

Settlement Made Musser's Defense To Girl's Charge

Motion to Dismiss Suit on Ground of Payment of $500 to Plaintiff Denied by Court.

Attorneys for the defense in the case of Paul Musser, Wichita pitcher, accused by Helen Tomlinson, 21, of being the father of her child, born in Omaha, July 2, rested their case yesterday afternoon without putting Musser on the stand.

Motion to dismiss the case on the ground of an alleged previous settlement was overruled by District Judge Leslie.

L. N. Bunce, justice of the peace, testified that he quashed a complaint brought against Musser by Miss Tomlinson in his court last summer, following a telephone call from G. L. DeLacy, an attorney representing Miss Tomlinson.

Mr. DeLacy testified that Tom Fairweather, former mayor of Des Moines and owner of the Des Moines base ball club, and Gerald F. LaViolette, attorney for Musser, paid Miss Tomlinson $500 in his office following the filing of the first complaint. She got $500 and his firm got the other $100, DeLacy testified.

Earlier in the day, Miss Tomlinson, on the stand, testified to illicit relations with Musser last summer and fall at the Argonne apartments and the Loyal Hotel, Des Moines.

On cross-examination Miss Tomlinson admitted that she visited a Colonel McNally in his apartment at Camp Dodge last January after he had sent his car for her with an order and that she had dinner with him. She denied, however, that she ever was intimate with him.

"Did you have anything to drink?" she was asked.

"Why, not Colonel McNally doesn't drink," she answered naively.

She testified that she came to Omaha with her sister July 1, and that her child was born July 2.

Governors Score High Railroad Freight Rates

railroad commission of Nebraska, and William M. Smith, member of the public utilities commission of Michigan.

Kendall Outlines Meet.
Gov. N. E. Kendall, in opening the conference of governors, called for the purpose of discussing freight rates, the unemployment situation, interest charges and the cost of construction materials, delivered the following address:

"I have assumed the province of inviting this conference of middle western executives because I believe the financial, economic and industrial conditions of the country demand the most serious attention from all those in authority.

Paramount Industry.
"In all the states represented here, agriculture is the paramount industry and upon its prosperity depends the well being of the entire population. It is of primary importance, therefore, that those engaged in that pursuit shall realize fair returns upon the investment of capital and labor which they apply to it.

It is common knowledge among all men that during the years 1920 and 1921 the farmers of the Mississippi valley have prosecuted their enterprises at a substantial loss and the consequence has been that everywhere in the grain belt agriculture is prostrate, manufacturing is paralyzed, business is stagnant and idleness general.

Serious Situation.
"The seriousness of the situation cannot be overstated. I may be assailed as pessimistic, but in my judgment we have not yet sounded the ultimate depths of our depression." On the other hand we are approaching a crisis which unless averted will be unprecedented in our history for the loss and suffering it will entail.

"I have believed that this conference by the sober consideration of conditions as they exist throughout the country, by the mutual interchange of opinion concerning remedies to be involved, by the candid examination of questions which vitally affect the general welfare, might be able to contribute somewhat to the speedy solution of the perplexing problems which confront us."

Congregational Conference Opens

Unusually Large Number of Delegates Present at Crete.

Crete, Neb., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—Fine weather greeted the delegates at the opening of the state conference of Congregational churches Monday. The attendance for the first meeting was unusually large. The attendance in Crete is always large on account of Doane college. Many graduates and former students of the college consider a state conference a good opportunity to visit the familiar scenes on the campus. A choir of 50 college people under the direction of Professor G. H. Aler, furnished the music for the meeting.

The address of the evening was made by the Rev. J. A. Holmes of the First Congregational church, Lincoln, who took as his text three words from the Lord's prayer, "Thy Kingdom Come." The communion service followed the sermon. Communion was conducted by Rev. A. A. Cressman of Crete, who took charge for Rev. H. Bross of Lincoln, who was detained at home on account of sickness. The Rev. G. W. Mitchell of Franklin academy was called upon to assist. The deacons who administered the sacrament were: G. A. Leavitt, R. A. Smith, Professor J. E. Taylor and R. L. McMillan, all of Crete.

Tuesday morning opened with organization and business. At 10 a devotion service was conducted by the Rev. C. F. Burton of New York, secretary of the national council of Congregational churches. At 11 the retiring moderator, Dr. F. G. Smith, gave an address. Tuesday afternoon was devoted to the young people's session. The moderator was assisted by Rev. C. G. Murphy, the theme being "The Valuation of Activities." College chapel on Tuesday was addressed by Mrs. F. W. Wilcox of New York, the secretary of the A. M. A. She told of her work among the mountain whites, negroes and Indians in a most interesting fashion. Mrs. Wilcox is also on the program for Wednesday afternoon.

Among those from outside the state are Secretary Charles E. Burton, New York; Dr. Ernest Bourner Allen, Chicago, and Rev. Arthur E. Holt, Ph. D., Boston.

"Without the treacherous help of cathartics"

A simple food which gradually replaces laxatives

HE who can control chronic constipation without the treacherous help of cathartics makes a "booster" of his patient.

This quotation from a doctor's essay on constipation carries a message of great significance to thousands of men and women.

It is now recognized that cathartics never remove the causes of constipation. Indeed, one physician states that the indiscriminate use of cathartics is probably one of the most frequent causes of constipation.

In addition, because of its freshness (you get it fresh daily) Fleischmann's Yeast helps the intestines in their elimination of waste matter. Fleischmann's Yeast was tested for this purpose in leading medical institutions. Chronic cases of constipation, some even of years' duration, responded.

Fleischmann's Yeast is by its very nature better suited to the stomach and intestines than the ordinary laxatives, and being a food it cannot form a habit.

Eat 2 to 3 cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast a day. Have it on the table at home and on your desk at the office. Eat it plain, spread on bread, or dissolved in milk or fruit juices. You will like its fresh, distinctive flavor and the clean wholesome taste it leaves in your mouth. It is assimilated just like any other food. Only one precaution: if troubled with gas, dissolve yeast first in boiling water. This does not affect the efficacy of the yeast. Place a standing order with your grocer for Fleischmann's Yeast and get it fresh daily.
