

Criminals and Not for Unfortunate Children.

The Board of Public Welfare held a meeting yesterday afternoon, at which the new member, Judge Howard Kennedy, was present, Mayor Smith was also present. The time of the board was largely taken up by a discussion of the city's detention home, brought forth by the report of a case handled by the board.

The woman in the case, a soldier's wife, had been placed in the detention home when found afflicted with a social disease. She has a baby, recently born, afflicted with the same disease. The baby was placed in the county hospital and the mothre in the detention home. The mother told the welfare board she had run away from the detention home to find her baby, but was caught and thrown in the city iail, where she slept all night on the bare floor, after which she was taken back to the detention home. She is very anxious to have her baby.

"There is a misconception on the part of the health officials," said Mayor Smith, "as to the purpose of the detention home, and unless there is a change made in the way such cases as this are handled, the home will be discontinued. The home is for criminals, not unfortunates. There has been no charge lodged against this woman and she is not accused as criminal, yet she is treated like one. I have a number of affidavits now on my desk as to treatment received at the detention home by unfortuantes that make my blood boil. This is only one of many cases." Dr. Jennie Callfas defended the actions of those in charge of the detention home and branded as false the assertions of those who tell such tales as some the mayor quoted. She as-serted she had called unexpectedly a number of times at the home and always found things above reproach. The board decided it had no jurisdiction in the case of the soldier's

The board adopted a new rule pro-viding that in the future sessions shall be held in secret and all matters that are to come before the board must be submitted in writing. It is estimated that much time will be saved by this procedure.

Please Do Not Ask For the Time of Day

On September 1, we discontinued answering requests for the "time of day." This was done because it is imperative now that all non-essential practices be eliminated to conserve labor and equipment.

When a subscriber lifts his telephone receiver and asks: "What is the correct time, please?" It requires as much of the operator's time and an equal use of the telephone equipment as would be needed to complete an ordinary telephone call.

In Omaha alone 21,000 requests for the time are made daily. The answering of such requests requires considerable use of equipment, as well as the time of operators.

The supply of transportation, labor, raw material and equipment is only sufficient to meet the present demands of the government and of industries either directly or indirectly connected with the prosecution of the war. It is therefore becoming more and more necessary to reduce non-essential services of every kind.

The telephone service is necessarily affected by the general condition of the labor and material market, and the less essential uses of the telephone must be restricted.

War conditions have greatly increased the demands for necessary service, which makes it imperative that telephone facilities be conserved in every possible way.

High School Enrollment

Despite the war conditions which were expected to lure students at the high school away from the classroom to the business world, a large num-ber of students continue to enroll at the Central high school. Just a word about stocks in Omaha. Wholesalers and manufacturers have now on hand large stocks of fall and winter goods. If it is possible to secure merchandise you can get it in Omaha, and one advantage in buying from local houses is that the goods you want can be delivered quickly, no waiting and less danger of long delay in transit. It is the logical thing to do during these times; yes, it is the wise thing to do when transportation is so congested. Buy in Omaha.

"A three bottle test of Tanlac in my wife's case has convinced us that it will do all they say it will and you may wrap me up another bottle," said Luther Coon, who lives at 1615 Cuming street, Omaha, recently. Mr. Coon has been engaged in the express delivery business for the past forty years and is located at 16th and Webster streets.

"For the past six years," he continued, "my wife has been in a badly run-down state of health, suffering from stomach trouble, nervousness and rheumatism. She seemed to be affected all over with rheumatism and suffered fearful pain from it, especially between her shoulders. She was very weak, nevous and miserable most all the time and her condition had rendered her unable to look after her household affairs. She never slept well and was unable, much of the time, to get about the house.

"She was never able to get anything to do her but little, if any. good until she began taking Tanlac. Her appetite got better and she commenced to regain her strength on the first bottle. She has improved wonderfully now. Her appetite is splendid, her nerves have quieted down until she sleeps well and she seems to be taking on weight. The rheumatism is much better, the pain in her shoulders is nothing like as bad and she's beginning to get around like a different person. I believe from what it has already done for her another bottle or so will restore her entirely. Tanlac certain-ly is fine medicine, by far the best we have ever found, and I'm glad to recommend it."

A tired, overworked stomach and kidneys can cause innumerable ailments, among them dyspepsia, nervous breakdowns, blood troubles and even rheumatism. People so affected, and there are thousands of them, are loggy and nervous and feel tired. They are apt to suffer from sleeplessness and as a general rule lose rapidly in weight. These are symptoms of overworked vital organs which need cleansing and toning up. Tanlac is a powerful reconstructive tonic and contains certain ingredients which purify the blood and renovates the entire system. Next, it enables the stomach to thoroughly digest its food, thereby permitting the assimilable products to be con-verted into blood, bone and muscle.

Tanlac is sold in Omaha by Sherman & McConnell Drug Co., corner 16th and Dodge streets; 16th and Harney streets; Owl Drug Co., 16th and Farnam streets; Harvard Pharmacy,- 24th and Farnam streets; northeast corner 19th and Farnam streets; West End Pharmacy, 49th and Dodge streets, under the personal direction of a Special Tanlac Rep-resentative, and in South Omaha by Forrest & Meany Drug Co.—Adv.
