

Freedom Asked For Harvard, Neb. School Teacher

Herbert Harris Sobs as Attorney Tells of Gray-Haired Father Waiting Son's Release.

Lincoln, Oct. 11.—(Special Telegram.)—Herbert S. Harris, West- an university graduate and superintendent of school in half a dozen towns in Nebraska, sobbed at a hearing of the state board of pardons and paroles as Judge Harry S. Dugan of Hastings told the board of his gray-haired, gray-bearded father praying for his son's release from the penitentiary. Pointing to Governor McKelvie, Judge Dugan said: "Today, standing at the doorstep of his home in Hastings, this old father, who loves his son as all fathers do, has his head buried in his hands, his eyes are turned toward the city of Nebraska, praying no doubt that you release his son."

Harris, it is charged, in a fit of jealousy shot Richard Aker of Harvard in the back while he was sitting in the rear seat of Aker's car. Aker, just prior to the shooting, had called on Miss Edna Korpan, school teacher, with whom Harris was reported to be infatuated.

Just Wild Fancy.

"It wasn't premeditated, it was just a wild fancy which came into my head to shoot near the back of his head and frighten him," Harris told the board. "I shot too close and grazed his neck."

A dozen citizens from Hastings, the home of Harris, were present to vouch for his previous good character. Dr. Amy Robinson, Hastings, told the board that he had gone to school with Harris and knew his sterling character.

"Now if you will release him I'll mother him," Dr. Robinson said. Harris was arrested in May, 1920. He was sentenced to from one to 10 years.

Surgeon to Blame.

John G. Hamblin, charged with the murder of Rachael Engel, 16, Grand Island, asked for a commutation of his life sentence. An attorney told the board that a surgical instrument, which broke and remained embedded in the girl's body, was responsible for her death and not the bullet fired by Hamblin. The girl was paralyzed for months after the shooting and then died, the attorney declared, from another cause.

The daughter of G. E. Shukert, Omaha furrier, appeared before the board and promised to make her dead father's word good by giving Nick Mackinavick work. Mackinavick is serving from one to seven years for stealing a fur from Decker Brothers, Omaha. Shukert before his death promised to give him work if he was paroled.

51 Cases Heard.

There was a total of 51 cases heard. A. W. Carmichael, 80, asked the state board of pardons and paroles to keep his son-in-law, Harry Stout, 45, in the state prison until "my wife and I die," when he appeared before the board this morning.

Stout was sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of his wife, Mrs. Ida Stout, and the wounding of his sister-in-law, Miss Marie Carmichael.

The shooting occurred in Lincoln in 1914. Mrs. Stout and her sister had just stepped from a train when Stout fired on them.

Citizen Committee Protests.

A committee of citizens from De Witt, Neb., headed by G. N. Venrick, former county attorney of Saline county, of which De Witt is the county seat, also appeared before the board to protest commutation of Stout's sentence.

Mrs. C. W. Stout, 80, of De Witt, mother of the prisoner, asked the board that her son be released. He always was sweet tempered and kind hearted, she said. Stout's son, Lieut. George Stout, a former officer of the American Expeditionary force, appeared before the board.

"When the tragedy occurred my younger brother was just 6 years old," he said. "Since then I have supported him. He is not well."

Former Lincoln Policeman.

In his application for a commutation of sentence Stout said he wished freedom so he could "relieve the older son of the burden of supporting his invalid youngest son." Stout is a former member of the Lincoln police force. He told the board he would be re-instated on the force if he were released.

The prison chaplain testified for Stout, declaring he was a changed man, and that he had become a Christian.

State W. C. T. U. Convention Has 125 in Attendance

Columbus, Neb., Oct. 11.—(Special Telegram.)—The second day of the W. C. T. U. state convention was called to order by the president, Mrs. Leta G. Dyar. Devotional was conducted by Rev. Marie Wilcox, superintendent evangelistic department. Roll call of members and officers showing 125 in attendance.

