

Corn Belt Body To Bring Relief To This Section

Committee With Headquarters at Chicago Expected To Solve Farmers' Difficulties at Once.

Establishment of the corn belt advisory committee, composed of eight prominent business men of the country, with headquarters at Chicago, as announced Friday by directors of the War Finance corporation at Washington, will have immediate effect relieving the financial distress and solving the difficulties of farmers and stockmen in this territory, in the opinion of F. W. Thomas, regional chairman of the agricultural loan agency of the War Finance corporation.

The function of the committee will be to obtain the co-operation of banking institutions of the region to finance the marketing and warehousing of corn for feeding purposes. "Years ago, when there was a temporary large surplus, cribbing corn was successfully undertaken in carrying over the surplus until a stabilized market was established," Mr. Thomas said yesterday.

Problem Is Distribution.

"It now is believed that ways may be found by which a considerable part of the large surplus on hand may be safely stored and financed on a sound business basis, until it can be marketed or utilized with benefit to the farmers in the corn belt as well as to the entire nation. Preservation of the surplus against the time of diminished production is in line with a sound economic and financial policy. "The great problem of today is distribution, which relates not only to transportation, but also to financing. We have had bumper crops for the last two years, which has resulted in over-production, while our distribution has been curtailed greatly, due to the diminished demand abroad for our products."

"State Warehouse Bill"

By enacting the "state warehouse bill" the last legislature made it possible for any farmer, by making application to the county clerk and paying a fee of 50 cents, to enroll as a state warehouse. After the farmer has gathered his grain he may then, upon the payment of an inspection fee of $5, have the grain graded and measured and obtain a warehouse receipt which may be pledged as collateral to a bank or elsewhere.

"The safeguards afforded on such a warehouse receipt are much greater than on a chattel mortgage," Mr. Thomas said. "This is because severe penalties are imposed for illegally withdrawing grain that is under protection of this state warehouse receipt."

Governor McKelvie recently conferred with Eugene Meyer, managing director, and Mr. Thomas, concerning the matter of making substantial advances on such warehouse receipts, and was informed that it would be entirely satisfactory as collateral to the War Finance corporation.

Grain Marketed on Hoof.

"It is generally conceded that the most satisfactory and profitable method of marketing grain is 'on the hoof,'" Mr. Thomas said. "In times of financial stress to the farmer hogs always have pulled us out of our difficulties, and there is great confidence expressed that they will again pull us out of the present stringency." In commenting on freight rates, Mr. Thomas said:

"While the present reduction in freight rates will help somewhat, the reduction has not been as great as anticipated and further cuts should be expected."

U. S. School at Bellevue May Not Open Until Jan. 1

Opening of the government rehabilitation hospital and training school for disabled soldiers and sailors at Bellevue may be delayed until January 1.

The place was to open for the accommodation of 300 ex-service men before December 1. Failure of equipment for the training shop to arrive is delaying the opening, according to E. H. Dunaway, in charge of the vocational school. Repairs on the various buildings and remodeling of class rooms have been completed.

The former site of Bellevue college was acquired by the government last September. It comprises 300 acres that will be used in the training of disabled veterans who care to take up agricultural work.

Pupils Will Get Chance to Show Vocal Talents

School children can sing songs of own choice during National Music Week here.

School children will be allowed to sing "Ain't We Got Fun," and other popular ditties next week, which will be observed here as National Music week.

Announcement was made yesterday from school headquarters that kiddies will be given opportunities to display their vocal talents.

During stated periods the teachers will allow the boys and girls to sing the songs they like best. This will serve as a test of music appreciation in the schools.

Teachers also will take advantage of the occasion by leading the pupils in singing patriotic numbers.

Groups of children from some of the schools will go to institutions and dispense cheer through the medium of song.

All Urged to Join.

J. H. Beveridge, superintendent, and Belle M. Ryan, assistant superintendent, are practicing in anticipation of a musical week.

"Let us all join in the spirit of music week and make it a real success," said Miss Ryan. "You know the old saying about music having charms, etc."

The object of the week of music is to increase the appreciation of good music and, through community singing in the stores, factories, industrial plants and social gatherings, to arouse a love of singing and good fellowship.

The week will open with special sermons and programs in many churches this morning. Dr. Robert Wheeler will give a sermon on "Music" at the Wheeler Memorial Presbyterian church. At St. Cecilia's cathedral, Dr. R. Mills Silby will have an elaborate musical service, while similar programs will be given at Kountze Memorial church by John S. Helgren; Holy Angels by Miss Winifred Traynor; North Side Christian church by Mrs. J. Stanley Hill; Trinity cathedral by Ben Stanley; First Presbyterian church by Mrs. Louise Shaddock Zabriskie, and many others.

Thanksgiving Program.

The most notable event of the week, given complimentary for the public, will be the program Thanksgiving morning at 11, at one of the theaters by 60 members of the musicians' association under the direction of Ernest Nordin.

One of the important events of the week will be the musical public affairs luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce Monday at 12:15 by the Chamber of Commerce music committee, to which the public is invited. E. D. White of the Union Pacific welfare committee will speak, the Scotch Highlanders will play and there will be other music.

C. of C. Budget for Next Year to Be Boosted $39,000

Readjustment Plan of Commissioner Larson Calls for Equalization of Subscriptions of Members.

The Chamber of Commerce will seek to raise $39,000 over last year's budget to care for the 1922 program of the organization under the new readjustment plan adopted by the Chamber, it was stated yesterday by J. David Larson, commissioner.

The increase is necessary, Mr. Larson declared, because the finances of each separate bureau of the chamber will be centralized in one fund. In other words, the Chamber of Commerce proper will take care of the assessments and collections of funds for the bureau of publicity, traffic bureau, dues and other accounts in one campaign.

Aimed at "Backslider."

Heretofore, members of the chamber have been receiving monthly bills for various bureaus of the chamber. Under Mr. Larson's readjustment plan, one subscription from a member will satisfy assessments to all bureaus.

The new centralization plan also is aimed at the "backslider" who has not been doing his share in the financial support and activities of the organization, it was stated.

Equalize Subscriptions.

"It will equalize subscriptions," Mr. Larson said. "Some business men are supporting the chamber more than they should while others are lending proper aid. Under the readjustment plan, the executive committee will know what each member is able to do."

Though the chamber will not eliminate any bureaus or establish others, Mr. Larson said, the agricultural bureau under the direction of Carl R. Gray will be strengthened in relationship between city and country. It was not stated when the drive for funds for the 1922 program will start.

Mrs. Mary Hague, 2024 Vinton street, who will be 100 years old January 4, believes that if a woman wants to be young at 100 years, she should raise at least 11 children, do all her own housework, and at times do a little farm work, if necessary, to help out her husband.

This centennarian, though somewhat weak, physically, still makes patchwork quilts with the skill of a much younger woman.

There are to be 12 rooms, two wards and two nurseries in the home, sufficient for 60 girls.
