

THE OMAHA BEE

DAILY (MORNING) - EVENING - SUNDAY
THE BEE PUBLISHING COMPANY
MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The circulation of The Omaha Bee
SUNDAY, NOV. 13, 1921
71,386

THE BEE PUBLISHING COMPANY
CHARLES S. YOUNG, Business Manager
ELMER S. BOOD, Circulation Manager

The Bee's Platform
1. New Union Passenger Station.
2. Continued improvement of the Nebraska Highways...

Mr. Harding and the Congress.

The house having adopted the senate's figure for surtax on large incomes, the probabilities are that it will go to the president at the point set. A pretty little exhibition of the difference between a republican and a democratic congress is here afforded.

Consumption Is No Sin.

The mere fact that a man has been elected or appointed to office does not make him an expert in problems of taxation. Postmaster General Hays, in advocating a sales tax has not made out a strong case by his appeal for a system which would penalize consumption and reward abstinence.

Family Ties Still Strong.

It is impossible to believe that home life is dying and that the American home is disintegrating. Some changes are apparent: children appear to expect more of their parents and parents to demand less of their children.

than driven. There are not so many "don'ts," but rather more suggestions beginning with "do." It is a patent fact that there is a great deal more wholesome comradeship in the average American family now than ever before.

A Fundamental Fact.

Until a bushel of corn can be shipped from Nebraska to the seaboard for less than the price of two bushels on the farm, we will have no relief from existing conditions.

Thanksgiving and Armistice Day.

Thanksgiving day observance harks back to the time of the Pilgrims, symbolizing at one and the same time the gathering of the harvest and the respect in which the Puritan tradition is held.

Closing the Navy Yards.

One of the immediate effects of the proposal to limit naval strength is reflected in the situation at the navy yards. If the Hughes plan is finally adopted, it is undoubtedly will be in one or another form, if not exactly as reported, a great many machines will be idle and many men will be thrown out of work.

Lessons in Tact.

Foreign visitors to the United States are uniformly tactful in their speeches and actions. They are, as a rule, drilled in school in the art of courtesy which calls for sincere consideration of the sentiment and customs of others.

ISN'T IT THE TRUTH?

When a man, proposing, Gets down on his knees, He looks very foolish, As any mortal sees; But if he proposes standing— Or sitting by the dame— He may not look so foolish, But he's foolish, just the same.

TRY IT.

If your hat blows off when the wind is high, There's a lesson if you would learn it, Stand where you are—some willing guy Will always change it and return it.

TRY IT.

When a fellow steals a kiss he should be made to give it back, You can't keep a good mustache "down." Night falls, but it is always day that breaks.

TRY IT.

When a man, proposing, Gets down on his knees, He looks very foolish, As any mortal sees; But if he proposes standing— Or sitting by the dame— He may not look so foolish, But he's foolish, just the same.

TRY IT.

When a man, proposing, Gets down on his knees, He looks very foolish, As any mortal sees; But if he proposes standing— Or sitting by the dame— He may not look so foolish, But he's foolish, just the same.

TRY IT.

When a man, proposing, Gets down on his knees, He looks very foolish, As any mortal sees; But if he proposes standing— Or sitting by the dame— He may not look so foolish, But he's foolish, just the same.

THE HUSKING BEE —It's Your Day— Start It With a Laugh

AUTUMN SONG.

A frosty morn fills me with glee, I'm frothy happy in the autumn, From summer lassitude I'm free And full of pep from top to bottom; The air goes to my head like wine; And puts a kick into my kicker, The rare ozone makes me feel fine. (Just like a shot of good, old liquor.)

PHILO-SOPHY.

It isn't the weather—it's our mental attitude that makes the day fair or foul. Vanity goeth before a fall. Beware the open coal hole while viewing your reflection in the plate glass windows.

HEARD ON THE CORNER.

"What makes it seem so quiet and different on the streets today?" "It isn't a tag day."

CONTRIBS, WHAT HAVE YOU?

Dear Philo: I offer a good measure of private stock for an authentic case of anyone missing a catastrophe by "the skin of his teeth."

POSTOFFICE OUT OF POLITICS.

From the New York Evening Post. A postmaster general who owed his appointment to the ability he had displayed as chairman of his party's national committee is not exactly the person one would expect to find defending the merits of the postoffice.

LESSONS IN TACT.

Foreign visitors to the United States are uniformly tactful in their speeches and actions. They are, as a rule, drilled in school in the art of courtesy which calls for sincere consideration of the sentiment and customs of others.

ISN'T IT THE TRUTH?

