

Mckelvie Scored For Veto of Film Censorship Bill

Nebraska Baptists Also to Oppose Anti-Volstead Act Office Seekers; Newell Heads State Body.

Norfolk, Neb., Oct. 12.—(Special Telegram) A. B. Newell was chosen president of the Nebraska State Baptist convention at the Wednesday meeting of the fifty-fourth annual session.

Other officers chosen were: First vice president, Oak Davis; second vice president, H. C. Winkler; third vice president, Mrs. Jeff Yelton, Lincoln; recording secretary, Rev. C. H. Freeman, Blair; assistant secretary, Miss Elizabeth Hayes, Grand Island; treasurer, W. E. Rhoades, Omaha; historian, R. R. Coon, Grand Island; trustee, E. S. Gunn, Lincoln.

Board members are Mrs. E. E. Pennett, Lincoln, member at large; J. W. Miller, Fremont, member at large; A. C. Busk, Omaha Baptist Union; Lorena Coppock, Chambers, North Central; H. Curtis, Omaha member at large; Miss Jennie Hall, Lincoln, member at large; Mrs. E. R. Phillips, Chadron, Northwestern; Rev. R. H. Pratt, Wayne, North-western; B. P. Richardson, Hastings, member at large; C. C. Timpley, Gothenburg, North Platte; Mrs. George Webster, Gibson, and Rev. Henry G. Smith, Lincoln, members at large. Alternates are Rev. Fred Young, Fremont; Mrs. Emma Johnson, Mead; Roy Rice, Maxwell; W. O. Backlund, Lincoln; Mrs. Jennie Terry, Alexandria.

B. Y. P. U. Officers Named.

B. Y. P. U. officers are: President, J. M. Sorenson, Fremont; vice president, J. G. Anderson, Omaha; secretary, Mrs. Ethel Galloway, Grand Island; treasurer, I. C. Riley, Hastings.

Trustees of Grand Island college were named as follows: Dr. G. W. Sutherland, Grand Island; Dr. Woodruff, Grand Island; C. I. Pone, Lincoln; A. B. Newell, Grand Island; Trustees of student council are: C. C. Changstrom, Omaha; P. P. Baldwin, Omaha; president, I. M. Wells, Grand Island; Mrs. F. C. Williams, Lincoln, and S. F. Hole, Fairbury, to fill vacancy of Mr. Fauquet.

Waterway To Cut Cost Of Shipping From Farm

inland water route will cut out waste, delays in shipping and put the grain of the middle west on a more equal competitive basis in European markets.

Mr. Harding urged representatives of farm organizations present to ask Nebraska representatives and senators to support the tidewater measure when it comes up at Washington. The association will not ask for any appropriation, but seeks the legislation which will allow the project to be started this year.

Shotwell to Go to Coast to Try to Get Wohlberg, Masse

County Attorney, Sheriff Clarke and Deputy Will Leave for Los Angeles Tomorrow to Make Legal Fight to Bring Pair Indicted in Cattle Loan Case Here for Trial.

County Attorney Shotwell, Sheriff Clark and Deputy Sheriff Quackenbush will leave this morning at 9:45 over the Union Pacific railroad for California in an effort to bring back Jacob Masse and Charles S. Wohlberg, indicted by the grand jury for aiding and abetting a felon in connection with the promotion of the Missouri Valley Cattle Loan company.

The two men were arrested Tuesday by the sheriff of Los Angeles county and information of this was received in a telegram to Sheriff Clark.

Attorney General Davis was called by telephone by Assistant Attorney General McGuire and an agreement was reached whereby County Attorney Shotwell is to go to California to fight all the legal obstacles, which the two men may raise. They have been fighting a federal indictment there and are said to have a good chance of escaping it.

Armament Conference Delegates Start Work

ment, Mr. Harding wrote, was "beyond hope of realization" and perhaps not very desirable, but "a reasonable limitation" of armament was practical proposition with some hope of accomplishment.

Similar sentiments have been expressed generally by military and naval authorities. It is understood that the first consideration of those familiar with the international situation has been rather a "reasonable limitation" of future armament construction than a scaling down of present strength.

Mr. Knox was appointed United States senator in 1904. As secretary of state in President Taft's cabinet he inaugurated an active policy of aiding the extension of American trade with foreign countries, which was characterized as "dollar diplomacy," a designation intended in derision but of which Secretary Knox afterward declared he was proud.

He negotiated arbitration treaties with France and Great Britain and made a notable trip to Central American countries, Colombia and Venezuela. In 1912 he was assigned to attend the funeral of Emperor Meiji of Japan, as representative of the United States government. One of the features of his secretaryship was the dispute with Great Britain over the proposal to exempt American coastwise shipping from payment of tolls for the use of the Panama canal.

