

Bomb Exploded in U. S. Consulate at Lisbon, Portugal

Believed Red Protest at Conviction of Two Italians in U. S. as Slayers—No One Injured.

Lisbon, Nov. 1.—(By The Associated Press.)—A bomb exploded this morning on the staircase at the American consulate here. No damage was done, however. The police attribute the outrage to the agitation in connection with the cases of Sacco and Vanzetti, Italians under conviction of murder in Massachusetts.

Consul Escapes.
The bomb, which apparently was some form of grenade, had been placed before the door of the quarters of the American consulate. It appears that it exploded after the consul, in leaving his quarters, had given the grenade a push with his foot, but the interval intervening was sufficient to give him time to escape.

Officials reported that a note found nearby said the bomb was meant as a protest in the Sacco-Vanzetti case.

Washington, Nov. 1.—(By The Associated Press.)—A dispatch from Consul General Hollis at Lisbon received early today at the State department reported the bomb explosion in the consulate there. The consul general said the Portuguese government was investigating energetically and would make efforts to apprehend those responsible for the affair. Only trifling damage to the building was reported.

United States Starts Probe.
Washington, Nov. 1.—Investigation has been instituted by the Department of Justice into threats being made by radicals in connection with the case of Sacco and Vanzetti, Italians convicted in Massachusetts of the murder of a mill paymaster.

Montana Live Stock Men to Organize Vigilance Body

Camp Crook, S. D., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—A meeting of the stockmen of Carter and Powder River counties, in Montana, was held at Pinefle for the purpose of considering the advisability of organizing a stockmen's protective association and take steps necessary to discourage the stealing of live stock in that part of the country.

It was voted by those present to organize an association similar to the Tri-State Stock Growers' association organized in Belle Fourche several months ago. Another meeting was called for Saturday, November 19, at which time the proposed organization will be perfected.

Agricultural Department Launches Barberry Drive

Tecumseh, Neb., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—B. F. Dittus and J. W. Riedel, representatives of the state department of agriculture, have come to Tecumseh, and they will make a farm to farm survey for the common barberry. The barberry is instrumental in spreading rust to wheat, and the department is endeavoring to inaugurate a campaign to destroy it over the entire state.

America's Hero of Heroes, Designated By Pershing

Sergeant Samuel Woodfill of Bellevue, Ind., Officially Rated As Greater Than Either Sergeant Alvin York or Major Charles D. Whittlesey.

Washington, Nov. 1.—America's hero of heroes of the world war, a hero officially rated as greater than Sergt. Alvin York or Maj. Charles S. Whittlesey has been designated by the War department as body bearer, from the infantry branch, for the unknown dead who will be buried at Arlington national cemetery November 11.

The hero of heroes, selected as greatest of the long line of American soldiers who performed valiant deeds, is Sergt. Samuel Woodfill, of the regular army, a native of Indiana. He was born at Bellevue, Ind., where his brothers and sisters still live.

Sergeant Woodfill was selected by General Pershing to lead the list of heroes. In his report after a search of the American records of distinguished service, General Pershing said:

Praise of Pershing.
Deeds of valor were too numerous to mention here. Outstanding was the heroism of Lieut. Samuel Woodfill, Fifth division, in attacking single-handed a series of German machine gun nests near Covel, killing the crews of each, in turn, until reduced to the necessity of assaulting the last detachment with a pick, which he used, dispatching them all.

And of Sergt. Alvin C. York of the Eighty-second division, in standing off and capturing 132 Germans after his patrol was literally surrounded and outnumbered 10 to one; and Maj. Charles S.

Whittlesey, and his men of the Seventy-seventh division, when their battalion was cut off in the Argonne in refusing to surrender and holding out until finally relieved. Doubtless many died in performing deeds of unknown heroism, as no survivor remained to testify.

Sergeant Woodfill came to town yesterday from Fort Thomas, Ky., where he now is stationed, and was greeted by the secretary of war and officers of staff. To newspaper men who interviewed him, after they had read of his deeds of prowess on the field, Sergeant Woodfill said:

"My only regret is that I could not have done more."

His Parents Are Dead.
Woodfill is the son of American parents of Welsh and German extraction.

"My parents are dead," he said, "but my father was of Welsh descent and my mother's ancestors were German. I was born in Indiana, in the little town of Bellevue, here my brothers and sisters still reside. I deem it a great honor to have been selected as body bearer for America's unknown dead soldier, the greatest honor that will ever come to me."

