

Council Bluffs Society

November Weddings.

Two weddings of interest will occur this month in St. Francis Xavier's Catholic church.

On Tuesday morning, the 22nd, Miss Elizabeth McGinn will become the bride of David Tighe and the following day Miss Irma Egan and Daniel Sullivan will be united in marriage.

Engagement Announced.

Mrs. W. H. Freeman of Oakland, Ia., announces the engagement of her grand-daughter, Miss Muriel Smith of that city, and Louis Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Ross of Council Bluffs.

Miss Smith attended the Westlake seminary in Los Angeles and more recently was a student at the Nebraska State university. The wedding will occur in the near future.

Mills-Wolfs.

Cards have been received in Council Bluffs from Riverside, Cal., announcing the marriage there on Saturday, November 5, of Miss Margaret Barbara Wolff and Mr. Harry Dudley Mills.

Mrs. Mills is a sister of Mrs. George Wickham and visited in this city two years ago.

Tea.

Mrs. William Patterson was guest of honor at an informal tea given Friday by Mrs. S. L. Etnyre at her home on North Second street.

Mrs. Patterson is a sister of Mrs. Etnyre and arrived last Wednesday from Philadelphia for a brief visit here.

Forrest Rutherford Writes Comedy.

The many friends of Forrest Rutherford, a former Council Bluffs young man who is making Denver his home, will be pleased to learn that he has just recently completed a comedy which is to be presented at a very early date in Washington, D. C. and later in New York City.

The producer John Cort predicts great success for this play in that he says it will be a second "Gomerang."

Mr. Rutherford is of a very artistic temperament with a rich natural voice and within the past few years married a talented musician, Miss Athalia Jewell, who was then accompanist of Alma Gluck, the prima donna soprano.

In the early days of the war when the New York Herald offered $1,000 for the best marching song, Mr. Rutherford wrote the music and her husband the words of "Give Me a Kiss, Marandy," and were the winners of this generous prize. They were both so well qualified to do entertaining that during the war they volunteered their services to the Y. M. C. A. in that capacity, and it was the privilege of our Company L boys to hear them in their sketch at Neuf-Maison, France, and later at Pexonne, a little town just behind the lines.

Mr. and Mrs. Abbott Entertained. Complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Abbott, who are the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Charles E. Woodbury, a dinner of eight courses, followed by bridge, was given last Tuesday by Miss Leta Hunter.

On Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Wood Allen also entertained at a dinner for these visitors.

Mrs. Abbott was formerly Miss Dorothy Woodbury, and since her marriage has been living in Montpelier, Vt., but Mr. Abbott is now making a business change which will take him to Chicago, where they expect to permanently reside.

Bridge-Luncheon Series. The third in a series of parties at which Mrs. Thomas Green and Mrs. W. J. Heiser are being hostesses, took place Saturday at the home of Mrs. Green.

It was in the form of a bridge luncheon and perfect in all appointments. The guests numbered 16.

Spindlers to Colorado. Mrs. J. J. Spindler and daughters, who always spend their summers in Colorado, have decided to go for the winter months to Denver, which is not far from their summer home at Grand Lake.

They plan to leave here about the first of the month, and will probably be away for a year.

Mrs. Spindler has sold her home on Glen avenue to Mrs. Lyman Shugart, who will take possession December 1.

Orpheum and Supper-Dance. An Orpheum party, followed by a supper-dance at the Brandeis tea room was enjoyed last Friday evening by the eight members of the new Bridge-Luncheon club and their husbands, who were hosts for this occasion.

In the party were Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Ash and Messrs. and Mesdames Robert Sprague, W. V. Mayne, E. E. Evans, Robert Organ, Dan Sheehan, C. I. Palm and F. D. Parmer.

The members of this club were entertained at luncheon on Tuesday by Mrs. Parmer and the afternoon was spent with bridge.

Charity Ball. The members of the Elks lodge are formulating plans for a big charity ball, to be given in the Auditorium Thursday evening, December 15.

The proceeds of the affair will be used at Christmas time to buy food and clothing for any in need.