The Frances Willard program was adopted by the convention to be placed in the public schools. Dr. Jennie Callias of Omaha gave $400 to complete her pledge for the jubilee fund.

A membership fee of $1 was adopted, 50 cents paid to state fund, 25 cents to country fund and 25 cents to the local treasurer.

The president delivered her annual address urging the association to cooperate with the federal officers in enforcing prohibition. Dr. Jennie Callias spoke of the home in Omaha for working girls.

Two Grand Island Women Fined for Shoplifting

Grand Island, Neb., Oct. 11.—(Special Telegram.)—Marie Smith and Mrs. Hazel Deuberry, both of whom maintain rooming houses in the city, were arrested and arraigned in the police court on the charge of shoplifting. Police temporarily took possession of Mrs. Deuberry's car in which the stolen goods had been placed. The former was fined $35 and the latter $50.

The Bee Want Ads. Are the Best Business Boosters.

Repeal Rail Taxes Adopted by Senate

(Continued From Page One.) days after the passage of the bill. Disposal of these two amendments constituted practically all progress made today on the bill itself. Senator Smoot, republican, Utah, used much of today explaining his proposal for a manufacturers sales tax and to a political row over the tax bill between Senators Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, and Watson, republican, Indiana.

Twits Republicans.

Twitting the republicans on the finance committee for accepting the compromise program, Senator Harris said he had never known the "old guard" in the senate to be put to such utter rout and surrender without giving battle. He said it was singularly strange that Senator Lodge, the republican leader, attended the meeting of the agricultural "bloc" and assisted "in submerging the finance committee."

Charging that "certain promises" were made to the "Wall street interests" by the republicans in the last campaign, the Mississippi senator declared those interests came to Washington last May to have the "promises" fulfilled, referring to the White House dinner of May 25, attended by prominent eastern bankers.

Senator Watson said that in the compromise plan the senate republicans had practically gone back to the house bill; that the democrats on the finance committee had made no proposals for improving the measure while it was before the committee and that there was evidence of a filibuster by the democrats against this and other measures in an effort to force the tariff bill over into next year, as close to election time as possible.

Senator Watson said the republicans had kept in mind "the one great thing we promised in the last election, repeal of the excess profits tax, and it was for that thing that we made some concessions."

Imperial Wizard Of Klan on Hand At Congress Probe

Demand Made on House Rules Committee by Congressman Tague for Investigation Of Activities.

Washington, Oct. 11.—Demand for an investigation of the activities of the Ku Klux Klan was made before the house rules committee today by Representative Tague, democrat, of Massachusetts.

Called as the first witness at hearings on a number of resolutions providing for an inquiry by congress, Mr. Tague said he first directed the attention of the department of justice toward the Klan prior to change of administrations last March.

"There is no law to permit men to go out in the dark and take me or my family from my home to punish me whether I am black or white, Catholic or Jew," Mr. Tague declared. "If the charges as published are true it is time for congress to put out its hand and stop it."

Founder Is Witness.

William J. Simmons of Georgia, imperial wizard and founder of the Klan, was among the first witnesses to arrive. He came in with Representative Upshaw, democrat, Georgia, who has introduced a resolution calling for an investigation of each and every secret order in the United States. Attorney General Daugherty also was present at the hearing, which was delayed for some time while a pack of picture men got photographs of the imperial wizard and the committee.

On the objection of Representative Rodenburg, republican, Illinois, however, the wizard and the committee were not included in one group.

W. J. Burns on Hand.

William J. Burns, chief of the Department of Justice bureau of investi-

Man Slays Woman And Takes Own Life

Kansas City, Oct. 11.—Miss Hazel Masten, 24, was shot and fatally wounded today in a beauty shop where she was employed. H. H. Slick, 35, a shoe salesman, after shooting Miss Masten, shot and killed himself. Miss Masten died later.

Slick had driven to the place with his wife. He left her waiting in the automobile in which they had come, saying he had business in the building.