Mr. Knox was born at Brownsville, Pa., on May 6, 1853, and was named after a noted Episcopal bishop, Philander Chase. He was graduated from Mt. Union, Alliance, O., in 1872, admitted to the bar in 1875, appointed by President Grant as assistant United States attorney for the western district of Pennsylvania, but resigned in 1877 and formed a law partnership with James H. Reed, under the name of Knox and Reed, in which he is said to have enjoyed a very lucrative practice. Many stories are told to illustrate his skill as a lawyer which he afterward placed at the service of the United States in his capacity as attorney general.

His home was at Pittsburgh and he had a farm at Allegheny, Pa. He had been a trustee of Mt. Union college and a member of numerous clubs in Pittsburgh and New York. In 1876 he married Lillie, daughter of Andrew D. Smith of Pittsburgh, by whom he had one daughter, Eleanor, wife of J. R. Tindle, and three sons, Reed Knox, Hugh S. Knox and Philander C. Knox, jr.

Davis Declares U.S. 'Has Come To'

Labor Secretary Says Prosperity Once Again Is Near at Hand.

Elwood, Ind., Oct. 12.—Secretary of Labor Davis declared in a speech here today that the country "had come to" after an industrial depression and would soon be filled again "with the old electric energy."

"Providing the governor grants us extradition papers, Masse and Wohlberg still will have the right to ask for a writ of habeas corpus to keep from coming back here. Should that be denied, it is possible for them to appeal to the supreme court. I don't know just how hard they will fight but I am going prepared."

The Douglas county officers must pay the expense of the trip out of their own pockets.

"I am loaning Douglas county about $1,000 of my own money, and taking a chance on getting it back," said the sheriff. "The county has no funds we can draw on in advance. We will present our bills to the county commissioners when we return and, no doubt, they will pay them."

Senator Knox Dies Suddenly at Capital and discrimination in race. Mr. Knox waged a notable fight against the combination of seven rail corporations, against whom he brought action in 1902, charging them with being in conspiracy in restraint of trade. He obtained injunctions against the defendants, which were made permanent on appeal to the United States supreme court and the combination was ordered to be dissolved.

Soon after Mr. Knox instituted proceedings against 14 rail-road corporations, charging them with being in combination in restraint of trade, and finally won all the suits. His friends declare that he was a pioneer in the movement to control corporations.

Mr. Knox was credited by some with having "actually carried through" the purchase of the Panama canal for $40,000,000, which was an achievement of the Roosevelt administration. As attorney general, Mr. Knox went to Paris and ascertained that the new Panama Canal company held a clear title to convey the canal. This enabled the United States to proceed with the purchase.

"Dollar Diplomacy." Mr. Knox was appointed United States senator in 1904. As secretary of state in President Taft's cabinet he inaugurated an active policy of aiding the extension of American trade with foreign countries, which was characterized as "dollar diplomacy," a designation intended in derision but of which Secretary Knox afterward declared he was proud.

He negotiated arbitration treaties with France and Great Britain and made a notable trip to Central American countries, Colombia and Venezuela. In 1912 he was assigned to attend the funeral of Emperor Meiji of Japan, as representative of the United States government. One of the features of his secretaryship was the dispute with Great Britain over the proposal to exempt American coastwise shipping from payment of tolls for the use of the Panama canal.

Mr. Knox was born at Brownsville, Pa., on May 6, 1853, and was named after a noted Episcopal bishop, Philander Chase. He was graduated from Mt. Union, Alliance, O., in 1872, admitted to the bar in 1875, appointed by President Grant as assistant United States attorney was offered by the appearance of James Garvie and his wife, an Indian princess, of Niobrara, Neb. Other Indians in the party were Gaska, Chief White Buffalo, Samuel Lawrence, Big Bear, Big Eagle and John Lightning.

Shenandoah Holds Anniversary Jubilee

Mrs. Garvie is a real Indian princess, the daughter of a great chief of the Sioux, Feather Earring. The princess is accomplished in Indian and English music. During the formal program this afternoon she rendered numbers in her native language. The Indians are encamped in a lot in the downtown district.

Thousands of the younger generations who witnessed an interesting parade today were enabled to visualize some of the domestic and transportation conditions which their forebears endured 50 years ago. Bill McIntyre drove an ox team hitched to an old prairie schooner. All of the ancient horse-drawn vehicles were brought out for the occasion.