Robert Bender Successful. Among the many Council Bluffs young men who have attained enviable reputations is Robert Bender, now of Washington, D. C., whose picture was shown in a recent issue of the Collier's Weekly.

He is the son of the late Victor Bender, a prominent newspaper man of this city, and since childhood has had a great fondness for the literary field.

Of late years he has been recognized in the newspaper world, and is now one of the leaders in the younger group of correspondents. With such prominent writers as Frank H. Simonds, Mark Sullivan, Herbert Bayard Swope, William Allen White, Richard V. Oulahan and Lowell Mellett he covered the peace conference at Versailles, and the public now looks to the able man for news concerning the disarming parley.

Bridge-Luncheons. Mrs. Erwin E. Spelman and Mrs. Fred Baummeister entertained last Wednesday at the Spelman home and have also issued invitations for a bridge-luncheon to be given on Thursday of this week at Mrs. Baummeister's.

Dancing Parties.

A series of dances will be given in the ball room of the Elks' club this winter, the dates of four having already been set. They are November 14 and 28, and December 12 and 26. They all fall on Monday nights.

American Legion Entertains.

As a fitting climax to a day well filled with appropriate events the American Legion held a most successful dance Friday evening at the Eagle hall.

To the ex-service man Armistice day means more than to even those of us who "kept the home fires burning," and November 11 has taken such a prominent place on the American calendar that from now on, in all patriotic cities, it will be heralded as a day of rejoicing.

Personals.

A daughter was born at Mercy hospital last week to Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Hennessy.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Keeline left Thursday morning for a prolonged sojourn in California.

Dr. and Mrs. M. A. Tinley have as house guests Mrs. Towne of Lincoln and Dwight Sprecher, a nephew of Mrs. Tinley, from Arlington, Neb.

Perry Williams, who has been visiting his sister, Mrs. M. A. Tinley and Dr. Tinley, departed during the week for his home in Granite Canyon, Wyo.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Woodward are expected home this week from Rochester, Minn., where Mrs. Woodward has been under the care of a physician.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Etnyre have as their guest Mrs. William Patterson of Philadelphia, Pa. Mrs. Patterson formerly lived in Council Bluffs and is a sister of Mrs. Etnyre.

Miss Marjorie Annis, who is a student at Ferry hall, will not return to Council Bluffs for Thanksgiving, but plans to spend that holiday with a school friend who resides in Chicago.

Harry Abbott, formerly of Montpelier, Vt., who with his wife has been visiting at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Woodbury, leaves today for Chicago, where he will make arrangements to reside. Mrs. Abbott will join her husband there in a few weeks.

Operetta Lead

Miss Margaret Hofmann will take one of the leading roles in "What Happened in Holland," a benefit for St. Michael's church given by the Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Patrick's. The operetta was given last spring with Miss Hofmann and Miss Sophia Rauber in the leading roles. Miss Rauber will appear again. The performance will be given at Creighton auditorium at 8:15 Tuesday evening, November 15.

Sarah Slanley, who is in charge of the Christ Child settlement house, has also a prominent part. Others in the cast are Mildred Schmidt, Jim Rozmaizel, Arthur McCaffrey, Frank Cerney and Carl Lucca.

When Playtime Comes. Each guest present is given 12 grains of corn. A hollowed-out pumpkin is placed in the center of the room. The contestants stand at the far side of the room and try to throw their grains of corn into the pumpkin, in a given length of time.

The Word Thanksgiving. After providing your guests with paper and pencil, ask them to write out a practical Thanksgiving menu, using the letters in the word "Thanksgiving" in their order to form the first letter in the name of the dish. For example: T—Turkey; H—Ham; A—Angel Food Cake. A small cook book might be the prize.

On the same order, ask the guests to list their blessings, as T—Thank; H—Health; A—Attainments. When the lists are returned, check to find the blessing most frequently named, then ask for a prize four-line jingle or limerick about this most popular blessing.—People's Monthly.

is capable of very attractive arrangement. Place two segments of orange lengthwise and nicely fitted into a strip of endive, with a spoonful of thick mayonnaise between the pieces of orange. Place a couple of other leaves of endive on the plate.

