Chicago, Sept. 24.-Disclaiming horse races every day, auto polo, any intention to attempt suppression circus acts and automobile races on of the Chicago Tribune and dectaring be on the grounds. The manage-that the city administration of Chiment has arranged to hold both day cago had stood for free speech when and night shows. There will be it was dangerous to do so, Chester E. Cleveland, special counsel for the city, began his answer to the arguments by which counsel for the Chicago Tribune sought to have thrown out of court the city's $10,000,000 and the Auburn band will play that libel suit against that paper.

Earlier in the day, Weymouth Kirkland, of counsel for the Tribune, ended an eight-hour argument in which he asserted that a city had State Refuses Approval no right to sue for libel, that to grant such right would jeopardize liberty of expression and be against public policy. Mr. Cleveland began his answer y asserting that the opposing counsel had interjected much material that did not properly belong in an ing to a new law made since then, that the only question before the this amount voted. The past election carried by such a great matitled to recover any damages and jority that there is no fear of the that if would be the province of the outcome of the next. The next electrial judge and jury to determine tion will be held October 24, whether the full $10,000,000 should be assessed or only part of it.

"This suit," said Mr. Cleveland, "is not by nor behind any political organization, but is by the City of Chicago and its 3,000,000 citizens. They are not asking the suppression of any publication of truth, fair comment or criticism. But they maintain that this defendant newspaper should not have the right deliberately, falsely and maliciously to tell
