

Idiotic Control Hampers Bankers, Burns Declares

Restrictions Placed by Government on Marketing Responsible for High Prices, Says Omahan.

Idiotic government regulation is retarding the development of the baking industry, Jay Burns, Omaha baker, told the Chicago Association of Commerce at its meeting last Wednesday in the Hotel La Salle, Chicago.

He stated that restrictions placed upon marketing are responsible to a large extent for the resiliency of bread prices in the face of a fall in wheat.

"Bread won't come down as far as wheat, though," he explained, "because it didn't go up so high."

He called attention to the fact that the baking industry is the eighth in value of product in the United States.

"We ask for no special privileges," he continued. "We want simply the opportunity, which every other industry enjoys, of freedom in marketing our product to meet the legitimate demands of the consumer, unhindered by regulations which are to the public's disadvantage."

The size and price of a loaf of bread, he observed, are not of so much importance as its quality, its food value, and the conditions under which it is made. He deplored of ever getting governmental regulatory agencies to understand this.

Bread, he insisted, is the cheapest food obtainable.

She got tired of this last June and ordered him to get out, which he did. He also became intoxicated frequently, she says.

Mrs. Anna Castetter, widow of Francis Castetter of Blair, will get $35,400 of mortgage bonds which she had in the defunct bank of A. Castetter, Blair, according to a decision which District Judge L. B. Day will give in the Blair branch of the district court.

J. E. Hart, receiver for the bank, brought suit to have these bonds considered part of the bank's assets.

Fred Claridge, former president of the bank, now employed by the Brandeis stores, testified before Judge Day yesterday that Mrs. Castetter had the mortgages in the bank merely for safe keeping and that they were not in any way the property of the bank.

C. of C. Farm Board Manager Resigns

Asserts Efforts Blocked by Commercial Interests' Opposition to Bureau.

The resignation of H. F. McIntosh, who for the last two years has been manager of the agricultural bureau of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce, was accepted Thursday.

In a letter accepting the resignation, J. David Larson, commissioner, said: "Your work as manager of the agricultural bureau has been constructive and has been done with an eye to the interest of agriculture and all its departments. We believe that you have done much good in the work which will be of benefit to city and county."

Mr. Larson said Thursday that a reorganization of the agricultural committee was the primary cause of the resignation. Mr. McIntosh asserted there was such evident opposition to the agricultural bureau by certain organized commercial interests in Omaha that he found it impossible to carry out the work along the line planned.

"All's Right" With America

AN OMAHA business man recently delivered an impressive appeal on the subject, "Be Not Afraid." It was a practical presentation of the claim that "all's right" with America so far as business conditions are concerned and that there is every reason for an optimistic view of the situation. The best cure for the pessimistic spirit is to "count your blessings." If we devote our attention to the advantages and opportunities we have rather than to the occasional cloud upon the mental horizon—for that is exactly where most clouds are—we will find ourselves free from fear and full of hope and confidence.

Ernest P. Shirmer of the Roelam-Roelam Co., Dayton, Ohio, gives some substantial reasons for the faith that is within him. He has delved into his "fact chest" and has been reminded that the United States is the richest country in the world. Illustrating this statement he makes this showing:

The bank deposits in the United States exceed by billions the combined bank deposits of the whole world outside of this country.

We have more actual cash than any other nation.

Our national wealth at the time of the civil war was about $7,000,000,000; at present it is $225,000,000,000.

In a single year we produce by manufacture and agriculture more than the entire national wealth of France.

England's wealth is only $80,000,000,000, as against our $225,000,000,000.

Of all the wheat in the world we produce 22 per cent. Of all the oats of the world, 35 per cent. Of all the cotton, 60 per cent. Of all the corn, 80 per cent. Of all the horses, 25 per cent. Of all the cattle, 27 per cent. Of all the hogs, 40 per cent. Of all the world's dairy products, 25 per cent. One-half of the world's pig iron is taken from the earth in the U. S. A. Fifty per cent of the world's copper, and 60 per cent of the world's petroleum.

Besides this we produce 25 per cent of the total supply of woollens of the earth. Twenty-five per cent of the linens. Twenty-five per cent of the cotton cloth. Forty-five per cent of the paper. Twenty-five per cent of the glass. Thirty-six per cent of the shoes. And 50 per cent of the steel products.

And we do this, having but 5 per cent, or one-twentieth of the world's population.
