Kilo Watts Trots to French Champ Reported in Bad Shape Physically From Dempsey's Punches-May Never Fight Again

By FRANK G. MENKE.

EPORTS that ripple from across the sea contain disquieting reports concerning the condition of Georges Carpentier.

Ever since the French warrior returned to his native heath there have been rumors that in bad shape physically, due to the terrific body he is in bad shape physically, due to the terrific Dempsey on July 2.

At nrst there was an effort toward denial, but lately the persistence of these reports have forced the Carpentier folks to permit them to go unchallenged.

visits his old haunts nowadays and has remained more or less in obscurity since his return."

Some time ago Franco's Descamps, the Frenchman's manager, called off the bout with Tom Gibbons, which originally was scheduled to be staged in this country in October. A "bad hand" was cited as the reason. Then December was named as the new date. Thereupon Descamps said Carpentier would not be in shape to put up a fight Philadelphia 0 0 0 0 4 0 0 0 2-4 not be in shape to put up a fight Pittsburgh ... 0 3 0 0 0 8 3 x-8 against so tough a man as Gibbons against so tough a man as Gibbons against so tough a man as Gibbons so soon after his slashing battle Omaha to Play with Dempsey. And so the date has been moved along until Feb-time to a point where he sees he could make a real showing.

However, Carpentier is slated to take on George Cook, a heavyweight from Australia. This youngster arrived in England a short time ago, battled one of the obscure English an agreement with the Cotner uniheavies and quickly punched him versity manager to bring the latter into submission. He followed this team to Omaha October 8 for a foot by doling out a speedy defeat to ball game.

Cook, who was practically unknown outside of Australia before he reached England, has a rather peculiar ambition. He wants to fight Jack Dempsey. But he's willing, first of all to prove his worth by first of all, to prove his worth by meeting the Frenchman.

The chances are that Carpentier and Cook never will meet-fistically. The Frenchman couldn't gain much by victory over an obscure warrior. He could lose all his prestige by defeat. So fighting Cook would be a foolish gamble for the Parisian Joe Herrick Believes

But if reports are not at total variance with the facts, it is likely that Georges Carpentier never will fight again. If he's so badly hurt as it is reliably claimed, it would be foolhardy for him to risk his physical welfare in another battle.