Notes left by Slick refer to Miss Masten as Slick's wife. Mrs. Slick, the widow, said she knew of her husband's infatuation for the girl, and also said he had told her he had gone through a marriage ceremony with Miss Masten, although he was married at the time. Mrs. Slick said her husband feared prosecution on a bigamy charge and that to help him out of his difficulties, she had agreed to get a divorce so that he might marry Miss Masten.

Postoffice Orders

Washington, Oct. 11.—(Special Telegram.)—Postoffice has been established at Wallace, Carbon county, South Dakota, with Fred Peterson as postmaster. The following fourth-class postoffices have become presidential and salary postmaster will receive: Iowa, Harpers Ferry, 11,000; Okla., Okmulgee, 11,000; Roadville, 11,000; Jeddah, 11,000; Wyoming, Cumberland, 11,000; Fort Laramie, 11,000.

Cards on Table.

"We have no ulterior motives and when the conference meets the other nations will find our cards on the table face up," said one of the highest officials of the government. "We believe it ought to be possible to reach an agreement to limit armament, the cost of which is becoming a grievous burden for peoples to bear, and to remove causes of international friction and misunderstanding which exist in the way of an agreement on the limitation of armament. Whether the objects are actually attainable remains to be seen, but in any event we propose to afford the assembled nations a free and unfettered opportunity to reach the end desired."

U. S. Delegation On Disarmament Plans Conference

American Representatives to Consider Policy of Procedure—Will Place "Cards on Table, Face Up."

Washington, Oct. 11.—The preliminaries of the Washington conference on the limitation of armament will be set in motion tomorrow when the American delegation will hold its first meeting to consider questions of policy and procedure. Upon President Harding and the American delegates—Secretary of State Hughes, Elihu Root and Senators Lodge and Underwood—devolves the responsibility of leadership in this great international gathering and there will be an early meeting between the executive and the delegation to discuss the policy to be pursued in guiding the deliberations to a successful conclusion. Also to be discussed with the president is the composition of the advisory commission which will include representatives of the army and navy, authorities on international law and far eastern questions and other distinguished Americans.

That there should be conflict; that warfare and controversy should interfere with this worthwhile demonstration of the value of different modes of progress, is almost unthinkable. The Pacific ought to be the seat of a generous, free, open-minded competition between the best ideals of eastern and western life; between the aspirations and endeavors of the oldest and the newest forms of human society."

To Study Data.

The American delegation will begin study of a large volume of data on the limitation of armament and Pacific and far eastern questions prepared by the State, War and Navy departments.

Proceeding on the basis that the United States will not halt navy building except in agreement with other naval powers, the navy general board has worked out several alternative plans of the limitation of construction.

The one most generally favored by the naval authorities is a pro-rata limitation. Under this plan the British navy would be ranked first in strength, the American second and the Japanese third. Each of these ations would be obligated not to increase its naval strength beyond its present status or its status in a certain designated future year. Each nation would be allowed so many dreadnoughts, so many cruisers, so many destroyers, so many submarines and so on through the classes of vessels.

The plan provides that each nation might build any of these classes of ships only to replace ships scrapped.

O'Connor Will Case Will Be Heard in Supreme Court

Hastings, Neb., Oct. 11.—(Special Telegram.)—Application for a reopening of the John O'Connor will case, involving an estate of $100,000 for which about 100 alleged heirs are contending, will be heard by the United States supreme court on October 15. This was the branch of the case in which the state supreme court rejected a will offered by James O'Connor of St. Joseph, Mo.

A web filament two and a quarter miles long has been taken from the body of a single spider.

U. S. Delegation On Disarmament Plans Conference

American Representatives to Consider Policy of Procedure—Will Place "Cards on Table, Face Up."

Washington, Oct. 11.—The preliminaries of the Washington conference on the limitation of armament will be set in motion tomorrow when the American delegation will hold its first meeting to consider questions of policy and procedure. Upon President Harding and the American delegates—Secretary of State Hughes, Elihu Root and Senators Lodge and Underwood—devolves the responsibility of leadership in this great international gathering and there will be an early meeting between the executive and the delegation to discuss the policy to be pursued in guiding the deliberations to a successful conclusion. Also to be discussed with the president is the composition of the advisory commission which will include representatives of the army and navy, authorities on international law and far eastern questions and other distinguished Americans.

