

Trouble Looms Over Hotel Row At Grand Island

Friction Develops When County Attorney Seeks to Prevent Dismissal of Suit To Close Hostility.

Grand Island, Neb., Sept. 1.—(Special Telegram.)—Friction between the city administration and the county attorney became openly apparent late Thursday when County Attorney Sahr filed a motion in the district court asking that the dismissal order, in the case of the state by Mayor Ellsberry, as realtor, against the owners of the Savoy hotel, be set aside.

The motion alleges that the dismissal was irregular in not being based on affidavits showing the reasons for the dismissal and in not showing the approval of the county attorney, as was mandatory under the law. The motion will probably be heard within the next few days.

The city administration had withdrawn its application for an injunction against the owners and lessees of the hotel, its main purpose having been accomplished by an agreement of the owners to guarantee its proper conduct in the future and by the immediate elimination of the recent landlady. The application filed under the Albert law sought to close up the place for a year.

City officials are not of one mind on the matter of the alleged arson and the settlement in the Albert law, as expressed the conviction that Grand Island was no worse than any city of this size in the United States in this or other respects, and better than very many.

City Physician Ryder indicates, however, that there is need for a welfare worker here. It is believed the matter will be taken up by the mayor and council. So far there has been no official request by the city physician or any other city or county authority for such assistance.

Indian Slays One of Tribe Over $7.50 Debt

Sioux Falls, S. D., Sept. 1.—(Special Telegram.)—Federal authorities in this city were advised that Jesse Bordeau, a mixed blood Sioux, belonging on the Rosebud reservation, shot and killed Ernest Spotted Horse, one of his brethren, as the result of a dispute over $7.50 which Spotted Horse owed the alleged slayer.

The tragedy took place at St. Francis mission. It is charged that Bordeau sold Spotted Horse liquor and got him drunk a short time before the killing. The assault was taken into custody soon after the tragedy.

Missing Bank Cashier Caught Once by Camera

Lincoln, Sept. 1.—(Special Telegram.)—Somebody played a mean trick on E. A. Rusker, missing cashier of the Octavia State bank.

For years, Rusker avoided a photographer. He wouldn't have his picture taken, and he avoided the lenses of snapshot cameras like a visiting Japanese nobleman. But one day he slipped.

While at a picnic, a friend took a kodak snapshot. Learning that officers have been hampered in their search for Rusker by means of identification, he mailed prints of the snapshot to State Sheriff Gus Hyers. They are now being used in tracing the missing cashier.

Alleged Slayer of Wife to Be Tried

McPherson County Man Accused of Murdering Mate Says Killed by Accident.

North Platte, Neb., Sept. 1.—(Special Telegram.)—William Morris, a resident of McPherson county, will be tried before a district court jury at Tryon September 6 on the charge of wife murder.

Mrs. Morris was found dead in a pasture April 10. According to the story told by her husband, she had gone to the pasture to drive in the cows, the horse she was riding became frightened, Mrs. Morris was unseated and, in falling, her foot caught in a stirrup and she was dragged to death.

Following a burial neighbors became suspicious that the woman's death was not accidental and George N. Gibbs of this city, county attorney of McPherson county, was consulted. As a result of this conference the body was exhumed, a coroner's jury empaneled and at the preliminary hearing evidence produced was sufficient to warrant binding Morris over to the district court to answer the charge of murder.

Since the preliminary hearing, Morris has been confined in the McPherson county jail. Judge Towell of Sidney will preside at the trial.

Anti-Religious Wave In Germany on Wane

Berlin, Sept. 1.—How nearly the wave of irreligious and anti-religious sentiment which accompanied and was a result of the revolution has spent itself is continually being demonstrated in one way or another.

Recent school teachers' conventions in different parts of the country show graphically the progress away from the ideals of the makers of the revolution.

The German Teachers' association at its national convention in 1919 decided by a small majority against the retention of religious instruction as a part of the school curriculum. Since then the tide has set in strongly the other way. The Stuttgart teachers were the first to change their attitude, giving a considerable majority in favor of religious instruction. The teachers of Westphalia followed suit. Now the teachers' associations of the province of Hanover and of Hesse-Nassau have reversed their attitude.

Sewerage System Will Be Extended at North Platte

North Platte, Neb., Sept. 1.—(Special Telegram.)—An extension to the sewer system has been awarded to Carl Backers of this city on a bid of $53,000. Work on the extension will begin in a few days and will give employment to local laborers who are out of employment.

The city is advertising for bids for the construction of water main extensions entailing an outlay of about $75,000.

