

Capital Blamed For Building Lack By Contractors

"Working Man Now Giving Fair Deal But Men Buying Tax-Exempt Certificates Unfair," Says Builder.

Blame for delayed construction is not that of labor but capital, D. A. Garber of New York, millionaire builder, told 100 local contractors, real estate men and architects yesterday noon in the Chamber of Commerce.

"The working man now gives us a fair, square day—we don't want to hold him down to the European workman's level—but it's the man with money who liquidates his mortgages into tax-exempt securities that is tying our hands," Garber exclaimed.

Must Cut Rail Rates.
Revision of the income tax and reduction of freight rates on building materials in the same proportion as these rates were raised during the war will bring America into the period of the greatest industrial prosperity it has ever known, he predicted.

"The public is with us. It says 'Let's go!' But we can't go until our hands are untied."

Putting public improvements under way was advocated by F. L. Cranford, builder of a large part of the New York subway, as a means for starting this country back on the high road of prosperity.

Short Million Houses.
Legislation for highway and water development should also be fostered.

This country is short 1,200,000 houses, he stated.

"At an estimate of $4,000 per home, $5,000,000,000 in construction work is ready to fall into your hands," he told the contractors.

W. O. Winston of Minneapolis, president of the Associated General Contractors of America, and the man reputed to have "moved more dirt in the northwest" than any other contractor, emphasized the part construction plays at the key to the unemployment situation.

The trio are on a month's tour of the United States in an effort to stimulate co-operation in the building industries and to spread the propaganda that now is the time to build.

Rodman M. Brown, manager of the George W. Stiles Construction company, arranged the meeting. Mayor Dahlman extended greetings. Commissioner Koutsky also attended.

THINK OF OTHERS.

The first thing a convert to Christianity thinks of is the other fellow. How often have I seen people at a revival fall on their knees and call out, "Pray for my mother," "Pray for my sister," or "Pray for my husband."

Why, if the Christian spirit should gain a stronger hold, there would even be fewer automobile accidents. People would never forget the rights of others.

The man who takes his pleasure or profit at the expense of others is committing a great wrong. No one has any business hiring actors or other performers to risk their lives or their souls for his amusement.

Self becomes to the Christian a foreign thing. He thinks of others at all times. Who saves his life shall lose it. I am most truly my own when I have given every vestige of myself. I am most truly live when willing to die for others.

In the 91st Psalm you will find in one verse: "I will say of the Lord: He is my refuge and my fortress; my God, in Him will I trust." In the next verse the psalmist expresses the idea, "I'm safe, you may be saved, too." In these words: "Surely He shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler, and from the noisome pestilence." The selfish life does not think of anybody. When one becomes a Christian, self goes with the last load. We save our soul in saving others. It is not the question if that man out there will be saved if I do not go to him, but the question is, Will I be saved if I don't?

Socrates said, "Know thyself." Jesus said, "Deny thyself."

The real Christian studies large maps; he can't help it. It is a big thing to be a Christian. It requires big thinking and big living. But it is possible to any man of strong will or strong faith.

Text: Then shall they also answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungred, or athirst, or a stranger, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and did not minister unto thee?

Then shall he answer them, saying, Verily I say unto you, inasmuch as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to me. —Matthew 25:44-45.

Pastor Sued by Store Company

Negro Minister and Others Accused of Attempt to Wreck Co-Operative Firm.

The Co-Operative Workers of America, through its secretary, Z. C. Snowden, filed suit for $25,000 in district court yesterday against Rev. William C. Williams, pastor of St. Johns African Methodist church; William C. Sones and Joseph B. LaCour. The plaintiff charges conspiracy to wreck the company. All the parties are negroes.

The company has about 275 stockholders and conducts a general store at 1516 North Twenty-fourth street. Stockholders have been paying for stock at the rate of $10 a month.

The petition alleges that on December 26, 1920, Rev. Mr. Williams declared to his congregation that the promoters of the company had "squandered" $7,000 or $8,000 of the company's funds. This, the pe-tion says, caused a great falling off in business.

Rev. Mr. Williams announced yesterday that he will call a meeting of the stockholders of the concern at St. Johns African Methodist church next Sunday at 3:30 to decide on what action to take. He says he is chairman of a committee which will investigate the affairs of the company.

Iowa Boy Asks Dahlman to Aid in Locating Father

"Please help me to find my father," writes Howard Burnett, 15, 215 Thirtieth avenue west, Cedar Rapids, Ia., in a letter received yesterday by Mayor Dahlman. "My mother is not strong and we have our living to make. I have not seen my father for six years, but we heard from him in 1919 and he gave the address, 704 South Seventeenth street."

Inquiry at that address failed to yield any information of Burnett, whose first name is Breec.