That there should be conflict; that warfare and controversy should interfere with this worthwhile demonstration of the value of different modes of progress, is almost unthinkable. The Pacific ought to be the seat of a generous, free, open-minded competition between the best ideals of eastern and western life; between the aspirations and endeavors of the oldest and the newest forms of human society."

The American delegation will begin study of a large volume of data on the limitation of armament and Pacific and far eastern questions prepared by the State, War and Navy departments.

Proceeding on the basis that the United States will not halt navy building except in agreement with other naval powers, the navy general board has worked out several alternative plans of the limitation of construction.

The one most generally favored by the naval authorities is a pro-rata limitation. Under this plan the British navy would be ranked first in strength, the American second and the Japanese third. Each of these ations would be obligated not to increase its naval strength beyond its present status or its status in a certain designated future year. Each nation would be allowed so many dreadnoughts, so many cruisers, so many destroyers, so many submarines and so on through the classes of vessels.

The plan provides that each nation might build any of these classes of ships only to replace ships scrapped.

O'Connor Will Case Will Be Heard in Supreme Court

Hastings, Neb., Oct. 11.—(Special Telegram.)—Application for a reopening of the John O'Connor will case, involving an estate of $100,000 for which about 100 alleged heirs are contending, will be heard by the United States supreme court on October 15. This was the branch of the case in which the state supreme court rejected a will offered by James O'Connor of St. Joseph, Mo.

A web filament two and a quarter miles long has been taken from the body of a single spider.

U. S. Delegation On Disarmament Plans Conference

American Representatives to Consider Policy of Procedure—Will Place "Cards on Table, Face Up."

Washington, Oct. 11.—The preliminaries of the Washington conference on the limitation of armament will be set in motion tomorrow when the American delegation will hold its first meeting to consider questions of policy and procedure. Upon President Harding and the American delegates—Secretary of State Hughes, Elihu Root and Senators Lodge and Underwood—devolves the responsibility of leadership in this great international gathering and there will be an early meeting between the executive and the delegation to discuss the policy to be pursued in guiding the deliberations to a successful conclusion. Also to be discussed with the president is the composition of the advisory commission which will include representatives of the army and navy, authorities on international law and far eastern questions and other distinguished Americans.

That there should be conflict; that warfare and controversy should interfere with this worthwhile demonstration of the value of different modes of progress, is almost unthinkable. The Pacific ought to be the seat of a generous, free, open-minded competition between the best ideals of eastern and western life; between the aspirations and endeavors of the oldest and the newest forms of human society."

The American delegation will begin study of a large volume of data on the limitation of armament and Pacific and far eastern questions prepared by the State, War and Navy departments.

Proceeding on the basis that the United States will not halt navy building except in agreement with other naval powers, the navy general board has worked out several alternative plans of the limitation of construction.

The one most generally favored by the naval authorities is a pro-rata limitation. Under this plan the British navy would be ranked first in strength, the American second and the Japanese third. Each of these ations would be obligated not to increase its naval strength beyond its present status or its status in a certain designated future year. Each nation would be allowed so many dreadnoughts, so many cruisers, so many destroyers, so many submarines and so on through the classes of vessels.

The plan provides that each nation might build any of these classes of ships only to replace ships scrapped.

O'Connor Will Case Will Be Heard in Supreme Court

Hastings, Neb., Oct. 11.—(Special Telegram.)—Application for a reopening of the John O'Connor will case, involving an estate of $100,000 for which about 100 alleged heirs are contending, will be heard by the United States supreme court on October 15. This was the branch of the case in which the state supreme court rejected a will offered by James O'Connor of St. Joseph, Mo.

A web filament two and a quarter miles long has been taken from the body of a single spider.