Move to Organize Farmers' Finance Body Is Planned

Organization to Be Similar to Corporation Recently Started in Iowa—Agricultural Council Backs Move.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 1.—(Special Telegram.)—A movement will soon be started in Nebraska looking to the organization of a farmers' finance corporation somewhat similar to the corporation recently organized in Iowa, according to announcement made today at Nebraska Farm bureau headquarters.

H. D. Lute, secretary of the Nebraska Farm Bureau federation, has been making investigations along this line and definite steps probably will be taken at a meeting of the Nebraska agricultural council to be called in Lincoln during fair week. The Nebraska agricultural council is composed of representatives of all Nebraska farm organizations.

The Iowa corporation, which is the first of its kind, is exclusively for the purpose of financing farmers in their farming operations. It is capitalized at $5,000,000 and will start business with a $1,000,000 paid up stock. The stock will be placed equally between farmers and bankers and the plan provides for placing $10,000 stock in each of the 99 counties. It will do a rediscount business, loaning money on land, live stock and warehouse receipts, and in doing this will enable banks to turn their money repeatedly, which in turn will mean a widening circle of credit.

Displays of Boy and Girl Clubs Attract Attention at Fair

Kearney, Neb., Sept. 1.—(Special Telegram.)—An outstanding feature of the ninth annual Buffalo county fair are the displays being made by boy and girl club members.

In the swine exhibit, totaling over 300 head, the boy pig club members are exhibiting an additional 125 head of pedigree and registered hogs. Their activities are also noteworthy in sheep, cattle, goats and poultry classes, representing a third of the latter.

In horticultural lines the young folks will keep their seniors stepping a fast pace if the latter hope to annex a big end of the premium money. Special awards are also made for boy and girl club entries. Demonstrations, along various lines, are being made by the youngsters and attract considerable attention.

Railroad Is Facing Shortage of Water

Lemmon, S. D., Sept. 1.—(Special Telegram.)—Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway officials are facing a serious situation as the result of the drying up of the company's small reservoirs and the failure of the wells of the company to supply the needs of the road. As a result, Lemmon, with its inexhaustible supply of water, many prove of valuable assistance to the railroad company.

Mayor Smith of Lemmon has wired the railroad heads in regard to the matter and has invited them to come to Lemmon for a conference on the possibilities of using the city reservoir as a railroad water supply.

Two Delegates of Rump W.O.W. Meet Sue Ruling Camp

Ask $600 Apiece for Expenses to National Convention Where They Were Denied Admission.

Two delegates of the "rump" convention of the Woodmen of the World, held at Columbus, Neb., April 18, 1921, who were denied admittance to the national convention in New York in July, sued the sovereign camp for $600 apiece, their expenses, in district court yesterday morning.

They are J. P. Uvick, alternate for Charles Unitt, county commissioner, and M. L. Endres, county treasurer.

Their petitions complain of the alleged action of William Fraser, sovereign commander, and others in having hastily organized camps represented by Woodmen of the World employees at Columbus. They name Earl Stiles and D. Bradshaw as being instrumental in keeping them out of their seats at the New York convention.

They assert that all the acts complained of were for the "personal aggrandizement" of the defendants.

Death of Baby Breaks Up Home

Youngster Who Reunited Parents Dies—Suit for Divorce Follows.

The birth of a baby, after they had been divorced, reunited Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Urbence, 1608 N. street, some time ago. The baby's death parted the pair again. Thursday Mrs. Urbence filed a petition in district court asking for a divorce from her policeman-husband, charging him with cruelty and nonsupport.

Urbence, who is a traffic officer at Fourteenth and Farnam streets, first asked for a divorce from his wife, charging her with cruelty, and was granted a divorce in September, 1920. A few months later a baby was born to Mrs. Urbence and she and her former husband were remarried at Papillion July 28, 1921.

The death of the infant brought a cooling of the conjugal ardor, evidently, as Mrs. Urbence's petition followed.

Officer Urbence, who was on duty Thursday, would not say whether he would contest his wife's action or allow her a divorce unmolested.

District Judge Seeks To Determine Courts' Control of Children

Lincoln, Sept. 1.—(Special Telegram.)—District Judge W. V. Allen of Madison has written to Attorney General Clarence A. Davis, inviting him to appear in his court and thresh out the questions as to whether men, trained in science and mental psychology, are better adapted to determine what should be done with an uncontrollable child than a judge, learned in law. "Can the legislature take away from the courts the power to make commitments under the law?" the judge asks. The board of control recently appointed physicians, who, under a law passed by the legislature, are given authority to determine what treatment and institutions are best for children in state institutions. In Indiana no female under 18 years of age may be employed in any manufacturing or industrial establishment.