Crisp cool bacon on watercress, with French dressing.

Diced beets and peas, mayonnaise and lettuce.

Green pepper stuffed with cream cheese and nut meats, sliced on lettuce with mayonnaise.

Halves of canned pears drained of all juice and sprinkled with chopped pecan nut meats, with mayonnaise or French dressing.

Y. W. C. A. Residence for Girls

The Scottish Rite foundation has given this $96,000 home to the Y. W. C. A. for a period of 10 years. The Scottish Rite Foundation advisory board meets once a month with the Y. W. C. A. committee to talk over and discuss the problem of keeping up this home in an efficient and attractive way. The house and annex are on the corner of Cass and Twentieth streets. They hold 57 girls, 23 in the house and 34 in the annex. There are two baths on every floor and two extra lavatories and each room in the annex has hot and cold running water. There is a large, well equipped laundry where the girls can save some dollars by taking care of their own clothes. There is a large, sunny living room where the girls can entertain their friends, and women, every day in the week. The dining rooms are furnished with small tables seating six girls. The dining room is not run

Thanksgiving Day Entertainment

The Thanksgiving table may be arranged tastefully this year by filling a hollowed out yellow pumpkin with tiny cards, upon which are written individual fortunes. Make small openings in the pumpkin with an apple corer, then bring forth through these openings the golden ribbons attached to the fortune in the pumpkin. These yellow streamers are then attached to the individual place cards. At a family dinner such as this, where everyone is familiar with the others' affairs, it is folly to have the fortune slips prophesy what each person will be thankful for next Thanksgiving day.

At the base of the pumpkin arrange a circle of red and gilt leaves. Place on the leaves nuts of all varieties, also wheat-blades about one foot long at given intervals so that they radiate like spikes from the pumpkin hub.

Thanksgiving Favors. For serving salted peanuts and the after dinner candies, use two dolls dressed in Puritan costume, a gray dress with white cap, collar and cuffs. The costume may be constructed from paper, but make a large white apron of cloth, attaching the corners of the apron to the doll's hands, and tying the apron strings firmly around her waist. Fill the apron with the after-dinner dainties. In the hands of the server the doll then makes a visit to each guest's place.

Small paper mache ears of corn now being shown in the shops, when filled with candy corn, make pretty favors.

Corn husk dolls and fiddles made of cornstalks are a delight to the children. Cake and ice cream may be made in the shapes of vegetables and fruits if desired.

From a banana with a good stem, make a miniature Mayflower, set in sand, cutting a slice off the bottom to make it stand erect, and, with a small rock near by, you have a clever representation of 1620.

Music is a lovely assistant at almost any kind of entertainment. Have the kind of music that interests all—not the kind that is played out of dead ears to others. Start singing around the Thanksgiving table, sing the grace. "Father, We Thank Thee," ought to be a familiar song and is not too solemn for the occasion. Later sing, for the joy of singing the old familiar songs, such melodies as "Old Joe."

Home Nurses Needed

By LORETTO C. LYNCH.

A recent article tells us that there is a serious shortage of nurses in our country. A foremost physician says the solution of the problem lies in conserving the services of the highly trained nurse for the really serious cases of illness. He suggests that every housewife make herself acquainted with the elements of home nursing and always keep on hand a few first aids.

Every household should possess some good book on home nursing, a clinical thermometer and a bottle of iodine, gauze and cotton. It requires but a small investment to have a snowy white tray and a few attractive bits of china on reserve for the sick room.

If the patient must remain in bed for more than a couple of days, the housewife should arrange to remove all articles of furniture not needed in the room. It is usually best to remove the floor covering and either scrub or mop the floor with water to which a little disinfectant is added.

The woman practicing home nursing should provide herself with several washable overall aprons. When there is sickness in the home the household duties program should be rearranged so that ample time may be given to the patient even if other things must be temporarily neglected.

No housewife should be without a slight knowledge at least of home nursing and no home should be without a few first aids in the medicine cabinet.

"Society having ordained certain customs, men are bound to obey the laws of society and conform to its harmless orders."—Thackeray.