U. S. Delegation On Disarmament Plans Conference

American Representatives to Consider Policy of Procedure—Will Place "Cards on Table, Face Up."

Washington, Oct. 11.—The preliminaries of the Washington conference on the limitation of armament will be set in motion tomorrow when the American delegation will hold its first meeting to consider questions of policy and procedure. Upon President Harding and the American delegates—Secretary of State Hughes, Elihu Root and Senators Lodge and Underwood—devolves the responsibility of leadership in this great international gathering and there will be an early meeting between the executive and the delegation to discuss the policy to be pursued in guiding the deliberations to a successful conclusion. Also to be discussed with the president is the composition of the advisory commission which will include representatives of the army and navy, authorities on international law and far eastern questions and other distinguished Americans.

That there should be conflict; that warfare and controversy should interfere with this worthwhile demonstration of the value of different modes of progress, is almost unthinkable. The Pacific ought to be the seat of a generous, free, open-minded competition between the best ideals of eastern and western life; between the aspirations and endeavors of the oldest and the newest forms of human society."

The American delegation will begin study of a large volume of data on the limitation of armament and Pacific and far eastern questions prepared by the State, War and Navy departments.

Proceeding on the basis that the United States will not halt navy building except in agreement with other naval powers, the navy general board has worked out several alternative plans of the limitation of construction.

The one most generally favored by the naval authorities is a pro-rata limitation. Under this plan the British navy would be ranked first in strength, the American second and the Japanese third. Each of these ations would be obligated not to increase its naval strength beyond its present status or its status in a certain designated future year. Each nation would be allowed so many dreadnoughts, so many cruisers, so many destroyers, so many submarines and so on through the classes of vessels.

The plan provides that each nation might build any of these classes of ships only to replace ships scrapped.

O'Connor Will Case Will Be Heard in Supreme Court

Hastings, Neb., Oct. 11.—(Special Telegram.)—Application for a reopening of the John O'Connor will case, involving an estate of $100,000 for which about 100 alleged heirs are contending, will be heard by the United States supreme court on October 15. This was the branch of the case in which the state supreme court rejected a will offered by James O'Connor of St. Joseph, Mo.

A web filament two and a quarter miles long has been taken from the body of a single spider.

ations would be obligated not to increase its naval strength beyond its present status or its status in a certain designated future year. Each nation would be allowed so many dreadnoughts, so many cruisers, so many destroyers, so many submarines and so on through the classes of vessels.

The plan provides that each nation might build any of these classes of ships only to replace ships scrapped.

O'Connor Will Case Will Be Heard in Supreme Court

Hastings, Neb., Oct. 11.—(Special Telegram.)—Application for a reopening of the John O'Connor will case, involving an estate of $100,000 for which about 100 alleged heirs are contending, will be heard by the United States supreme court on October 15. This was the branch of the case in which the state supreme court rejected a will offered by James O'Connor of St. Joseph, Mo.

A web filament two and a quarter miles long has been taken from the body of a single spider.

ations would be obligated not to increase its naval strength beyond its present status or its status in a certain designated future year. Each nation would be allowed so many dreadnoughts, so many cruisers, so many destroyers, so many submarines and so on through the classes of vessels.

The plan provides that each nation might build any of these classes of ships only to replace ships scrapped.

O'Connor Will Case Will Be Heard in Supreme Court

Hastings, Neb., Oct. 11.—(Special Telegram.)—Application for a reopening of the John O'Connor will case, involving an estate of $100,000 for which about 100 alleged heirs are contending, will be heard by the United States supreme court on October 15. This was the branch of the case in which the state supreme court rejected a will offered by James O'Connor of St. Joseph, Mo.

A web filament two and a quarter miles long has been taken from the body of a single spider.

ations would be obligated not to increase its naval strength beyond its present status or its status in a certain designated future year. Each nation would be allowed so many dreadnoughts, so many cruisers, so many destroyers, so many submarines and so on through the classes of vessels.