First prize for old rigs was won by Scott & McElmurray, who appeared in an old-fashioned buggy drawn by a mule in chain harness. The Woolglen's Christian Temperance society won a prize for the oldest phaeton, a type of vehicle in which the young men went "a courting" in Page county 50 years ago and which caused the young woman to hasten the finishing touches of her toilet when she heard Dobbin at the front gate.

Grant township farm bureau won first prize in the float contest, an old log cabin with pioneer family being the theme. Second prize was awarded to Shenandoah High school for a float showing the "Little Red School House." The Sentinel-Post won third prize with a float showing a hand printing press of 50 years ago.

Other features of the parade were Elks and High school bands, fire and drum corps, and more than 500 pioneers in old-fashioned rigs. Many skits were long and men wore vests of wondrous designs.

In his address of welcome at the outdoor program this afternoon, A. S. Lake urged all within the gates of Shenandoah to rejoice with us as we celebrate with outstretched hands, a friendly heart and a smiling countenance. Mr. Lake has grown with this young metropolis, from the days when its population was 200, to its present 6,000, with 13 churches, five schools, new $60,000 high school, four banks and three newspapers.

A. F. Lake, native son of Page county, presided this afternoon. He introduced Professor R. K. Bliss, director of agricultural extension work Iowa State college, who spoke on farming, old and new. Professor Bliss asserted that if agriculture is to find its rightful place in Page county, it will do so through organization of the farmers. He related a youthful experience when his teacher dismissed school to allow the pupils to see two men pass on bicycles. He reviewed distribution methods and the changes that have been wrought.

Edgar R. Harlan, curator of the Iowa historical department, Des Moines, spoke this afternoon on the pioneers. He offered a sketch of the Louisiana purchase, the expedition of Lewis and Clark and of the establishment of the western states.

Quartet Sings Old Songs. Pioneers' day was further enlivened by the appearance of a double quartet in costumes commonly worn 50 years ago. The singers were Mrs. Dudley Miller, Mrs. J. A. Cheney, Mrs. Isaac Jackson, Mrs. Frank Stotler, Dr. E. E. Best, Ross Smith, Theodore Nordstrom and W. A. Burke. They sang "Captain Jinks," "O, Dem Golden Shippers," "Nellie Gray," "Old Dan Tucker," and other tunes that stirred the hearts of the older generation.

Mrs. Anthony Rhoades, resident of Page county for 54 years, recited several selections she offered 60 years ago at the Lyceum meetings in Oakesville. She stated she believed in the doctrine of cheerfulness.

Reminiscent talks by pioneers, music by Indians, and dancing on the pavement are on the program for tonight. Thursday will be military music. Competitive drills will be held in the morning and a military parade will be featured in the afternoon. Governor N. E. Kendall of Iowa and Brig. Gen. M. A. Tinley of Council Bluffs will be guests of honor.

Unemployment Day Observed in Iowa

Organizations Hold Meetings To Lay Plans to Aid Jobless.

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 12.—Today is Unemployment day in Iowa. In accordance with a proclamation issued by Governor Kendall, Chamber of Commerce, city councils and state officials, business organizations, civic clubs and welfare societies are holding meetings in all parts of the state today discussing plans to bring about an immediate relief of the unemployment situation in Iowa.

Labor conditions in Dubuque were reported above normal for the year. In Cedar Rapids unemployed are requested to register at the city hall.

12 Minnesota Farmers Are Taken in Dry Raids

Worthington, Minn., Oct. 12.—Twelve Noble county farmers were arrested and 3,200 gallons of mash, 300 gallons of moonshine, 20 stills and other moonshine paraphernalia were seized by federal agents in eight raids in this vicinity today.

The men are held in jail on charges of manufacturing liquor or having it in their possession unlawfully.

Sioux City Man Killed In Auto Accident

Sioux City, Ia., Oct. 12.—Milton de Guilbert, 26, traveling representative of a Sioux City cigar company, was almost instantly killed two miles north of Pisgah yesterday.

De Guilbert was driving a roadster and it is said that he was driving very rapidly when his car was seen to disappear in a cloud of dust and settle in the ditch, where it was lodged so tightly with De Guilbert beneath it that 10 men could not lift the car. A team of horses had to be procured before De Guilbert was released. He was so badly hurt that he lived but a short time.

De Guilbert was a member of the 168 infantry (Rainbow division), in the World War. He was wounded in action at Chateau Thierry.

