

Worst of Credit Stringency Over, Bankers Are Told

Country Has Borne Period of Financial Stress Remarkably Well, Says Report of A. B. A. Economic Committee.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 5.—The worst of the credit stringency seems to be over and it appears that the country has borne the period of stress remarkably well, it was reported to the American Bankers' association convention here today by its economic policy commission, of which Paul M. Warburg of New York is the chairman.

"Since economy in government is one of the primary needs of the present time, the commission hopes that the soldiers bonus bill will be definitely set aside."

Favors Armament Meet.

"As an earnest student of coming economies, the commission endorses the action of President Harding in proposing an international conference to consider a common program for the reduction of military and naval expenditures, which still form one of the heaviest financial burdens borne by all the nations."

"The commission doubts the desirability of refunding the floating indebtedness of the government into long time government securities at the present time. The commission believes that the government should wait with its refunding operations until the money market has again reached a stable condition."

"The commission fully supports the purposes of the federal administration in bringing about a refunding of the railroads' debt to the government over a period of years."

"Natural recuperative forces are now making for recovery," the report said, "and there is every reason to believe that when wages have been readjusted and normal balance is re-established between industries and between nations our country will enter upon a new career of prosperity and advancement."

Oppose Too Many Laws.

"The commission again points to the dangerous attempts which are made so frequently at present to undertake to cure all existing economic evils by legislative action. The commission feels strongly that most of our troubles will be eradicated more quickly and cured more thoroughly if economic laws are allowed free play."

"The commission regards especially many of the amendments proposed to the federal reserve act as undesirable and calculated to lessen the benefits to be derived from the federal reserve system. The commission believes that so long as the federal reserve system is able to continue its work as successfully as it has begun, it should be left to function with the least possible interference."

Favors Budget System.

The commission approves the policy of the present national administration in refraining, so far as possible, from governmental participation in private business undertakings, and in seeking to effect economies in administration wherever possible. It welcomes, therefore the inauguration of a budget system designed to bring about more co-ordination of governmental departments and a closer supervision over expenditures."
