Enormous Gain Made in New York Real Estate Values

Forty-Second Street Center of New Financial District-Banking Palaces Erected At Pershing Square.

By HOLLAND.

Within a few days new evidence has come of the sudden and enormously increased value of real estate in that section of Manhattan which now is frequently spoken of as the new financial center-Forty-second street upon which the Grand Central Terminal front bears the same relation to this new financial district which Wall street, four miles to the south, bears to the old financial district.

Values have increased so greatly in that district within 16 years as yo add millions to the grand list of New York. Yet a few years ago this district was occupied chiefly with brown stone front dwellings nestled in between which were a few small retail shops. Not anywhere in the United States, even that section which produces precious metals, has there been such sudden and great creation of wealth as has been the case in this new financial district. It has brought unexpected prosperity to many.

Richard Croker, riding down Fifth avenue the other day, turned his eyes to the Demorcratic Club house which was bought a guarter of a century ago at his suggestion for $175,000. He referred when speaking of this property to a friend to the fact that the land alone has increased in value so that it was marketed a few days ago for somewhat in excess of $1,000.000. The building liself is to be torn down, as many other buildings in that section have been, so that upon its site can be built a modern store.

Democratic Club.

Many are the memories which will be stimulated by the departure of the democratic club from its Fifth avenue home. Richard Croker organized it when he was the unquestioned power in New York City. It was his deairs and that of his associates that it be a so-called genteel club, an aristocratic democracy, evening dress being a requisite for appearance in it as at a formal dinner. Some of the old-time democrats were at first arrayed in fine linen and dinner dress, excepting that their feet were shod with russet leather shoes. They were soon taught, however, that this was a solecism. Grover Cleveland, after he retired from his first terms as president, became a member of this club aithough he did not often visit itt.

A few blocks further south a vacant square which has been officially named in honor of General Pershing, is now under improvement. Not many years ago this square was occupied by a group of buildings brought together so as to serve for hotel purposes. The land itself was then appraised at not much over $100,000. When one of the subways was under construction the city of New York took over this property and caused the hotel building to be torn down. The owners of the land received about $3,000,000 from the city for it.
