

Senate Rejects Sales Tax Plan as Means of Revenue

Majority Even Larger Than That Against Previous Amendment—22 Republicans Join Opposition.

Washington, Nov. 4.—The sales tax as a source of federal revenue at this time was definitely rejected today by the senate, but there was further evidence that it was the purpose of republican congressional leaders to bring it forth later as a means of raising funds to finance the proposed "live-way" plan for adjusted compensation for former service men.

The majority today against the Smoot amendment to the tax revision bill proposing a business sales tax of one-half of 1 per cent was even larger than that last night against the Smoot 1 per cent manufacturers' sales tax. The vote today was 46 to 25 as compared to 43 to 25 last night.

As was the case with the manufacturers' tax, the democrats voted solidly against the business tax. They were joined by 22 republicans, three of whom—Fernald of Maine, Gooding of Idaho, and Keyes of New Hampshire—voted for the manufacturers' tax. Six republicans who did not vote last night—Brandegee of Connecticut, Calder, New York; Dillingham, Vermont; Hale, Maine; Harrell, Oklahoma, and Johnson, California—supported the amendment today.

Less Than Estimate.

Three republicans who supported the manufacturers' tax did not vote today. They were—Edge, New Jersey; Ernst, Kentucky, and Warren, Wyoming. Counting senators who were paired, it was estimated that the maximum vote, which would have been cast for the sales tax was 34, or some six less than it had been estimated would support it. Some senators thought that the debate resulted in the loss of some votes.

The senate continued consideration of the tax bill at a session tonight, but with the soldier bonus and other important amendments yet to be disposed of, republican leaders abandoned hope for passage of the bill this week. They sought to obtain unanimous consent for a final vote at 3 p. m. Tuesday, with time limited after 3 p. m. Monday, but the plan fell through, after some debate.

Several senators, who want to go home to vote in local elections, objected to a vote on Tuesday, and asked that some hour on Wednesday be fixed. There seemed prospects of an agreement on this, but Senator Jones, democrat, New Mexico, protesting against the limiting of debate, objected to the agreement as drafted. This ended the effort to obtain unanimous consent for a vote, but negotiations to this end probably will be renewed tomorrow.

Continue Auto Tax.

Urging his sales tax amendment, Senator Smoot told the senate that since a sales tax was to be adopted in connection with the soldier bonus, he thought it would be a wise plan to put it into effect now, so as to determine what rate would be necessary to yield the money needed.

An unsuccessful effort was made tonight by Senator Townsend, republican, Michigan, to have the 3 per cent tax on automobile trucks and wagons repealed. The senate voted, 36 to 27, against reconsideration of the committee amendment, proposing to continue this tax. Amendments by individual senators then were taken up, under a tacit agreement that the session tonight would continue until a late hour.

Without a record vote the senate adopted an amendment by Senator Jones, democrat, New Mexico, requiring corporations in making out their income tax returns, to show the dividends declared during the year for which the return is made. Its purpose, the author explained, was to prevent the possibility of concealing profits.

tinguished political career. Born in 1854, he was for some time in the foreign office service both at home and abroad and was vice minister for a time in 1895. He joined the late prince Ito in organizing the Seiyu Kai party in 1900 and shortly afterward became minister of communications in the cabinet. Later he served again as head of that department of the government in the Seiyu Kai cabinet of 1906-8, resigning with the fall of that ministry and traveling in Europe and America in the latter part of 1908 and in 1909.

On his visit to this country he was received by President Roosevelt in Washington in September, 1908.

M. Hara re-entered the cabinet in 1913 as minister of home affairs, and in 1919 formed the cabinet now in office.

Went Into Journalism.

When a youth M. Hara studied law for a time, but forsook it for journalism, through which work came his introduction into the foreign office service. During a later interval in his political career, in 1896-7, he was chief editor of the Osaka Mainichi, and took up again the chief membership of that paper for a time before entering the Sai Onji cabinet as minister of the interior in 1906.

In May, 1920, a plot was discovered to assassinate Premier Hara, the details coming out in November, last, by publication of the findings of a preliminary court, which tried a former artilleryman named Ito, charged with planning an attempt against the premier's person. Seven bombs were to have been employed in the attempted assassination, which was to have taken place on May 8, 1920, the court findings showed.

Purchased Revolver.

It was asserted that Ito came to Tokio and purchased a revolver and explosives, making his bombs out of bottles and boxes. On taking them into the streets, however, he was knocked down accidentally by an auto and the police discovered the infernal machines he had devised and unravelled the plot.

The assassination of Premier Hara recalls a similar dramatic incident when Premier Clemenceau of France was shot and dangerously wounded at a time when the peace conference, of which he was president, was in progress. This occurred February 19, 1919, while Clemenceau was going from his home to the American headquarters at the Hotel Crillon. Springing from behind a kiosk, the would-be slayer, Emil Cottin, fired a volley of shots at the aged statesman, two bullets taking effect, one in the shoulder and another in the breast near the lungs. The victim's life was despaired of for a time, but his iron will helped carry him through and within three weeks he resumed his place with the peace conference, which had been threatened with disruption by the incident.

The Vienna congress after the Napoleonic wars was similarly disturbed, first by a series of assassinations and then by Napoleon's dramatic stroke in escaping from Elba and returning in triumph to Paris.

State Witness In Arbuckle Case Hunted by Police

Alice Blake, One of Main Witnesses for Prosecution, Disappears From Home Where Detained.

San Francisco, Nov. 4.—The California police, through District Attorney Matthew Brady of San Francisco were last night requested to find Alice Blake, one of the main witnesses for the state in the manslaughter charge against Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, due to be brought to trial here November 14.

Miss Blake disappeared yesterday from a place near Calistoga where she was staying with Mrs. John Duffy, mother of George Duffy, a deputy district attorney. The witness was not under arrest, but was being detained at Mrs. Duffy's place, with her own consent, pending the Arbuckle trial.

Her disappearance, according to Mrs. Duffy's story to the district attorney here, came after a visit by Miss Blake's mother, Mrs. John Westphal of Oakland, and an attorney whose name District Attorney Brady had not obtained tonight. The girl left with her mother in an automobile, Mrs. Westphal saying she was going to take her daughter home.

The Westphal home in Oakland was unattended late last night, investigators said.

Miss Blake was a guest at the party given by Arbuckle in a local hotel when Virginia Rappe, film actress, is alleged to have sustained injuries which preceded her death.

Creighton Medical Alumni Hold Clinic Sessions

The Creighton Medical College Alumni association held yesterday's session of its annual meeting in St. Joseph hospital where clinics were held over various cases with explanations by specialists.

Dr. J. H. Murphy spoke on infant feeding. Dr. G. W. Dishong presented a case of disseminated sclerosis; Dr. J. F. Langdon, a case of systemic blastomycosis; Dr. A. Sachs presented other medical cases. "Pott's disease" was elucidated by Dr. W. L. Sachs. A clinicopathological conference was conducted by Doctors M. G. Wohl and B. C. Russum. Dr. Karl Connell presented a number of surgical cases.

The members attended the International Aero congress in the afternoon. Last night at Hotel Fontenelle Dr. E. Lyman Cornell of Chicago addressed the association on "Occupational Posture."
