Alliance School Bonds

Will Be offered for Sale Alliance, Neb., Oct. 5.—(Special.)

—The Alliance school board at a special meeting voted to offer for sale bonds for the building of a new high school and grade building. More than a year ago a bond issue of $250,000 was voted for this pur-pose, but the bonds were not put on the market because of the low prices being offered by the bonding companies. Recently several inquiries have been received from bonding firms wanting to buy the bonds and offering better prices than before. Owing to the decreased cost of building material and labor probably only $200,000 of the bonds will be sold, as this is deemed sufficient to construct the two buildings.