The plan provides that each nation might build any of these classes of ships only to replace ships scrapped.

O'Connor Will Case Will Be Heard in Supreme Court

Hastings, Neb., Oct. 11.—(Special Telegram.)—Application for a reopening of the John O'Connor will case, involving an estate of $100,000 for which about 100 alleged heirs are contending, will be heard by the United States supreme court on October 15. This was the branch of the case in which the state supreme court rejected a will offered by James O'Connor of St. Joseph, Mo.

A web filament two and a quarter miles long has been taken from the body of a single spider.

ations would be obligated not to increase its naval strength beyond its present status or its status in a certain designated future year. Each nation would be allowed so many dreadnoughts, so many cruisers, so many destroyers, so many submarines and so on through the classes of vessels.

U. S. Delegation On Disarmament Plans Conference

American Representatives to Consider Policy of Procedure—Will Place "Cards on Table, Face Up."

Washington, Oct. 11.—The preliminaries of the Washington conference on the limitation of armament will be set in motion tomorrow when the American delegation will hold its first meeting to consider questions of policy and procedure. Upon President Harding and the American delegates—Secretary of State Hughes, Elihu Root and Senators Lodge and Underwood—devolves the responsibility of leadership in this great international gathering and there will be an early meeting between the executive and the delegation to discuss the policy to be pursued in guiding the deliberations to a successful conclusion. Also to be discussed with the president is the composition of the advisory commission which will include representatives of the army and navy, authorities on international law and far eastern questions and other distinguished Americans.

That there should be conflict; that warfare and controversy should interfere with this worthwhile demonstration of the value of different modes of progress, is almost unthinkable. The Pacific ought to be the seat of a generous, free, open-minded competition between the best ideals of eastern and western life; between the aspirations and endeavors of the oldest and the newest forms of human society."

The American delegation will begin study of a large volume of data on the limitation of armament and Pacific and far eastern questions prepared by the State, War and Navy departments.

Proceeding on the basis that the United States will not halt navy building except in agreement with other naval powers, the navy general board has worked out several alternative plans of the limitation of construction.

The one most generally favored by the naval authorities is a pro-rata limitation. Under this plan the British navy would be ranked first in strength, the American second and the Japanese third. Each of these ations would be obligated not to increase its naval strength beyond its present status or its status in a certain designated future year. Each nation would be allowed so many dreadnoughts, so many cruisers, so many destroyers, so many submarines and so on through the classes of vessels.

The plan provides that each nation might build any of these classes of ships only to replace ships scrapped.

O'Connor Will Case Will Be Heard in Supreme Court

Hastings, Neb., Oct. 11.—(Special Telegram.)—Application for a reopening of the John O'Connor will case, involving an estate of $100,000 for which about 100 alleged heirs are contending, will be heard by the United States supreme court on October 15. This was the branch of the case in which the state supreme court rejected a will offered by James O'Connor of St. Joseph, Mo.

A web filament two and a quarter miles long has been taken from the body of a single spider.

ations would be obligated not to increase its naval strength beyond its present status or its status in a certain designated future year. Each nation would be allowed so many dreadnoughts, so many cruisers, so many destroyers, so many submarines and so on through the classes of vessels.

The plan provides that each nation might build any of these classes of ships only to replace ships scrapped.

O'Connor Will Case Will Be Heard in Supreme Court

Hastings, Neb., Oct. 11.—(Special Telegram.)—Application for a reopening of the John O'Connor will case, involving an estate of $100,000 for which about 100 alleged heirs are contending, will be heard by the United States supreme court on October 15. This was the branch of the case in which the state supreme court rejected a will offered by James O'Connor of St. Joseph, Mo.

A web filament two and a quarter miles long has been taken from the body of a single spider.

ations would be obligated not to increase its naval strength beyond its present status or its status in a certain designated future year. Each nation would be allowed so many dreadnoughts, so many cruisers, so many destroyers, so many submarines and so on through the classes of vessels.

