to Act Monday Night.

Despite published reports that the Ak-Sar-Ben ball had been called off for this year, the matter is still much "up in the air," and will not be definitely decided until after Monday night's meeting of the board of governors. Opinion is still divided as to the advisability of holding the affair, and the ball will probably not be held. Nevertheless no definite action has yet been taken. A less pretentious ball in the Auditorium may be substituted.

All the other Ak-Sar-Ben affairs will be held as usual this year, however. The parades will march and the carnival will regale its thousands as in former years. Arrangements for the carnival grounds on Capitol avenue have been completed by "Dad" Weaver. Fred Rogers of the White Motor company has given his garage for the use of an Ak-Sar-Ben office on the grounds.

To Be Best Ever. George Brandeis, chairman, and the remainder of the amusement committee have determined to make this year's carnival the best ever. The Con. T. Kennedy shows, now playing in Lima, O., will be the main attraction. Arrangements with two smaller concessions are being closed by Mr. Weaver. The Kennedy shows are having considerable difficulty in securing engines and in getting right of way for their train of 30 cars, but they expect to be in Sioux City the week before coming to Omaha.

Blair, Herman and Tekamah will be the guests at the Den on Monday night, which has been designated as "M. & O." night. John White of Blair, E. C. Burdick, Herman, and Herbert Rhoads, Tekamah, have notified "Dad" Weaver that they expect to be on hand, accompanied by several hundred delegates from the towns up the river. August 26 will be Lincoln night. Very likely no show will be given on September 2, Labor day. September 9 will close the season at the Den.

Grandjean Says Bank Caused His Arrest Upon False Grounds

As a recompense for seven weeks' confinement in the county jail, which he alleges was without just cause, A. E. Grandjean of the Grandjean Realty company of Springfield, Mo., formerly of Omaha, has filed suit for $50,000 against the American State bank of Omaha.

Mr. Grandjean was confined in the county jail about two months ago for a term of almost two months on the charge of depositing a bad check for $300 in the Omaha bank. Later he was released and has never been tried. Mr. Grandjean says that he received the check from a woman named Zuma Mann and that he deposited it in the American State bank. He at once began checking out on the account thus established. He says that none of the checks that he made out was refused by the bank. He used the money to pay the Mann woman for purchases which he made, he alleges.

Soon after, he alleges, he was arrested in Springfield, Mo., and brought to Omaha and confined in the county jail. His lawyer offered to pay the bank $300 to make good the check, but the offer was refused. Grandjean alleges. He asks $50,000 on two separate causes.

September Sugar Supply Same as August in Nebraska

Distribution of sugar for September will be on the same basis as in August, according to advices from the United States food administration to the Nebraska division. Nebraska has been allotted 4,158,000 pounds for general household purposes, and an additional 1,000,000 pounds for canning and preserving purposes. Distribution of the sugar will be made through the county food administrators of the various counties to retailers, who will be allotted certificates on the basis of two pounds per person among their customers. Hotels and public eating places will be granted certificates on the basis of two pounds for each 90 meals served; bakers will be given 70 per cent of their use during corresponding periods; less essential manufacturers will get 50 per cent of their former use; while essential manufacturers will be given their requirements, based on their output.

UP-TO-THE-MINUTE SCHOOLS

The quickness with which learned and unlearned are selected, specialized and "Lightning Trained" into a scientific Yankee army and navy, shows that by the out-of-date goose step school methods borrowed from the Prussians, whom it transformed into a nation of crazy demons, the Normans are wasting $5,000,000 or 100,000,000 years for Yankee boys and girls. These wasted years can be saved by turning the dial of education ahead, throwing the out-of-date boche system on the scrap pile and giving freedom for up-to-date individual personality. The school machine may win this year, but wait till the boys come home.

They were C. E. Adams of Omaha and Fred H. Hurd of Seattle. Friends of each candidate were active today in campaigning among arriving delegates. Word from Seattle was that Hurd was preparing to invade Portland backed by a delegation of 1,000 on a special train. Election probably will be held Thursday, the fourth day of the encampment.

JOHN LYNN Republican Candidate for State Representative Your Vote Will Be Appreciated. Thirteen Years a Resident of Omaha.

Hon. Ross L. Hammond Candidate for United States Senator

To the Voters of Nebraska:— On Tuesday next, you will vote in the primaries for nominees, and we assume that you believe it especially important to select the best available man for United States Senator. To name any other to head the ticket would be regrettable to the state at large and disastrous, perhaps, to the other nominees.

We, of Fremont, desire to tell you of our esteem for, and our absolute confidence in our neighbor, Mr. Ross L. Hammond. We know him well, for he has lived in Fremont the better part of his mature life. To know a man for a few months or a year is one thing—to have lived beside him for twenty, thirty or forty years is quite another. And some of us have known him for the full two score years.

Ross Hammond may have his enemies—to say otherwise might be a reflection on his character or his capacity. But he has ten times as many friends—neighbors who know him for what he is, and who recognize his achievements. It is hinted that certain labor elements are opposing Mr. Hammond, though this seems improbable in view of the fact that Mr. Hammond's manufacturing companies have, in the past years, paid literally millions of dollars in payrolls, and these companies are counted among the few successful ones in this section.

We, who are his neighbors in Fremont, are happy, therefore, to extend this assurance of our faith in his entire fitness, and our belief that he will be nominated. If nominated, we shall have high hopes of his election, and when he takes his seat in the Senate of the United States it will be generally conceded that Nebraska has made no mistake. Ross L. Hammond will be recognized as one that is able, capable and fearless, the peer of any that have honored the high office of Senator from Nebraska, while his unswerving loyalty to our Nation and its Flag will give pleasure to us all. Very sincerely,

ALBERT W. JEFFERIS FOR CONGRESS REPUBLICAN PRIMARY, AUG. 20