Thompson, Belden & Co. Dainty Neckwear. Refreshing indeed are the youthful gimpes with their dainty frills and ruffles in net or lace. The collars of lace are exquisite in pattern. We have them in both white and cream shades. The vests add a note of briskness to the tailors. They are in lace and net, or, if you are handy with the needle, we have fancy vestings of net, filet and Irish lace which you may fashion yourself. Street Boots for Fall. Lend smartness to the new day time costume. Here is one of dark brown made of soft Vici Kid with the military heel for $10. Also a dark brown Vici Kid boot with Cuban heel for $13. And a new tan Russian hiking shoe with flat heel, ball straps and heavy perforations for $11. Did You Know. That colored wooden beads adorn the smartest knitted garments, and that they may be had in all the latest colorings in the Artneedle-work Department. New Arrivals — These Frocks for Miss Sixteen to Twenty. Smart youthful models whose pronounced simplicity of line employ rich trimmings and thoughtful details to lend attractiveness. Diverse sleeves with contrasting shades and materials, rich embroideries, braids and sequins mark these frocks as different. Poiret Twills and Tricotine Canton Crepe and Crepe de Chine. Special $59.50.

U. S. Army Goods. U. S. Army Shirts. Brand new O. D. U. S. Army Wool Serge Shirts. Special, only $3.95. Used O. D. Army Wool Shirts, only $1.65. U. S. Army Shoes. Regulation U. S. Army Russet Shoes. Special, per pair, only $5.50. U. S. Army Officers' Corduroy Shoes. A real buy at $5.95. Army Officers' Russet Shoes. Our special at $3.95. UNDERWEAR. Dr. Wright's All-Wool Union Suits, only $3.75. Dunham Wool Union Suits. Special per suit $2.95. Wool-Mixed Union Suits, only $2.19. Heavy Cotton Ribbed Union Suit. A $2.50 garment for only $1.45. U. S. Army Blankets. Brand new O. D. All-Wool U. S. Army Blankets, each $4.95. Per pair $9.00. Renovated U. S. Army O. D. Wool Blankets, each $3.95. Per pair $7.00. Brand new U. S. Army Double Cotton Blankets, per pair, only $1.98. Double Wool Nap Plaid or Solid Gray Blankets. Special, per pair, only $3.95. Pure White or Gray Wool Blankets with borders. A $10.00 blanket. Per pair $5.98. LEATHER VESTS. All Glove Leather Aviators' Vests. A real bargain at $10.50 and Genuine Horsehide Aviators' Vests, unlined, only $15.00. Lined, only $17.00. We have many other reasonable bargains in U. S. Army goods. Send for Fall Bulletin. Mail orders given special attention. Orders shipped same day as received. We prepay postage. Nebraska Army Store. 1619 Howard St. Main Store. Omaha, Neb.

Taste is a matter of tobacco quality. We state it as our honest belief that the tobaccos used in Chesterfield are of finer quality (and hence of better taste) than in any other cigarette at the price. Leggett & Myers Tobacco Co. Chesterfield CIGARETTES of Turkish and Domestic tobaccos—blended. "They Satisfy"

Philadelphia, Oct. 11.—Montgomery City, Pa. Francisco, Oct. 11.—Algeria, New York. San Francisco, Oct. 11.—Rotaria, Buenos Aires; Maui, Honolulu. New York, Oct. 11.—Olympic, Southampton; Paloma, Danzig. Fairmouth, Oct. 9.—Kofuku Maru, Portland, Ore. Havra, Oct. 7.—Baiba, Vancouver. Yokohama, Oct. 6.—Lucero, Victoria, B. C. Manila, Oct. 16.—Creole State, San Francisco. Departures. New York, Oct. 11.—Carmania, Southampton; Canton, New York. Havre, Montreal, Baltimore.

Killing Frost in Iowa; Warmer Predicted Here. A killing frost was reported over Iowa Tuesday night. Slight frosts were spread over eastern Nebraska, reports stated. Fair and warmer weather was predicted for last night and Thursday. M. V. Robbins, head of the weather bureau, said.

Flyer Sets New Record. Washington, Oct. 12.—Flying at an average speed of 170 miles an hour, Lieut. H. K. Ramey, piloting a DeHaviland army airplane in which Lieut. Terry Wolfe was a passenger, yesterday went from Washington to New York in 79 minutes, setting a new record. It was announced at Bolling field. The previous best time for the trip was 86 minutes.

Farmers Must Prosper. "We will never have a return of 'good times' nor will there be readjustment of business conditions until the agricultural interests are returned to a profit-making basis. Liquidation of debts was more forcible in this district than in any other. Many commercial, industrial and business concerns borrowed money and paid 12 per cent in order to pay off debts. In many states the rates for loans from the Federal Reserve banks are 5 per cent. If this rate could be obtained for Nebraska farmers it would mean a saving of $3,000,000 annually," he said.