The plan provides that each nation might build any of these classes of ships only to replace ships scrapped.

O'Connor Will Case Will Be Heard in Supreme Court

Hastings, Neb., Oct. 11.—(Special Telegram.)—Application for a reopening of the John O'Connor will case, involving an estate of $100,000 for which about 100 alleged heirs are contending, will be heard by the United States supreme court on October 15. This was the branch of the case in which the state supreme court rejected a will offered by James O'Connor of St. Joseph, Mo.

A web filament two and a quarter miles long has been taken from the body of a single spider.

ations would be obligated not to increase its naval strength beyond its present status or its status in a certain designated future year. Each nation would be allowed so many dreadnoughts, so many cruisers, so many destroyers, so many submarines and so on through the classes of vessels.

The plan provides that each nation might build any of these classes of ships only to replace ships scrapped.

O'Connor Will Case Will Be Heard in Supreme Court

Hastings, Neb., Oct. 11.—(Special Telegram.)—Application for a reopening of the John O'Connor will case, involving an estate of $100,000 for which about 100 alleged heirs are contending, will be heard by the United States supreme court on October 15. This was the branch of the case in which the state supreme court rejected a will offered by James O'Connor of St. Joseph, Mo.

A web filament two and a quarter miles long has been taken from the body of a single spider.

ations would be obligated not to increase its naval strength beyond its present status or its status in a certain designated future year. Each nation would be allowed so many dreadnoughts, so many cruisers, so many destroyers, so many submarines and so on through the classes of vessels.

Thompson, Belden & Co.

Fall Wear for Busy Boys

Now that school has commenced, we are beginning to realize that winter is almost upon us and that event necessitates something warm and snug for the growing boy.

Sweaters of heavy wool in the slipover style, as illustrated, or button down the front. In good-looking colors and combinations in sizes 6 to 14 and from $7.50 to $9.50.

Hats, caps and trims from 2 to 6 years. A stylish little model is a gray chi-chilla tam with a leather top. Other styles in black, navy blue and brown, in cloth, corduroy, plush and velour. All are good looking, but not expensive.

Children's Wear Section—Second Floor

To Fashion the Evening Gown

Beautiful lace flouncings of exquisite texture and design. In all the fancy shades and black, brown and navy A'30 lovely white Chantilly lace for bridal gowns.

A fine quality of all silk crepe dress chiffon and tulle in all colors.

Metal cloth with charmeuse back is ideal as a foundation cloth for the frilly effects of the evening gown.

White Voiles for 25c a yard

The right weight for curtains, only 25c.

5c Notions for Wednesday

Kohinoor snaps, black and white, all sizes, 5c.
Hooks and eyes, black and white, 5c a card.
Good quality safety pins for 5c a card.
Pearl buttons for 5c.
Coates' spool cotton in black and white and all numbers, 5c a spool.

Advertising Telephone Numbers Injures Your Service

Some business firms advertise their telephone numbers on signs, trucks, stationery and elsewhere.

Because of its detrimental effect on the service of every telephone subscriber, we urge against this practice.

Telephone numbers are always likely to be changed because of alterations in equipment, growth of the business or for other reasons. Many persons will continue to call the old number if it has been given publicity, and this of course is annoying to both the calling and the called subscriber.

Then, too, memory is uncertain about telephone numbers and it is best to have the number in the directory only where it can be obtained just before a call is made.

NORTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

The instrument chosen by the greatest artists

Victor artists

ALDA
BESANZONI
BORI
BRASLAU
CALVÉ
CARUSO
CLEMENT
CORTOT
CULP
DE GOGORZA
DE LUCA
DESTINN
EAMES
ELMAN
FARRAR
GALLI-CURCI
GARRISON
GIGLI
GLUCK
HARROLD
HEIFETZ
HOMER
JOHNSON
JOURNET
KINDLER
KREISLER
KUBELIK
MARTINELLI
McCORMACK
MELBA
MORINI
PADEREWSKI
RACHMANINOFF
R