

First Check of Omaha Bee I. Q. Contest Made

Announcement of Winners
Expected Before December
1—Many Humorous
Answers Received.

First check of The Bee's "Intelligence Questionnaire" has been completed after many weeks of work by the judges. Final checking is now going forward at a speed which, it is estimated, will allow announcement of the winners some time before December 1.

The enormous task has not been without its diversions, coming in some of the answers given. For instance, here is a youth who tells us that a curriculum is "a race horse while another informs us that it is 'something to clean by scrapping.'"

Contestant Plays Safe.
"What is the electro-pneumatic block signal?" was one question to which a feminine contestant replied, "A light pole in the air with a number." Another tells us that the first pneumatic invention which attracted general attention was "a wind mill." One cautious chap played safe on the question, "Who invented the submarine?" He answered, "An inventor," which isn't wrong, but can't be put down as right.

Names Five Senses.
"What are the five senses?" was a question which drew this remarkable elucidation from one contestant, "The five senses are sense, sensible, sensual, sensulism and sensuous." "What causes the tide?" Answer: "The water when it hits the bank." So read one questionnaire. And thus it goes. But the result will soon be to announce.

B. P. O. E. Ruler Coming to Omaha

Local Lodge Plans Elaborate
Entertainment for Him
Next Wednesday.

Omaha Elks are making elaborate preparations for the entertainment of W. W. Mountain, grand exalted ruler, who will be here next Wednesday, accompanied by Fred C. Robinson, grand secretary.

The chief entertainment feature will be a program in the evening at 8:30 in the Shrine room of Masonic Temple. The entertainers will be the Elks' band, D. W. Huntington, West sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thiem and Gertrude Thiem, Lawrence Dodds, Rube Westlers, Ruth Gordon, a male quartet, and Dr. H. A. Waggoner's saxophone organization. E. C. Page will preside.

The grand exalted ruler and secretary will be entertained at luncheon and a 6 o'clock dinner will be served at Hotel Fontenelle. An invitation has been extended to DeWolf Hooper to attend the evening entertainment after his performance at the Brandeis theater.

"Support Y. W. C. A." Says Mayor in Proclamation

Mayor Dahman yesterday issued a proclamation, calling on the public to support the Y. W. C. A. campaign for funds which starts tomorrow and continues until Thanksgiving day. The proclamation reads:

"The Y. W. C. A. has designated November 14 to 24 as 'Annual Finance Week.' It is unnecessary to recommend the work of this institution to our citizens. Its past history, the wonderful good it is accomplishing day by day, is its strongest claim on our support. 'I hope that the young women will realize their ambition to raise the necessary funds to carry on the work of rendering Christian service to the young women of Omaha. A glance at the record of its achievements in the way of assisting young girls morally, educationally, and in every other way, is most convincing argument in its favor. Gymnasium classes, comfortable housing facilities, well-cooked food, lowest prices—these are only a few of the activities of the Y. W. C. A. in this city, to say nothing of the luncheon service rendered young women passing through the city, whose first inquiry is for the Y. W. C. A.'"

Gipsy Smith Endorses
Willard Hall Campaign
Gipsy Smith visited the site of Willard hall last week on South Tenth street, and was highly pleased with the outlook, he said. Extensive repairs now are being made on former Brownell hall which is being converted into a home for working girls. It is planned to be completed by January. The Gipsy expressed the hope that this project may have the loyal support of the people of Omaha. Campaign for $75,000 now is being conducted.

Prominent Eagle Will Address Omaha Aeries
The Eagles of Douglas county, consisting of five aeries, are making preparations for the reception of Del Cary Smith who will deliver an address in the auditorium of Labor temple, Nineteenth and Davenport streets, next Wednesday evening. Mr. Smith is a past grand worthy president of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, and the first man who ever succeeded himself in that position. He is a lawyer of Spokane, Wash. The meeting will be open to the public.

Omaha Poultry Club Show
Will Open November 21
The Omaha Poultry club will hold its eighth annual exhibition at the Auditorium, November 21 to 26. Poultry breeders from 12 states will attend the show and meet with the Rhode Island Red Club of America. Prizes totaling $2,500 and a number of silver cups will be awarded during the exhibition. Arthur L. Edson, 222 North Fifteenth street, secretary of the Omaha Poultry club, has charge of the show.
China will use airplanes to hunt bandits and smugglers, carry precious metals from the interior to the coast and explore for new rail and highway routes.

Monday The Last Special Demonstration

Our Factory Demonstrator
Will Show Why

ONE MINUTE WASHER

is the most efficient and economical make and should be in every home as a money and time-saver.

It has the peg dolly washing principle, which swings the clothes in the opposite direction to the water, forcing the suds through and through the clothes, thus thoroughly cleaning the most delicate fabrics as well as heavy garments—without wear and tear. It is an economy in any home.

You can buy one TODAY on deferred easy payment terms.

We include with the purchase of the machine—no additional price—your choice of one copper boiler, No. 8; one Hot Point 6-lb. electric iron; 100 bars Swift's naphtha laundry soap.

Prices range from $79.50 to $128.50.

Children's Book Week

The Third Annual Children's Book Week is to be observed this year from November 13 to 19. Could we give one gift to every child it would be the love of books. The slogan is "More books in the home." It is Kate Douglas Wiggin who has said, "One of the greatest goods for a child is that he shall grow up in a house with books. It does not matter if there be a circulating library in the same street—that will never take the place of books in the home, books in wall cases, in racks and stands, on the table and window seats, and on the kitchen mantel shelf beside the clock."