The heroic deeds mentioned by General Pershing were performed by Sergt. Samuel Woodfill on October 12, 1918, near Covel, France, during the Meuse-Argonne offensive, when single-handed he silenced three machine guns, killed 19 of the enemy (one an officer) and captured three.

Babe Turns on Gas, Is Unhurt By Blast

Range Explodes But Child, Fortunately, Is Behind Door.

Fremont, Neb., Nov. 1.—(Special Telegram.)—A year-old babe, out of its mother's sight for a few minutes, narrowly escaped death when the infant innocently turned on the three gas jets to the oven of a burning gas stove. An explosion followed that shattered the range, but the infant had fortunately crawled behind a door in quest of further mischief. The parents of the child are the Rev. and Mrs. Fred Young. The father is pastor of the local Baptist church.

The clergyman has been ill in bed for the past few days and the mother left the child to tend to the furnace. The attention of the youngster was attracted to the shiny handles on the gas stove and in a few moments it had innocently turned on the gas. The fumes began to fill the oven of the stove while the child's attention was drawn to another plaything behind the kitchen door. The parents were elated to find the child safely behind shelter from the flying bits of steel, following the explosion.

Youth Placed on Trial For Murder of His Chum

Clarinda, Ia., Nov. 1.—(Special Telegram.)—Indication as to defense of Raymond Wren, 24, youth accused of shooting his chum, Ross Hammond, and hiding his body in a cornfield, was not given at opening of the trial in district court. His attorneys made no opening statement. Mrs. L. L. Baker of Shenandoah, only woman on the jury, delayed the trial when she went home at recess, thinking court was adjourned. Hammond's mother and brother from Baker, Ore., were principal witnesses for the state today, telling of the friendly relationship of the boys in Oregon and the start of the automobile journey to Gower, Mo., which ended in Hammond's murder near Braddyville, following a quarrel over needle and thread.

Beatrice Youth, Professor At South Dakota Uni., Dies

Beatrice, Neb., Nov. 1.—(Special Telegram.)—R. Dale Elliott, professor of Greek in the University of South Dakota at Vermillion, formerly of Beatrice, died suddenly, according to information received here today. Elliott was a graduate of Beatrice High school and had been located at Vermillion for 17 years. A widow survives.

Senate to Probe Charges Yanks Hanged in France

Senator Watson of Georgia Declares He Has Evidence Many Soldiers Executed Without Trial.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Investigation by a special committee in charges by Senator Watson, democrat, Georgia, that American soldiers in France were hanged without court martial or other trial was ordered today by the senate by unanimous vote. The committee will be appointed by the president of the senate and Senator Watson will be invited before to produce proof.

Senator Watson produced a small photograph of an alleged hanging and insisted that his charges were true. Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, said he had examined the photograph and had been told by two former service men that the charges were true, but that he was "unwilling to proceed on such evidence."

"How many senators know," Senator Watson had asked "that a private soldier was frequently shot by his officers because of some complaint against officers' insolence; and that they had gallows upon which men were hanged, day after day, without court martial or any other form of trial? I had and have the photograph of one of those gallows, upon which 21 American soldiers had already been executed at sunrise when the photograph was taken; and there were others waiting in the camp jails to be hanged morning after morning."

Replying to Senator Watson's charges that 21 American soldiers had been hanged on one scaffold in France, Senator New, republican, Indiana, presented an official statement from the judge advocate general of the army, showing that out of a total of 28 sentences of death, imposed in the American expeditionary forces, only nine were actually carried out.

Persimmon Tree at DuBois Has Much Fruit This Year

Table Rock, Neb., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—Probably the only persimmon tree in Pawnee county is located at the home of Mrs. Carolina Lucky in DuBois. This particular tree is larger than the ordinary apple tree and each year has a few persimmons. This year the yield is larger than usual and they only need a good freeze to put them in shape for eating. The tree was brought to Nebraska by Mrs. Lucky from her home in Illinois, and set out many years ago. It has done well and has survived hard freezes and droughts as well or better than native trees.

Beatrice Grocery Man Buys Store; Will Consolidate Two

Beatrice, Neb., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—J. W. Gregg, who has conducted a grocery store at 714 Court street for a number of years, has purchased the Hunting cash grocery and will assume charge of the store next Monday. He will combine the two stocks at the Hunting location, East Court street.