When a man, proposing, Gets down on his knees, He looks very foolish, As any mortal sees; But if he proposes standing— Or sitting by the dame— He may not look so foolish, But he's foolish, just the same.

TRY IT.

If your hat blows off when the wind is high, There's a lesson if you would learn it, Stand where you are—some willing guy Will always change it and return it.

TRY IT.

When a fellow steals a kiss he should be made to give it back, You can't keep a good mustache "down." Night falls, but it is always day that breaks.

TRY IT.

When a man, proposing, Gets down on his knees, He looks very foolish, As any mortal sees; But if he proposes standing— Or sitting by the dame— He may not look so foolish, But he's foolish, just the same.

TRY IT.

When a man, proposing, Gets down on his knees, He looks very foolish, As any mortal sees; But if he proposes standing— Or sitting by the dame— He may not look so foolish, But he's foolish, just the same.

How to Keep Well

By DR. W. A. EVANS
Questions concerning hygiene, sanitation and prevention of disease, submitted to Dr. Evans by readers of The Bee, are answered promptly and in a friendly way. Dr. Evans will not make a diagnosis nor prescribe for individual diseases. Address letters in care of The Bee.

DIVERS PELLAGRA THEORIES.

Several months ago the health authorities of the south were greatly disturbed by a letter signed by Surgeon General Cumming, in which he said that there already was a marked increase in pellagra and predicting a further and a more serious increase in the disease during the later months of the year.

OLD FASHIONED REMEDY.

R. B. writes: "If a person is troubled with very acid urine and frequent urination, it is a form of kidney trouble. Is there any diet to follow that would regulate this?"

ADD INDUSTRIAL BY-PRODUCTS.

C. H. writes: "I was interested in your article entitled 'Theories About Eczeema,' which appeared September 16, 1921. I am 51, and for a long time was troubled with itching of the back of the hands and arms, sometimes of other parts of the body. The itching would occur at night, as a rule, thus interfering with sleep and causing scratching, resulting in raw spots. Practically my whole working life (35 years) has been spent in machine shops and tool rooms where oil is always used. Although I suspected the oil was the cause, I was unable to get it out of my system for several years. The itching was perfectly normal in appearance. In 1919 and 1920 up to last fall I was employed in a position which required the use of oil and benzine. It was but a short time when the itching returned and continued to annoy me until I quit the job last November, and since then I have been out. My skin again gradually became normal, and at present I have no more itching. I am sure that the oil and benzine were the cause of the itching, and that the oil and benzine were both coming in contact with the skin."

MUSICAL HOLIDAY GIFTS.

Orchestra Instruments
Violins $5.00 and up
Cellos $35.00 and up
Bass Violins $75.00 and up
Violas $25.00 and up
Violin Bows All Prices
Cello Bows All Prices

ANNOUNCING—

Our Employees' Savings Contest

Six evenly matched teams are in the race to secure New Savings Accounts. Watch the big clock in the bank lobby for the standing of the teams. We have a definite plan of saving which will interest you.

THE OMAHA NATIONAL BANK

Farnam at 17th Street
Capital and Surplus, $2,000,000.00

The Bee's Letter Box

(The Bee offers its columns freely to its readers who care to discuss any public question. It reserves the right to edit and to use any material so furnished. It is not responsible for the opinions expressed by correspondents in the Letter Box.)

NEGRO AND NATIONAL UNREST.

Lincoln, Nov. 15.—To the Editor of The Bee: I noticed a small article in The Bee recently, wherein Mayor Stewart of Savannah, Ga., comments on a part of Mr. Harding's Birmingham speech. Mayor Stewart is not in a class by himself; you will find plenty of Georgia sentiments throughout the United States when lines of political rights for the black man come before us.

WOMAN TO EXAMINE WOMEN.

Omaha, Nov. 17.—To the Editor of The Bee: All the talks on cancer during Cancer Week and all the articles that I have read on the subject there has been no mention made of the main cause of death from cancer among women. The average doctor does not seem to appreciate a woman's sensibilities or modesty at all and a modest girl or woman would rather die from cancer than go to a man doctor for an examination.

INSURES YOUR FORD

for a year or more against all timer troubles
WALKER INSURED TIMER
"The Only Insured Timer in the World"

When in Omaha

Hotel Henshaw

Advertisement for A. Hospe Co. featuring musical instruments and holiday gifts. Lists prices for violins, cellos, and bows. Address: 1513-15 Douglas St.

Advertisement for The Omaha National Bank featuring a savings contest for employees. Includes details about the contest and bank information.