World Seeks Limitation. "On the other hand, a world with the horrors of recent experiences seared into its mind, and staggering under the load of debt and armaments, has generously justified our hope for a favorable attitude toward the practical effort, the sincere beginning that we are attempting. The fine spirit in which leading nations have received the invitation to meet and consider these things is also encouraging. To undertake the impossible and fail might leave our last state worse than our first. The attitude of the nations warrants confidence that we will not fail, but rather that substantial results will be accomplished calculated to lessen the armaments burden and to reduce the danger of armed conflict. I feel that in such an effort we are entitled to the support of all people who would be glad—as I can assure you I would be—to see still more accomplished if possible."

Idea Is Practicable. "You replied that my letter seemed to bring a message of hopelessness to those seeking universal disarmament, and asked me to explain reasonable limitation. By reasonable limitation I mean something practicable that there is a chance to accomplish, rather than an ideal that there would be no chance to realize. Universal disarmament would be beyond hope of realization; even its desirability at this time might well be questioned. "Thousands of years of history, recording the wars and controversies of mankind, suggest that human nature would require revolutionary reorganization to make universal disarmament possible. A consideration of the present state of the world must, I think, enforce the conclusion that this is not a hopeful time to undertake that kind of revolution."

Letter Made Public. The letter in which President Harding outlined his hope for "reasonable limitation" was made public at the White House as expressing the executive's attitude toward the practical proposition with some hope of accomplishment. Can't Obtain Impossible. Similar sentiments have been expressed generally by military and naval authorities. It is understood that the first consideration of those familiar with the international situation has been rather a "reasonable limitation" of future armament construction than a scaling down of present strength. The latter, it is pointed out, could well be considered after a building program for the future had been agreed upon.

Letter Made Public. The letter in which President Harding outlined his hope for "reasonable limitation" was made public at the White House as expressing the executive's attitude toward the practical proposition with some hope of accomplishment. Can't Obtain Impossible. Similar sentiments have been expressed generally by military and naval authorities. It is understood that the first consideration of those familiar with the international situation has been rather a "reasonable limitation" of future armament construction than a scaling down of present strength. The latter, it is pointed out, could well be considered after a building program for the future had been agreed upon.

Letter Made Public. The letter in which President Harding outlined his hope for "reasonable limitation" was made public at the White House as expressing the executive's attitude toward the practical proposition with some hope of accomplishment. Can't Obtain Impossible. Similar sentiments have been expressed generally by military and naval authorities. It is understood that the first consideration of those familiar with the international situation has been rather a "reasonable limitation" of future armament construction than a scaling down of present strength. The latter, it is pointed out, could well be considered after a building program for the future had been agreed upon.

Letter Made Public. The letter in which President Harding outlined his hope for "reasonable limitation" was made public at the White House as expressing the executive's attitude toward the practical proposition with some hope of accomplishment. Can't Obtain Impossible. Similar sentiments have been expressed generally by military and naval authorities. It is understood that the first consideration of those familiar with the international situation has been rather a "reasonable limitation" of future armament construction than a scaling down of present strength. The latter, it is pointed out, could well be considered after a building program for the future had been agreed upon.

Letter Made Public. The letter in which President Harding outlined his hope for "reasonable limitation" was made public at the White House as expressing the executive's attitude toward the practical proposition with some hope of accomplishment. Can't Obtain Impossible. Similar sentiments have been expressed generally by military and naval authorities. It is understood that the first consideration of those familiar with the international situation has been rather a "reasonable limitation" of future armament construction than a scaling down of present strength. The latter, it is pointed out, could well be considered after a building program for the future had been agreed upon.

Letter Made Public. The letter in which President Harding outlined his hope for "reasonable limitation" was made public at the White House as expressing the executive's attitude toward the practical proposition with some hope of accomplishment. Can't Obtain Impossible. Similar sentiments have been expressed generally by military and naval authorities. It is understood that the first consideration of those familiar with the international situation has been rather a "reasonable limitation" of future armament construction than a scaling down of present strength. The latter, it is pointed out, could well be considered after a building program for the future had been agreed upon.

Letter Made Public. The letter in which President Harding outlined his hope for "reasonable limitation" was made public at the White House as expressing the executive's attitude toward the practical proposition with some hope of accomplishment. Can't Obtain Impossible. Similar sentiments have been expressed generally by military and naval authorities. It is understood that the first consideration of those familiar with the international situation has been rather a "reasonable limitation" of future armament construction than a scaling down of present strength. The latter, it is pointed out, could well be considered after a building program for the future had been agreed upon.