Fremont Farmer May Die From Attempted Suicide

Fremont, Neb., Nov. 1.—(Special Telegram.)—C. B. Siders, farmer near North Bend, was found hanging to a rope attached to a rail-er in his barn, where he attempted to take his own life. The nearly lifeless body was discovered by his wife who missed him shortly after he disappeared. Failing health is said to have brought on mental despondency.

Mrs. Siders became suspicious when her husband failed to return to the house and started out to search for him. Entering the barn she found her husband's body swinging from a rope. She summoned neighbors and the rope was severed.

Siders is in a critical condition and little hope is held for his recovery. He is about 45 years old and the father of four children. He is a native of Dodge county.

Jewelry Store Robbed.
McCook, Neb., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—The H. P. Sutton & Co. jewelry store was broken into this morning and jewelry to an unknown amount stolen. The robbers smashed the plate glass front window and took practically everything within reach. They evidently took advantage of the big fire raging at the time.

Announcing Our Third Monthly Title Contest

$5,100 will be awarded for the best title for a short story appearing in the November issue of The Red Book Magazine—now on sale. This makes a total for September, October and November issues of

$15,300

In Cash Prizes

To our readers

For the third time we offer $5,100 in cash prizes to folks who will devote a few moments' thought in helping us procure better titles for stories. Our editors are striving to improve our magazine by better titles. We need the co-operation by the reading public, and we are willing to pay for it.

Simply help us find a better title for the story appearing in the November issue of The Red Book Magazine now called "Much Stranger." It is by Richard Washburn Child, Ambassador to Italy. We print the synopsis of the story below. Can you think of a better name?

1,000 Prizes of $5 Each
One or More Prizes of $100

We ask you to submit what you consider a better title. Send it by letter or merely write it on a post-card with your name and address. Out of those received we will select the best 1,000 and for these we will pay $5 each. (Only one title can be submitted by each person.) For the best single one we will pay $100. In case that there is more than one person submitting the title chosen as best, we will pay $100 to each of the winners. The contest is simple. A few minutes' thought may bring you either $100 or $5. Remember, there are 1,001 winners.

Read the synopsis of the story, then send in your idea of a better title than "Much Stranger."

This Is the Story

On a lovely moonlit night, casting a spell of romance and adventure, Preston Worthingley decides that Virginia Forrester is not the woman he should marry. His fancy opens vistas of diplomatic brilliance in foreign courts, in which she plays no part. He longs to feel for the woman of his dreams the passionate, self-effacing love that seven years of comfortable affection for Virginia has failed to arouse.

After leaving her, on his way home—a strange adventure introduces him to his woman of dreams. He finds embodied in the exquisite Comtesse Javastapoli all the attributes with which his fancy has vested his destiny. He is charmed by the shimmery garments which accentuate her beauty and grace, and is drugged by the Oriental perfumes which envelop her.

Fascinated, yet wondering at his own abandon, he asks to go with her to her castle in Roumania, to which she must soon return. She readily offers love, pleasure, wealth and political power, if he will but come. The adventure he has prayed for awaits him.

Then her passionate kiss, unsought, dulls his emotion. Her sophisticated beauty, her perfumes, cloy his desire. The magic spell is broken.

Disillusioned, he escapes. He realizes that Virginia, after all, personifies his ideal, and that in their love is to be found the romance which is real, yet which accentuate her beauty and grace, and is drugged by the Oriental perfumes which envelop her.

Then her passionate kiss, unsought, dulls his emotion. Her sophisticated beauty, her perfumes, cloy his desire. The magic spell is broken.

Disillusioned, he escapes. He realizes that Virginia, after all, personifies his ideal, and that in their love is to be found the romance which is real, yet which accentuate her beauty and grace, and is drugged by the Oriental perfumes which envelop her.

Then her passionate kiss, unsought, dulls his emotion. Her sophisticated beauty, her perfumes, cloy his desire. The magic spell is broken.

Disillusioned, he escapes. He realizes that Virginia, after all, personifies his ideal, and that in their love is to be found the romance which is real, yet which accentuate her beauty and grace, and is drugged by the Oriental perfumes which envelop her.

Then her passionate kiss, unsought, dulls his emotion. Her sophisticated beauty, her perfumes, cloy his desire. The magic spell is broken.

