OUR AIM. The best culture, intellectual, moral, religious, social.

MODERATE PRICES. Our semester and other fees are lower than many. On account of mounting prices they have been increased for next year.

Parents of Nebraska: The world is in turmoil. Perhaps your best contribution will be your boy or girl. You owe it to yourself, your children and the world to give that boy or girl the best possible training. In spite of the cost of war in men and money, college class rooms must be full next year or the world will suffer loss in its leadership. It is said our colleges furnish eighty per cent of our leaders. The college men and women of today will be the leaders of tomorrow. Will your children be among the number? Secretary of War Baker, General Leonard Wood, President Wilson, Commissioner of Education Clayton, Robert L. Kelly, Executive Secretary of Council of Church Boards of Education, all unite in saying that the number of those entering college next fall should be much larger than usual, and that this is a patriotic duty.

summer when he attends camp for six weeks and receives the pay of a private.

His relation to the draft is as follows: Any student so enlisted, though in the military service of the United States, he will be placed automatically and therefore must register after he has reached draft age and upon notice by the president. Upon stating on his questionnaire that he is already in the military service of the United States, he will be placed automatically by his local draft board in class 5-D, as provided by the selective service regulations. The draft board will not call him for induction so long as he remains a member of the Students' Army Training Corps.

Reported to President. In order that the college student may not even appear to enjoy special privileges, it is agreed, however, that when the day arrives on which according to his order number he would have been drafted, had he not already volunteered, the fact is reported to the president of the college, and to the commanding officer at the college, who reports it to the adjutant general. This is the day of reckoning for the college man.

The president of the college and the commanding officer will then report to the chairman of the committee on education and special training of the War department, for what form of military service the individual is in their judgment best qualified. They will recommend either that the student should continue his studies to prepare for work in medicine, engineering, chemistry, psychology, economics, etc., or that he should go at once to an officers training camp to prepare for an officer's commission in the infantry, artillery, etc., or that he should be assigned to work in the ordnance, quartermaster of other staff corps or sent immediately to a division at one of the camps. Lieutenant Colonel Rees, commander of the entire students' corps, has authority to dispose his men in the way best suited to meet the emergencies of the military and national situation at the time.

To Become Officers. The presumption is that, for the next year, the largest proportion of the student body reaching 21 years will be required to supply a large part of the officers needed for the national army. It is understood that at 15, four or five times as many officers will be required as the total number of students who will graduate from all American colleges and universities. Enlistment in students' army training corps, therefore, while it does not hold out any promise of an officer's commission, is at present the plainest road leading in that direction.

The student who shows no ability for special service in his college and military work will be ordered into active service as a private when his day of reckoning comes. Enlistment is for the duration of the war. If, however, the student fails to improve his college opportunities, he may be dismissed from college by action of the college authorities, and discharged from military service by the military authorities. He would then be subject to the operation of the draft. His enlistment may be cancelled for other sufficient causes, such as sickness, lack of funds, etc., upon recommendation of the president of the college and the military officer in command at the college.

May Be Transferred. Opportunity will be given for the enlisted student, who so elects, to transfer from army to navy, and vice versa, and to be assigned to active service in one of the various corps of the army upon recommendation of the college president and the proper military authority.

Regular uniforms, including hats, shoes and overcoats, will be furnished all members of the students' army training corps by the government.

Should congress lower the age of liability to immediate military service, men of the new ages not already enlisted, may find difficulty in entering the service otherwise than through the draft boards. In view of this possibility, all men expecting to enlist at all in the Students' Army Training Corps would do well to enter promptly.

University of Omaha. Miss Flora Buck, M. A., University of Wisconsin, has been engaged as instructor in English and History. New courses will be added in accountancy and stenography. Practicums are being made for introducing military drill for those who desire to enlist in the student army training corps. Those who take these military training will have membership in the national army and will at the expense of the government be given training for the army at training camps during the summer months.

Miss Nell Ward, M. A., University of Nebraska. will be in charge of the new department of pharmacy which is being established this year.

Special courses are being provided for teachers along the line of psychology and methods in kindergarten and primary teaching.

AT THE THEATERS

Opening Bill at the Orpheum.

