

Emery Describes Legion "Revolt" As "Windstorm"

National Commander Denies Members of European Party Deposed Him—Denies Any Open Break.

Indianapolis, Sept. 22.—John G. Emery, national commander of the American Legion, while visiting National Legion headquarters here today, gave his version of the "revolt" among members of the Legion party who recently toured France and Belgium. According to some members of the party, Commander Emery whose home is in Grand Rapids, Mich., was "deposed" as leader of the delegation. Commander Emery was asked why he was deposed as leader.

"Deposed? I wasn't deposed; that's the wrong word," he answered. "No one could depose me, only the national commander and he is I."

Emery's statement concerning the affair is as follows:

"In the first place, I want to express my opinion that all men in the last analysis, are children. When we arrived in France, very properly, I wanted the delegation to present some semblance of an organization so four companies were organized, with about 30 members each.

Object to Idea.

"Some of the men objected to the company idea, principally because they weren't in the front ranks, others objected because they didn't get to make the speeches; some kicked about their rooms, about the trains, about everything in general and very naturally some of the men were disgruntled.

"There was no open break or even an intimation of a break until we boarded the liner, Leopoldina, an old tub, on our return trip. Then, what first appeared would be a revolution finally simmered down to a mild windstorm. Some of the members of the party, prima donnas, that they were, objected to sleeping below decks, which was absolutely necessary, so an indignation meeting was held and only 78 members of the party attended it.

Pass Resolutions.

"After much discussion, Legionnaire Hanley of North Dakota, was elected leader of the delegation, but that didn't depose me just because 78 members were not satisfied. Then, after three meetings on three afternoons, the 78 members passed two resolutions, one expressing very great regret at not being able to attend Mrs. So and So's luncheon; the other expressing regret in not being able to visit Mrs. So and So while in France.

"It must be remembered that these men toured France and Belgium under far different conditions than those existing in the United States. In the first place, they went from a dry country into a very wet one. Our emotions were daily played upon; great receptions were held in our honor, some got no sleep while others got two and three hours, some the full amount. The reaction came as we started home.

"Outside of that, a good time was had by all."

Judges Favor Union Of York County Schools

York, Neb., Sept. 22.—(Special Telegram.)—A decision was rendered by Judges George Corcoran and Edward Good in the district court in favor of consolidation in the proposed consolidated school district No. 3 of Benedict today.

The opposition filed a petition in the nature of quo warranto proceeding alleging that the school election was illegal. The court held it was not.

A motion for a new trial was overruled by Judge Corcoran here today. The relators state they will carry the case to the supreme court.

Addition to North Platte Federal Building Asked

North Platte, Neb., Sept. 22.—(Special.)—Increase in the business demands more working space in the postoffice and steps are being taken to secure an addition to the federal building. Since the completion of the federal building in 1917, the population of the city has increased over 4,000 with an attendant increase of postal receipts, including extensions of rural routes and a wonderful growth in the parcels post.

Stick Together Keynote Of Iowa Farmers' Unions

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 22.—(Special Telegram.)—The "stick together" policy was the keynote of opening speeches at the convention of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of America, which opened a three-day convention Wednesday. O. F. Donblasser of Fort Worth, Tex., who founded the organization 18 years ago, was the principal speaker. He was given an ovation by the 1,200 assembled farmers as was Charles F. Barrett of Georgia, president of the national association. The farmers started their task of building the idea of co-operative buying and selling and organizing for the better handling of their produce from the ground up in a serious mood and little time was lost in getting under way.

City and Rural Teachers Institutes Separated

Columbus, Neb., Sept. 22.—(Special.)—The plan of holding joint institutes for the county and city teachers, which was tried out here for two years, has been abandoned by Superintendents Lecron and Gates, because of different methods used and subjects taught in rural and city schools. "Thoroughness in the common branches" is the thought that will be stressed by instructors at the annual institute for Platte county teachers which will be held in Columbus September 22, 23 and 24.

Confession Is Made By Father of Babe Born Here Monday

Youth, Whose Wife Protests His Innocence, Relates Crimes in His Cell at Fremont.

Fremont, Neb., Sept. 22 (Special).—Clyde Millard, alias Clair, whose wife, destitute and with a baby girl born to her in University hospital in Omaha, yesterday protested her husband's innocence, while he in his cell here today confessed to a string of robberies in North Bend and Rogers, Neb., and to a term in the Lincoln state penitentiary for burglary.

His young wife, he said, is innocent of his real character. He said he will plead guilty to the robbery charge against him.

On September 1, he robbed the Haverfield Mercantile company store and the LaViolette drug store at North Bend, obtaining a box of old coins from the Haverfield concern, and a small amount of change from the drug store cash register, he confessed.

A week later, according to his confession, he robbed the Chery & Watson store at Rogers, Neb., of a quantity of watches, razors and other merchandise. The same night, he says, he robbed the Luther meat market in North Bend of a pocket-book containing $15.

He also confessed to serving a sentence in the state penitentiary a few years ago on a burglary charge. Later he escaped. He was arrested by Herman Dutch, a night watchman at North Bend, and placed in the city jail, but he again escaped. He was recaptured and sent back to finish his term.

He moved to Omaha with his wife and 18-month-old child several months ago.

Kimball, Neb., Sept. 22.—(Special Telegram.)—The Kimball Clothing company store was broken into and about $1,200 worth of clothing stolen. The loot consisted of about 30 men's suits, silk shirts and suitcases. Entrance was gained by breaking out a rear window.

Larsen Donates Air Meet Trophy

To Be Given Aviator Carrying Heaviest Weight Longest Distance at Least Cost.

A $7,500 gold and silver trophy has been donated the International Air Congress by John M. Larsen, former Omahan, known for introducing the all-metal junker airplane in America, as a prize for a special race at the aviation meet here in November.

The trophy is being made by Gutzon Borglum, former Omahan, now a famous sculptor in the east, and will show an aviator and commercial airplane designer holding aloft a model airplane.

The trophy will be awarded to the pilot carrying the heaviest gross weight over the longest course at the least cost and highest speed.

Capt. H. E. Hartney, secretary of the American Aeronautical Association, and officials of the Omaha Aero club, determined the tentative rules for the Larsen trophy race to be submitted to the American association by Captain Hartney.

Kelly Springfield Tires

WE have seldom indulged in superlatives. Kelly quality has been so well established that it hasn't been necessary. Today, Kellys are better than ever, but their price has been materially lowered. Exhaustion of war-priced material and economies made possible in the new Cumberland Plant have brought down costs and this saving is being passed along to the user.

Now you can buy Kellys for the same prices you will have to pay for other tires that have always sold for less.

Kelly Cords are made in two types: the Kant-Slip Tread which offers a resistance to wet, slippery streets that makes skidding next to impossible, and the sturdy Block and Button Tread. Both are long mileage tires and sell for the same price.