Souls for Sale

Amazing Adventures of a Girl Who Wanted to Become a Movie Actress

The greatest novel of Rupert Hughes' career is laid in Hollywood, the California capital of the Movies. It tells of the remarkable life of a village girl and her experiences, told with sympathy and understanding.

It pictures the intimate life of the movie studios, the temptations, the ambitions and jealousies, the queer fantasies of fate that make or break the men and women of the silent drama.

Never has a more powerful story been told. Never have you read a more fascinating novel based on film life, as only Rupert Hughes knows it. "Souls for Sale" is a revelation.

Frank, But True

Thousands of readers have begun the first installments of "Souls for Sale" and eagerly await each new issue of The Red Book Magazine.

You can begin in the November issue, in which you will find an elaborated synopsis, so complete that you can understand all that has been told in the first few chapters.

You'll be delighted and thrilled at the masterful manner in which Rupert Hughes treats this delicate subject. For the first time you will be peering behind the scenes in movie-land.

Temptations to Overcome

From the very beginning you'll follow the career of Remember Steddon with a suspense you've never felt before. You'll realize instantly that this is to be the most discussed novel of the year.

It is as timely as it is interesting. You feel that some of the characters are the stars of the screen you know.

Get a copy of the November issue of The Red Book Magazine at once and begin reading this remarkable novel.

THE RED BOOK MAGAZINE

November Issue—Now On Sale
At All News Stands Everywhere

"They are really suffering from cumulative constipation"

COUNTLESS numbers of people have a daily elimination of waste matter from the system but this elimination is not thorough and sufficient. They depend on a regular weekly purge to rid their intestines of poisons and they never feel the full vigor and zest that come from perfect health.

This whole problem is so important that a well-known medical journal has published a collection of essays on constipation. All the doctors who wrote these essays emphasize the importance of diet. As one physician puts it, "The diet has the most marked influence upon the normal activity of the bowels."

Scientists have now discovered the simple food that helps restore normal conditions, and clears the body of accumulating waste matter—just the familiar little cake of Fleischmann's Yeast!

First came the startling discovery that Fleischmann's Yeast richly supplies the essential water-soluble vitamins. Then it was found that it builds up the body tissues and keeps the body resistant to disease. In addition, because of its freshness (you get it fresh daily) it helps the intestines in their elimination of poisonous waste matter.

Eat 2 to 3 cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast before or between meals every day. Have it on the table at home and on your desk at the office. Eat it plain, spread on bread or crackers, or dissolved in water, milk or fruit juices. You will like its fresh, distinctive flavor and the clean, wholesome taste it leaves in your mouth.

Fleischmann's Yeast is assimilated just like any other familiar food. Only one precaution: if troubled with gas, dissolve the yeast first in half a cup of very hot water. This does not affect the efficacy of the yeast. Place a standing order with your grocer for Fleischmann's Yeast and get it fresh every day.

Send 4 cents in stamps for the booklet, "The New Importance of Yeast in Diet." So many inquiries are coming in daily for this booklet that it is necessary to make this nominal charge to cover cost of handling and mailing. Address THE FLEISCHMANN COMPANY, 701 Washington Street, New York City.

The need for scientifically tested yeast

Fresh yeast has been proved by recent scientific tests to be a valuable food for correcting run-down condition, constipation, indigestion and certain skin disorders. These original tests were all made with Fleischmann's Yeast. Beware of untested yeast-vitamins preparations that contain drugs or other mixtures. Fleischmann's Yeast (fresh) is a pure food, rich in vitamins, in which it measures up to the high standards set by laboratories and hospitals. The familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label is the only form in which Fleischmann's Yeast for Health is sold.

TAILORED AT FASHION PARK

PAR-KERRY

PAR-KERRY PLAID-BACK ULSTERS

THE PAR-KERRY ENGLISH DOUBLE TEXTURE WEAVING IDEA IS ADOPTED IN THE PAR-KERRY ULSTER SKETCHED. PLAID BACKS ARE NOT ONLY SLIGHTLY BUT ADD EXTRA WARMTH AND LONGER WEAR. FASHION PARK RECOMMEND PAR-KERRY PLAID BACK OVERCOATINGS FOR ROUGH USAGE.

FORTY-FIVE DOLLARS AND MORE

SEE OUR WINDOWS TODAY

ALWAYS COMPARE OUR VALUES

CORRECT APPAREL FOR MEN AND WOMEN