Eva Tanguay tried to "kid" the people last night; she dashed off the stage singing "I don't care," at the top of her voice; when it is a cinch she does care, or she wouldn't work as hard as she did to please the folks. Eva knows full well that any time she doesn't make the multitude like her, the pay check stops, and, being human, she is going right along, doing her level damndest to earn the money that is slipped to her by the manager once a week. That's all for that. She is singing some new Tanguay songs in the old-time Tanguay fashion, and wears one gown that is striking; in fact it shows its real worth, for it is made of United States greenbacks, each worth its full face value in good red gold. Oh, no; it is cut low in the neck and high in the skirt, and has no train, but it has its attractions. Eva's best contribution last night was a verse from the "Marseillaise," a French song with such spirit as fairly roused the house. Indeed, she then showed herself a vibrant, animated picture, the incarnation of high resolve, and her audience fairly caught her mood and responded enthusiastically.

Helen Gleason and her associates offer a little comedy novelty with a bit of surprise in it that was quite well with the Sunday evening customers. Amoros and Jeanette make a good bit of fun with their eccentricities; Frisco caught popular approval with his syncopated xylophone performance, although he scarcely dispels the notion that it is real work to thump one; Florence shows some new ways to smoke a cigarette; he is quite delf; Jimmy Morton and his family deserve the applause they get.

Mystery Sketch at the Empress. A mystery sketch, based on psychic power, is the headline feature on the vaudeville program at the Empress theater during the first half of this week. The act is entitled "Concentration," and is presented by George Lovett, assisted by Mme. Zenda and Pauline Carroll, the musical oracle. It is a highly entertaining demonstration, embracing music, science and myth. Good, old-fashioned entertainment is contained in the singing and dancing act by Wilson and Wilson, backed by artists who present "The Bandman and His Band." Songs, dancing and music are presented by Doherty and Scalia, and "The Youngers" have a series of artistic posing and balancing that drew much applause Sunday. Virginia Pearson in "The Liar" and William S. Hart in "Over the Great Divide" are the features on the photoplay bill.

Abe and Mawruss Again. As soon as "Abe" Potash and "Mawruss" Perlmutter begin to hire a vampire in "Business Before Pleasure," which A. H. Woods will present at the Boyd theater on September 19 for an engagement of one week, the war is forgotten, and the audience settles itself to three hours of laughter. "Business Before Pleasure" introduces "Abe" and "Mawruss" as moving picture producers. The authors are Montague Glass, who created the two characters, and Jules Eckert Goodman, Alan Dale, the critic of the New York American, said: "There were so many laughs that gradually one grew tired even of the laughter. I can recall nothing that evoked such continuous mirth for a long time." Seats will be placed on sale Thursday, August 29. Mail order now.

Jack Norworth in Sight. Jack Norworth brings his chummy musical revue, "Odds and Ends of 1917" to the Boyd September 12, 13, 14. "Odds and Ends" is not a revue of New York theatrical successes, but rather a satire on current happenings of the present day and constructed for laughter purposes only. The presenting company, in addition to Jack Norworth, includes Harry Watson, jr., Bettie Barker, Sue Creighton, Mary Jayne, Marjorie Holtz, Gladys Alexander, Lillian Drewery, Jack Coogan, Joseph Herbert, jr., Usher Carlton, Fred Hawley, and a chorus of ability.

Orpheum's Second Week. For its second week, starting Sunday, August 25, the Orpheum will offer as its stellar attraction the "Futuristic Revue," presented by Countess De Leonardi, the celebrated, European violinist. The company includes, Mme. C. Zavaschi, coloratura soprano; Mlle. E. Navarry, dramatic soprano; Mlle. E. De Dreux, mezzo soprano; Mr. L. Casiglio, first tenor; Mr. L. Modena; second tenor; Mr. G. Rossina, first baritone; Mr. M. Zuiba, basso cantante; Mr. B. Anselmi, second baritone and Mr. D. Weidenger, pianist.

Victim of Husband's Wrath Has Passed The Danger Point

Mrs. Carl Strauser, 114 North Fifteenth street, who was shot Sunday morning by her husband, is reported to have passed the danger point. Although almost prostrated by fright and grief, the young victim's first thought was of Strauser's aged mother. Mrs. Strauser has remained conscious throughout the ordeal. "Please call up his mother or brother and tell them not to feel bad," she pleaded to her father, M. F. A. McCormack.

"My daughter's condition at this time is very satisfactory," said Major McCormack Sunday night. "She had a most miraculous escape from death, the bullet penetrating the skull and passing dangerously close to her brain. She is quiet now and we are doing all we can to keep her mind off the terrible affair. I am deeply grieved over the incident and looking at it from a father's standpoint I suppose that I ought to pour forth words of bitter condemnation, but I cannot do it. I am satisfied that Strauser was temporarily insane when he committed the deed. Candidly, I have nothing but sympathy for the poor mother and brother."

