(Sporting Editor Omaha Bee.) Lincoln, Nov. 12.-The University of Nebraska cohorts, playing before one of the largest crowds of homecoming fans that ever graced an intercollegiate contest in Nebraska, crushed the Kansas Jayhawkers here this afternoon by the score of 28 to 0. The Husker team realized that just one week ago it had whipped Pittsburgh. Tonight the Lawrence boys understand how it all happened. The Jayhawkers fought with their traditional spirit and the game was far more interesting than the score would indicate.

But the line was weak, Harvard finally analyzed the Kentuckians offensive, and, fighting stub-bornly but futily they were beaten by Harvard's superior numbers and strength. But the 1920 game had not ended before Moran was planning to remedy his weakness and return to Harvard the next year. He even had realized the weak spot of the team before the 1920 game.