Memorial Services Held At Bingham for War Hero

Bingham, Neb., Aug. 18.—Memorial services were held in the Congregational church for Clinton Quackenbush, who died in action on the Picardy front July 31. Rev. Mr. Davis, the local pastor, officiated at the religious services while Judge Osgood of Hyannis delivered the memorial address.

Frankfort Raid Contrary to Law of Nations, Says Kaiser

Amsterdam, Aug. 18.—The Cologne Gazette prints a telegram sent by the direction of the emperor to the burgomaster of Frankfort, stating that the emperor "deeply sympathizes in the misfortune which has befallen the open town of Frankfort as the result of an enemy attack, which was contrary to the international law and claimed many victims."

WILLIAM MADGETT

We have a condition confronting our nation today that makes it necessary that we elect a man to the U. S. Senate who is not under special obligation to any political or commercial organization and a man who is not compelled to apologize to the people of this state and of the nation for having taken a wrong attitude or position having reference to the war and other questions. He should be a man free from all these taints and entanglements and have at heart only the welfare of the nation and of the people whom he is serving. This man is Mayor William Madgett of Hastings, Republican candidate for nomination at the primaries August 20.

Why not Work and Vote for that kind of a man when you have an opportunity?

Endorsed by—Hastings' Church Federation. Hastings' Ministerial Association. Hastings' Carpenters Union and Laboring Men. Hastings' Musical Association. The Farmers' Club of Hastings says Mayor Madgett is the best Mayor Hastings ever had and we as a body heartily endorse his candidacy for U. S. Senator. The Hastings Daily Tribune and the Adams County Democrat give praise to his business administration as Mayor stating that he has saved the city large sums of money. Work and Vote for William Madgett, Republican Candidate for U. S. Senator August 20th. The candidate that comes out flat-footed and tells the people where he stands.

Plenty of Sugar Available For Canning and Preserving

New York, Aug. 18.—Scarcity of sugar should not curtail the canning of fruits and vegetables, the federal food board declared in a statement addressed to housewives, who were told plenty of sugar is available for "all legitimate requirements for canning and preserving." The statement says housewives can get sugar in 25-pound lots upon signing a certificate stating it is to be used solely for canning purposes.

Candidate for Republican Nomination

For United States Senator Charles H. Sloan

Congressman Sloan has a record long and extensive enough to permit of judgment by works as well as by words. He is a political tally sheet which contains not a single defeat. He is a loyal member of his party, devoted to its principles and working in harmony with its leaders. He represents and expresses party solidarity and in doing so is able to obtain those things in legislation which make for the greatest general good.

He has a congressional record that is eloquent in service well done. He has risen to high rank at Washington. There is no reason to assume that he will belie his past achievements or rest under the laurels he has already won. There is every reason to believe that if the republicans of Nebraska choose him as their candidate for senator and the citizens at the later election ratify that choice by an election he will continue to give to his state the same high order of faithful service that has distinguished his congressional record.

For these reasons the Republican believes that Congressman Sloan is the strongest senatorial candidate now before the people of Nebraska and the republicans of the state should give him a strong plurality vote on August 20th.—The York Republican.

CAMOUFLAGE Did Not Commence With This War

A Hit Duck Flutters, but if the Shot is True It Drops.

My opponent, F. D. Wead, claims that an attempt is made to kill the municipal ice plant, and that my campaign is financed by interests other than myself. Camouflage, pure and simple. I will give every dollar I possess to the Red Cross if F. D. Wead will substantiate his assertions.

As an exponent of municipal ownership I stand for extended municipal service. I spent time and money as freely ten years ago to put through the Water Bonds as I do now to see that their proceeds are not misspent. Last year I offered Dan Butler, city commissioner, a truckage site for his municipal coal yard, RENT FREE, although the offer was not accepted on account of his previously having made arrangements for a more desirable location.

The delay in delivering municipal ice is not caused by outsiders, but by the Water Board itself who were authorized by the Legislature nearly two years ago to put the plant into operation. However, on account of letting a contract by the Water Board for an ice house too small to accommodate the machinery it required, the Water Board was obliged to rescind its contract and commence all over again this Spring, on the basis of paying the contractor, not according to his original contract, but according to his cost, plus a percentage for superintending the work.

Under this arrangement, will the municipal ice plant ever be completed, so long as profit can be made by delaying its construction?

Brother Wead, next time try a more effective camouflage. Explain why the City of Wichita was able to buy water meters in smaller quantities than Omaha, but at a much lower price, then you and I will get into some real interesting history.
